PUBLIC SCHOOLS EMBRACE ISLAM

- - A Shocker .... NOT

By Rev. Austin Miles, ASSIST News Service

BRENTWOOD, CA (ANS) - As children return to school this week, following the Christmas break, 7th graders in a growing number of public schools, who are not permitted to wear a cross or speak the name of Jesus, will be required to attend an intensive three week course on Islam; a course in which students are mandated to learn the tenets of Islam, study the important figures of the faith, wear a robe, adopt a Muslim name and stage their own Jihad.

In Byron, California, parents were outraged when students came home with their handouts and were told what was being taught. Their complaints to the school principal not only were ignored, but officials of this public school, funded by tax dollars, essentially fluffed them off.

The public schools in California so stealthily slipped this course into the 7th grade curriculum that even another 7th grade teacher, Elizabeth Christina Lemings, was totally in the dark that this was being taught until her son Joseph, who is a 7th grader in the same school where she teaches, brought home the handouts.

“We could never teach Christianity like this,” Lemings said to ANS during an on-site interview. “We can’t even mention the name of Jesus in the public schools, but over there,” she pointed to the building next to hers, “they teach Islam as the true religion, and students are taught about Islam and how to pray to Allah.”

Lemings, in her second year of teaching in the Byron (Northern California) Union School District, has been a Christian since 1987. The government school system requires that she teach evolution in her science class with no reference to creationism or any contrasting viewpoint to Darwin’s theory. She quickly learned that God and Christianity are out (forbidden) but that Islam is in.

The textbook used for the Islamic course, Across The Centuries, is published by Houghton-Mifflin (Boston, MA). It is described as a Social Studies/History book and has been adopted by the California School System. In it, Islam is presented broadly in a totally positive manner, whereas the restricted references to Christianity, is centered on The Reformation, Martin Luther and The Catholic Church. Everything is shown in a negative light with events such as the Inquisition, the Salem witch-hunts, etc. highlighted in bold, black type.

This is proper for a complete study of history. However, there is not one negative to be found about Islam in this one-sided account, such as the wars, massacres, cruelties against Christians and other non-Muslims that Islam has consistently perpetrated over the centuries. Nor is any mention made of the way Muslims treat their own people, cutting off hands, feet and heads for even the slightest violations of the Islamic tenets of faith, or the shocking way they treat their women.

The ‘miraculous’ events leading up to the Koran, the ‘holy’ book of Islam, and other ‘revelations’ are presented as factual. Any reference of the miraculous regarding Christianity is always set next to a disclaimer stating that: “It was (is) believed by Christians (or an individual such as Martin Luther) that ....,” implying an absence of credibility about the stated event.

For example, the representation that Gabriel the arch-angel came to Muhammed and dictated to him the Koran, a whole new revelation and idea that would surpass all other religions. What needs to be explained by the Houghton-Mifflin historians, is why Gabriel (which translates, “Man of God”), the arch(angel)-messenger of both Christians and Jews, who was a part of all of God’s plan, who interpreted for Daniel the vision of the ram and the he-goat, and comforted him after his prayer with the prophecy of the ‘seventy weeks’ and who heralded the good tidings by declaring the coming of the predicted Messiah, would at that point in time and history, call on Muhammed, one who did not believe in Jehovah God or Jesus as the Son of God, and ‘reveal’ to him the words of the pagan god Allah to lead his people with. How’s that again?

It would be most interesting to have the Houghton-Mifflin experts explain what possessed Gabriel to turn on the God of Abraham and Jesus Anointed to lend assistance to what would become a murderous cult with no regard for life, the very antithesis of Christianity. There is a deplorable lack of information here. And too, the Book of Revelation clearly states that no words should be added or taken away from that book (so much for adding 'The Book of Mormon' or the taking away of 'The Apocrypha', CIM). So this in itself poses a major contradiction and problem.

The faulty textbook, Across the Centuries, has more than its share of deceit. It is stated as fact that Islam, Judaism and Christianity share in common the belief in one god. This is a half-truth, which is the worst kind of lie. Christianity worships one God, Judaism has one god [i.e. have their own god]. Islam worships one god named Allah (which is actually quite close to some of the Hebrew expressions used for God, as seen in Strong's Concordance). This book is misleading on the part of Houghton-Mifflin. The publisher apparently is attempting to legitimize Islam.

If this were an authentic history, the textbook would explain that the god of Muhammed was man's creation. Arabia was a pagan nation that worshipped over 300 gods. One of those was the moon god named, al-ilah. Legend has it that the moon god mated with the sun god and had two daughters both of whom were worshipped as goddesses. When Muhammed claimed to have had his 'vision' and 'revelation' from Gabriel he chose al-ilah as the god to build his army around. Muhammed shortened the name, al-ilah to Allah, and declared that he alone should be worshipped. He forbade the worship of the daughters. To this day, a crescent moon can be found at the front of every mosque, acknowledging that Allah was, and is the moon god. All of this is missing from the Houghton-Mifflin accounts.

It is also to be noted, even though not publicised, that Allah is also known as The God of War. So why isn't this important study of Islam included in the history books? The handouts used in this course, obtained by ANS, are considerable. They include a history of Islam and the life of Muhammed its founder. Muhammed is portrayed as an extremely moral man who wanted a society of purity. A vast body of historical accounts will refute this image. Historians will show that he had a sexual problem, and among multiple wives, he took a 10-year-old girl for his pleasure (some accounts list her age as six).

And Islam promises to its followers that those who become suicide bombers, killing themselves and others, will go directly to Allah's paradise where they will be given 72 virgins for unbridled sexual pleasure for all eternity.

There are many verses in the Koran that must be memorized in this Public School course and students are taught to pray, "in the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful" and to chant, "Praise to Allah, Lord of Creation." There are 25 Islamic phrases that must be memorized, six Islamic (Arabic) phrases, 20 Islamic Proverbs to learn along with the Five Pillars of Faith and 10 key Islamic prophets and disciples to be studied.

"Can you imagine the barrage of lawsuits and problems we would have from the ACLU if Christianity were taught in the public schools, and if we tried to teach about the contributions of Matthew, Mark, Luke, John and the Apostle Paul?" teacher Elizabeth Lemings lamented. "But when it comes to furthering the Islamic religion in the public schools, there is not one word from the ACLU, People For The American Way or anybody else. This is hypocrisy!"

Even more disturbing; students are to pretend that they are Muslims, wear Muslim clothing to school, stage their own Jihad via a dice game, and pick out a Muslim name (to replace their own) from a list of thirty. ANS asked some of the students what they thought about this course. All of them felt that "it was fun," while others described Islam as "a pretty culture." This included a pastor's son! Joseph Lemings, 12, said, "the Jihad was like playing a video game," even though the true violent nature of Jihad was well concealed. Lemings is disturbed by the "fun" description. She sees it as a tool, not only to engender sympathy and support for the Muslim cause, but for recruitment. "This is not just a class of history of examining culture," she said. "This course is entirely too specific. It is more about indoctrination." [Isn't all Public School education? CIM]

CHICAGO SCHOOLS CREATE PRAYER ROOMS FOR MUSLIMS

News Brief:

Chicago's notoriously wretched but money-squandering government schools have set aside a prayer room to accommodate Muslims. Though the issue has created a big stink in New York City, Chicago Muslims hailed the decision. "My religion is a really big part of my life, and it's really good I can practice it, even at school," 14-year-old freshman Saba Quandri says in the Sun-Times.

Kareem Irfan, chairman of Council Chicago, said: "I know some Christian families would prefer their children to take some time out and do Bible study during lunch time. Some Hindu groups have groups that study religion or read prayers. This accommodation will make it easier for students to turn to their own forms of prayer without affecting their fellow students." The school system caters to Muslims in other ways. Because Muslim women are not allowed to bare their arms to men, schools separate the sexes for physical education in the freshman year so female Muslim students can swim.

Chicago Schools Create Prayer Rooms for Muslims - but NOT for Christians. Isn't "Politically Correct Diversity" great??

Lemings, upon learning of the course on Islam, approached the principal of Intermediate-Excelsior School of Byron, Nancy Castro, requesting the right to teach Christianity in the manner that Islam is taught and for the same length of time. Castro has not responded to her request. Lemings later received, round-about, information that the only way she could do this would be to teach the Christianity class (as a Christian Club) after school hours where students would come of their own accord. Otherwise, she would violate the law of (selective) Separation of Church and State. Excuse me?

In an interview with Nancy Castro, the principal of the schools in Byron, she stated to ANS that the Islam course (hidden within "History of Cultures") reflects California (educational) Standards that meet State requirements.

When asked about the intensity of the Islamic course, Castro stated that the course "is not religion, but Ancient Culture and History, and," she pointed out, "the text is a State Adopted textbook. We do not endorse any religion, we just make students aware." She stated that the textbook is now in use throughout California. When asked if she would allow Christianity to be taught the same way that Islam is taught, Castro stammered before saying that Christianity is already taught in the History and Culture class, "which," she said, "actually starts in the 6th grade." She said that this class started a year ago. The Christianity that is taught is brief, taught as a myth, and strictly negative. This is how it is portrayed in the textbook.

Lemings had stated to ANS that there were many, many parents who protested this course on Islam, especially after September 11th (which, coincidentally, is when the course began) Nancy Castro contradicted this account. Asked if there was any response from parents about this course, Castro answered, "Oh a couple of parents called to express concerns, three to be exact." Peggy Green, Superintendent of the Byron Union School District did not return calls by press time.

The Muslim's intentions are clear and the public has been continually notified of that fact. In nearby Fremont, where the majority of the over 150,000 Muslims living in the Bay Area reside, Omar M. Ahmad, chairman of the board of the Council on American-Islamic relations said this at the Flamingo Palace banquet hall: "I urge Muslims not to shirk their duty of sharing the Islamic faith with those who are on the 'wrong side.'" He said that Muslims should not assimilate into American society, "If you choose to live here, you have a responsibility to deliver the message of Islam. Islam isn't in America to be equal to any other faith, but to become dominant. The Koran should be the highest authority in America, and Islam the only accepted religion on earth," he said. These quotes were published in the San Ramon Valley Herald on July 4, 1998 (ironically on our Independence Day), 3 years, 2 months and 7 days before September 11, 2001. And like everything else, Americans and church leaders didn't pay any attention to it. In the same article, Ahmad stated: "Everything we need to know is in the Koran." And bear in mind that the Koran clearly states that Muslims are obligated to kill Christians, Jews and all other infidels.

So why would the American Public School System and the Politicians want to further the Islamic faith, push to have it become the One World Religion and nix Christianity?

Simple: Christians cannot be enslaved. Islam, an oppressive religion of control, cruelty and fear does enslave, which can keep people subdued. This is precisely what the future leaders of the One World Order want to achieve. And the misinformed, make nice, politically correct crowd seem eager to help them accomplish it.

But the greatest driving factor in all of this is money. There are the profiteers and politicians who stand to grow in unspeakable wealth and power by cooperating with the Arabs and finding favor by helping them and their pagan religion take control. They have no compunction in selling us out, and our freedom, to accomplish their goals. These greedy, self-serving investors stand salivating on both sides of the oil pump.

THE FOUNDATIONAL MYTH OF JUDAISM

by Daniel Gentry

201. The Temptation: And the woman saw Sammael, the angel of death, and she was afraid and knew that the tree was good for food, and that it was a remedy for the enlightenment of the eyes, and that the tree was to be desired to make one wise. She took of its fruit and ate and also gave (it) to her husband and he ate. (Targum, pseudo-Jonathan, on Gen.3:6)

202. The Father of Cain: And Adam knew that his wife Eve had conceived from Sammael the angel (of death) and she became pregnant and bore Cain. And he was like those on high and not like those below. And she said: "I have got a man from the angel of the LORD." (Targum, pseudo-Jonathan on Gen. 4:1)

<http://religion.rutgers.edu/iho/targum.html>

It's ironic that those who would have you believe mother Eve had sexual intercourse with a "fallen angel," producing a son, Cain, who allegedly fathered the Jews (to be responsible for all the sin in the world), choose a Jewish "source" (Targum & Midrash) to supposedly prove their point. If they hate the Jews so much, why do they consistently cite them as authorities?

The answer to this, and related questions, will agitate and irritate some of you, and cause a few to froth at the mouth, while others are stimulated to further study. In any event, Truth will win out, despite self-serving attempts to explain away the origin and nature of evil in this world.

Jewish literature is replete with references to this alleged adultery, and some also infer that Adam fooled around on Eve with a she-demon named Lilith. Consider just a few examples of Jewish conjecture:

The mother of all living means, the mother of all life. For Rabbi Simon stated: "Throughout the entire one hundred and thirty years during which Adam held aloof from Eve male demons were made ardent by her and she bore, while the female demons were inflamed by Adam and they bore." (Midrash Rabbah, Bereshith XX, 11);

One Rabbinic source stated: "Eve bore Cain from the filth of the serpent, and therefore from him were descended all the wicked generations, and from his side is the abode of spirits and demons." (Ahare Moth 76b);

"For they are the children of the ancient serpent which seduced Eve." (Zohar I, 28b);

Rabbi Johanan stated: "When the serpent copulated with Eve, he infused her with lust." (Yebamoth 103b, echoed in Shabbath 146a);

"Eve became pregnant and bore Cain and Abel on the very day of (her creation and) expulsion from Eden (Gen.R.xii). Cain's real father was not Adam, but one of the demons ..." (Jewish Encyclopedia Vol 5 (1904), p.275).

In order to explain away the clear meaning of Genesis 4:1, Jews and "two seedliners" claim Cain and Abel were fraternal twins, the product of super-fetation, Eve conceiving with both Adam and the "Serpent" within a VERY short time frame. Some go so far as to suggest the same regarding Isaac and Rebekah, in the births of Jacob and Esau (Gen 25:19-34). This assumes both Cain and Esau had no control over their actions, which simply isn't the case (Gen 4:5-7; 25:30-32)! In fact, Esau would not have had the birthright (v. 34) had his conception been spurious.

Judaism is today the product of ancient Babylon, both culturally and spiritually. Babylon and much of Assyria had dualistic religions, that is, a belief in "good gods" and "bad gods," whose Herculean struggle resulted in an uneasy balance. Zoroastrianism, whose gods Ahura Mazda and Angra Mainyu typified this dichotomy, had a large impact on Judaism's formation, and explain how the concept of a "fallen angel, Satan" migrated into the camp of Israel-Judah in the 5th century B.C.

In contrast, the Israelites, prior to this, had no such cosmology, and their view of the Creator as sole sovereign and originator of good and evil (Isaiah 45:5-7; Amos 3:1-8, et al). Right cannot be manifest, save in the presence of wrong. Light cannot be manifest except by the presence of darkness. By these we see YHVH's divine purpose in commanding both good and evil. Some may say (as they did in Rom. 3:8) why not commit evil, so that good may result? Mainly for two reasons: 1) We cannot control evil for good, as can YHVH, and 2) We cannot logically do evil, if we have truly "been saved" (experienced spiritual renewal & repentance).

This is a concept foreign to the materialist mind. We cannot be defiled, seduced, tricked, beguiled, befuddled, perplexed by an external evil agency, even if such existed. Jesus Anointed, the Savior and Kinsman-Redeemer of Jacob-Israel in the world, told us in Matthew 15:10-14:

"Then He called the people and said to them, Listen and understand, It is not what enters into the mouth which defiles a man; but what comes out of the mouth, that is what defiles a man. Then His disciples came up and said to Him, 'Do you know that the Pharisees who heard this saying were offended?' But He answered, saying to them, Every plant that my heavenly Father did not plant shall be uprooted. Leave them alone; they are blind guides of the blind. And if the blind lead around the blind, both will fall into the pit."

Some people wouldn't know a metaphor if it smacked them on the head like a 2X4. Jesus Anointed wasn't speaking of carbon dioxide consuming plants. He wasn't speaking here of individuals or races either! The spirit of the Pharisee is the spirit of gross materialism, of "passing the buck," of assigning blame anywhere away from themselves. Thoughts and theories are like seeds which, when matured, are "plants" in human form.

Recently, there has been a marked increase in attempts to undermine ministries teaching the orthodox Christian teaching regarding the Protoevangelicon (Genesis 3:15), that is, the "seed of the woman" (the man Jesus Anointed) would crush the head of the "seed of the serpent" (all that which causes to sin, usually called "Satan"), which "seed" would bruise our Savior's heel, an expression alluding to His trial and crucifixion at their hands.

Both before and after the passing of Gerda Koch (founder of Christian Research), individuals have sought to undermine this ministry. Many totally ignorant of her personally, have called Gerda "a Jew" for no other reason than that they disagreed with her over this issue. Many are witnesses to the falsity of this charge. I (Dan Gentry) have likewise been erroneously called "a Jew." Years ago, a "two seedline" family was promoting what they called the "Truth of the Old Books." On one tape they were playing word association, and stated that the place name Yosemite (a national park in California) came from the (English) word "Semite." I asked them on what basis they made this linguistic conclusion, and was accused of being "a Jew" for asking!

Before this, the late Pastor Sheldon Emry, founder and director of America's Promise, experienced similar attacks after his two landmark tape series on the subject of "Satan" and the nature and source of Evil.

After Emry's passing, a cabal of ministers sought to commandeer the ministry, even though his chosen successor, a man who had reached the same conclusions regarding "Satan" before his association with Emry, objected, and eventually left the ministry to Emry's family. Peter Peters, who supposedly learned the Israel Covenant truth from Emry, gave tacit consent to Emry's teachings (though never really addressing the subject from his pulpit until recently), when he gave tacit support to at least some "two seedline" teachings. Peters and his first wife (Cherie) concluded Emry's successor was "a Jew" because he looked like a Colorado lawyer who was prosecuting their church at the time!

In a tape entitled What We Don't Know, Peters made a similar slander of Christian Research founder Gerda Koch:

...And he, Pastor Emry, came out with the 'no devil' doctrine. And the way it came about, though, he was given a book by (it was revealed to me just as clear as could be) a Jewess. Now some of you are not going to like this - I don't really care - I'm even going to tell you her name. Her name was Gerda Koch ... You're going to have to accept the fact that when you become mature in Christ, and you begin to have these revelations, you begin to recognize snakes. Gerda Koch showed some of the finest fruits - fought against the Jews - put out some of the finest material imaginable - been to my camp. But it occurred to me this Jewess we were having trouble with at Branson, Missouri for the last few years - she was standing there with - we have evidence she works for Morris Dees - standing out there with a protest sign - some of you saw her, didn't you? She was the splitting image of Gerda Koch. And old Gerda laid in wait, and this is what they do. They will lay (sic) in wait a lifetime if necessary ...

So, in Peters' mind, since this protestor physically resembled Gerda (who died in July, 1994), GERDA was a Jewess! Or is it the other way around? The point is, it is a judgment based on the weakest of "evidence:" a conclusion based on a personal prejudice, based on physical appearance. Peters had better beg YHVH's forgiveness (not to mention that of his sheepfold) for such insanity. [By the way, I was present when Peters personally awarded Gerda the equivalent of a "Lifetime Achievement Award" at his Family Camp in 1985, and when Gerda delivered a most Christian message, "Feed My Sheep." I knew Gerda for nearly 15 years before her death, and worked with her for 10. Once, when I was repairing a broken stair at her residence on a Sunday, she came out and scolded me for working on what she considered her weekly sabbath. No doubt some conspiracy-mongers will insist THIS makes her a "Jew" as well! At other times I would hear her singing (as best she could) Lutheran Hymns and praises, hardly the work of "a Jew." I have studied her family tree on both sides and can find none but Aryans, most from the Mansbach area. - DG]

These are just a few of the examples of the Talmudic mindset based on the faulty conception of "Satan." To be fair, Peters claims not to believe the "two seedliner" sexual interpretation of Gen 3:15, but the two dogmas are inextricably entwined.

Both Judaism and the "two seedline" rely on a "fallen archangel" theory, oblivious to the fact that no "fall" prior to Genesis 2 Adam is mentioned in Scripture; neither is Adam's fall called such. And if we presume Satan-Sammael existed prior in "Heaven," who (or what) prompted him to "fall" if, in fact he was "perfect in all his ways"

Wake Up - Or Waco

by Alex Jones

In 2000, Alex Jones spearheaded the volunteer effort to rebuild the church for the Branch Davidian Survivors of the Waco Siege of 1993. This video shows the progress from start to finish and the encounters along the way. Trees were planted, one for each person killed at Waco by the federal government. This video shot on the seventh anniversary of the Siege. Alex talks about what really happened at Waco, and why he decided that the church should be rebuilt for the survivors.

(Ezek 28:15), as some call him. Ezek 28 and Isaiah 14 do not, in fact, refer to a mythical fallen angel, but rather to a human, the King of Tyre. Mankind (Genesis 2 Adamkind) was formed of the dust of the ground, with the breath and intellect of YHVH infused into him, "perfect" until sin was found in him (Genesis 3) and he was sentenced to animal life, and death.

The "fallen angel" cosmology has wended its way not only into the church world, but popular literature, as well. J.R. Tolkien, author of the (now) popular Lord of the Rings material, embedded the fallen angel Melkor into his Silmarillion novel. Elsewhere "Satan" is personified by Morgoth, with Sauron as a chief demon under him. This dualism appeals to "fallen" mankind.

Jewish and "two seedline" interpretational gymnastics is legendary. For example, Matthew 16:4 says, "A wicked and adulterous generation wants a sign..." They will state the word translated "generation" (genea) could be translated "nation" or "kind." Of course, it may just as well be translated "age" or "time" (or persons of that time). When our King called the Pharisees a "generation of vipers" (Matt 3:7), the word means "produce" (literally or figuratively). Add to this the fact that a race or ethnic subgroup may fairly be called a generation of sly, serpentine men because of their "tradition of the elders" (halacha, or rabbinic "oral tradition"), and you have a defacto "race" of serpents. Anyone who has "debated" or discussed Scripture with a Jewish rabbi, as I have, knows exactly what I mean. As I have said many times before, sin is not hereditary in the genes! Many are the "white" people who are just as sinful as the worst of the heathen.

Likewise, Genesis 4:1 is twisted to mean Eve's first conception was within Eden, rather than after the banishment, and that it was by sex with a disembodied spirit who supposedly had power to re-embody himself for the purpose of "infusing lust" into the Adamic race! Even the Septuagint, closest we have to the original transmission, is very plain: "And Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and brought forth Cain, and said, 'I have gained a man through God'." There is the implication here that the Adam and Eve of Genesis 2 were a special creation of YHVH, being free of conception and birthing, by which blood was shed. Recall that in Genesis 4, YHVH had not respect for Cain's offering (grain), perhaps because it lacked the purifying element of blood. We are told in Hebrews 9:19-28 that there is no forgiveness without the shedding of blood and that, in latter days, the seed of the woman (Jesus Christ) would abolish sin once and for all, through His own shed blood.

Some may point to 1 John 3:12 which says in part, we were/are not to "... do as Cain did, who belonged to the wicked one and slew his brother..." Those who believe the "two seedline" message almost never quote the end of verse 12: "... and why did he (Cain) kill him (Abel)? Because his (Cain's) own works were evil, and those of his brother were righteous." The Father of Lies is not Sammael, "Satan" or "Lucifer," but CAIN HIMSELF. Jesus Anointed could consider him their "father" because they identified with Cain as a Mafia don's coterie of yes-men would defend their boss. Cain was specifically told by YHVH that, if he did well, he would be accepted of YHVH, and for this reason, he should return to his brother and, being the firstborn, would be eligible for Abel's homage. Trouble is, Cain reasoned within himself (much as his mother had done), and "did the deed." (Gen. 4:6-8).

The context of 1 John 3 is clearly spiritual, since verses 9 and 10 speak of BOTH the "children of God" and "children of the devil"; to be consistent, understand verse 12 in terms of these. He who sins (all of us - Rom. 3:23, et al) is a child of the devil, and when he causes others to sin, he literally becomes a "devil."

An "angel" (aggelos) is literally a messenger, as used in Revelation 2:1, "...angel of the church of Ephesus..." When such fail in their duty to deliver the message, they have "fallen," as did Jonah, when he first refused to preach against and warn Nineveh.

If we struggle against a perceived evil, knowing our God has reserved the evil for His greater purpose, we struggle against our God. Evil is temporary and its corollary, death, will be swallowed up when we are resurrected unto death, or unto life. courtesy Facts for Action, DG

THE DEBAUCHERY OF AMERICAN (& AUSTRALIAN) WOMANHOOD

by Henry Makow Ph.D. - Sept 18,

On my wall, I have a picture of a Muslim woman in a burka. Beside it is a picture of an American beauty contestant, wearing nothing but a bikini.

One woman is totally hidden from the public; the other is totally exposed. These two extremes say a great deal about the clash of so-called "civilizations."

The role of woman is at the heart of any culture. Apart from stealing Arab oil, the impending war in the Middle East is about stripping Arabs of their religion and culture, exchanging the burka for a bikini.

I am not an expert on the condition of Muslim women and I love feminine beauty too much to advocate the burka here. But I am defending some of the values that the burka represents for me. For me, the burka represents a woman's consecration to her husband and family. Only they see her. It affirms the privacy, exclusivity and importance of the domestic sphere.

The Muslim woman's focus is her home, the "nest" where her children are born and reared. She is the "home"maker, the taproot that sustains the spiritual life of the family, nurturing and training her children, providing refuge and support to her husband.

In contrast, the bikini'd American beauty queen struts practically naked in front of millions on TV. A feminist, she belongs to herself. In practice, paradoxically, she is public property. She belongs to no one and everyone. She shops her body to the highest bidder. She is auctioning herself all of the time. In America, the cultural measures of a woman's value is her sex appeal. (As this asset depreciates quickly, she is neurotically obsessed with appearance and plagued by weight problems).

As an adolescent, her role model is Britney Spears, a singer whose act approximates a strip tease (or Kylie Minogue?). From Britney, she learns that she will be loved only if she gives sex. Thus, she learns to "hook up" rather than to demand patient courtship and true love. As a result, dozens of males know her before her husband does. She loses her innocence, which is a part of her charm. She becomes hardened and calculating. Unable to love, she is unfit to receive her husband's seed.

The feminine personality is founded on the emotional relationship between mother and baby. It is based on nurturing and self-sacrifice. Masculine nurture is founded on the relationship between hunter and prey. It is based on aggression and reason.

Feminism teaches woman that feminine nature has resulted in "oppression" and that she should convert to male behaviour instead. The result: a confused and aggressive woman with a large chip on her shoulder, unfit to become a wife or mother. This, of course, is the goal of the social engineers at the NWO: undermine sexual identity and destroy the family, create social and personal dysfunction, and reduce population. In the "brave new world," women are not supposed to be "nest" makers, or progenitors of the race. They are meant to be neutered autonomous creatures that indulge in sex for physical pleasure, not for love or procreation.

In his press conference on Sunday, Donald Rumsfeld said that Iranian women and youth were restive under the rule of the Mullahs. He implied that the US would soon liberate them. To Britney Spears? To low-rise "see-my-thong" pants? To the mutual masturbation that passes for sexuality in America?

Parenthood is the pinnacle of human development. It is the stage when we finally graduate from self-indulgence and become God's surrogates: creating and nurturing new life. The New World Order does not want us to reach this level of maturity. Pornography is the substitute for marriage. we are to remain stunted: single, sex-starved and self-obsessed.

We are not meant to have a permanent "private" life. We are to remain lonely and isolated, dependent on consumer products for our identity, in a state of perpetual courtship. This is especially destructive for woman. Her sexual attraction is a function of her fertility. As fertility declines, so does her sex appeal. If a woman devotes her prime years to becoming "independent," she is not likely to find a permanent mate. Her long-term personal fulfillment and happiness lies in making marriage and her family her first priority.

Feminism is another cruel New World Order hoax that has debauched American women and despoiled Western civilization. It has ruined millions of lives and represents a lethal threat to Islam. I am not advocating the burka but rather some of the values that it represents, specifically a woman's consecration to her future husband and family, and the modesty and dignity this entails. The burka and the bikini represent two extremes. The answer lies somewhere in the middle.

A JUST WAR? Biblical Principles Vs Pragmatic Practices Rev. Brian M. Abshire

I am not a pacifist. I have little time (or stomach) for those who want the benefits of liberty, but are unwilling to pay the price. I am proud to have worn the uniform of my country (even though my contribution was less than glamorous). Yet as a Christian, I have real concerns about the way our military forces have been, and are being used by our national government. I am not here criticizing the dedication, ability or commitment of the individual soldiers, sailors, airmen or marines, but rather the political and ideological forces that willingly sacrifice the lives of our best and brightest for ungodly ends.

The Bible clearly gives a country the right of self-defense (Deut 20:1ff, Rom 13:1ff, etc.). In a world filled with evil, wars are inevitable, often necessary and when fought for the right reasons and by the right means, can even be called "good." A Nation that values righteousness will fight, but only as a last resort. However, immoral nations cannot resist using their military forces in immoral ways for immoral ends. And since the War Between the States, our armed forces have used immoral means to advance ideological goals, contrary to Biblical principles. As our nation has abandoned faith in an absolute God, we have sunk into a moral relativism where pragmatism replaces principles. And pragmatism usually means whatever policies helps the party in power, stay in power.

During the 1950's, our government recruited despots and dictators as allies against a common enemy, Communism. The precedent had been set in the Second World War when we allied ourselves with the Communists against the Nazis. In both cases, we made unbiblical alliances with ungodly, pagan powers: just as ancient Israel did with Assyria, Egypt and Babylon. As a result, American troops were sent around the world to fight and die to keep those tyrants in power. In the 1980's, our government sacrificed American troops in Grenada and Panama in an attempt to be this hemisphere's policeman. Forgetting the earlier and emboldened by our success against third-rate nations, we have now decided in the 1990's to police the world. We have sent Americans to die for "freedom" in Kuwait, Somalia, Haiti and now Bosnia. Thankfully, in the most recent wars, American casualties have been amazingly light. However, hundreds of thousands of others have died who had not warred against the United States, or committed any overt act of violence against us. These people were killed by our bullets, their economies ruined by our boycotts, their cities smashed by our bombs. Don't get me wrong; if a war has to be fought, I am all in favor of the other guy dying for his country. However, were those wars worth the price that other nations paid? Should we have gone to war against these nations in the first place? What did we accomplish?

A decade after Desert Storm, Saddam is again rearming, again threatening his neighbours, again causing US (and Australian and British) troops to be deployed. The only lasting result of the Gulf War seems to have been the destruction of the Christian Church in Iraq. After action-reports suggest that Hussein tried to salvage his best military equipment by storing them beside mosques and churches. He shrewdly recognized that the US led coalition would never dare attack mosques lest our Islamic allies be offended. He also thought that since America was a "Christian" nation we wouldn't risk Christian churches. He was half right. We did not attack the targets placed near mosques, but it appears we obliterated the ones near churches and schools (including the Christian communities surrounding them!). Thus in one of the most one-sided victories in American history, all we really accomplished was to kill Christians to protect Muslims. In the same way, Somalia is still run by warlords and Haiti now has a bizarre, schizophrenic, occultic, Marxist dictator running a country ravaged by its own syncretistic African animism.

Now, after bombing the Serbs into submission, we have committed US ground troops to “keep the peace” in Bosnia, risking another war against the people who have never done anything to us, taking sides on issues that are non of our concern. How many people will die this time? And for what? There are no good guys in this war. It seems once the Serbs and Croats got the upper hand they practiced the same kind of ethnic cleansing as the Serbs. These animosities go back for centuries. We will not settle their problems by placing a few troops between them. All we will accomplish is to put American lives at risk to advance the “New World Order.”

Ungodly wars breed endless cycles of destruction, destitution and disaster. Consider the Franco-Prussian war of 1870. Otto Von Bismarck engineered a war against France to consolidate the first united Germany. World War I followed in 1914 because the French wanted to recapture the same territory lost to the Germans 45 years earlier. 15 years after that, Hitler rose to power on the promise of returning those same lands to German control. And WWII was declared when Germany invaded Poland, to recapture Prussian territory given to the Poles after WWI! Insanity! And now in Bosnia, the same struggle over land, a struggle that goes back to the Turkish invasion of Europe, is happening all over again. Astute students of history will remember that the fuse that set off WWI happened in Sarajevo.

God’s commandments for lawful war are especially laid out in Deuteronomy 20. A “Just War” will be one fought on His terms and by His means. First, God reminds His people that it is He Himself who fights for them and they are not to be afraid. This requires that the cause of the war be just and righteous. Otherwise, God’s blessing cannot be granted. A just war is one where God’s principles of righteousness are at stake, not the pragmatic policies of a certain political party. Scripture does not justify wars of conquest, especially to impose humanistic ideological goals. Wars contrary to God’s Law will not have His blessing, and therefore, in the long-term will accomplish nothing but an increase of human misery.

Furthermore, this first principle teaches that our trust is not our weapons, or troops, but a sovereign God. Therefore, our military forces can be relatively small. Small forces mean military adventurism. But if a nation seeks to impose humanist agenda on other nations, a large, expensive first-rate military force is absolutely necessary. A second-class military is the most expensive and useless organization in the world. It drains off precious resources which could be used to the common good. If America were truly an imperialistic power, at least it could justify a large standing military force as a way of increasing our gross national product. Instead, American lives, American money and America’s future are squandered on fruitless ideological goals. A morally bankrupt nation soon becomes economically bankrupt as well.

Secondly, Deuteronomy 20:5-7 allows for a number of exclusions for combat, e.g., those who have just built a new house, planted a new vineyard, become engaged, etc., are automatically excluded from being combatants. The civil government has no right to draft these citizens to fight its wars. Furthermore, the fearful and fainthearted were also given exemptions. Thus, only those who were willing to fight were expected to fight. Some might argue that if these exclusions were allowed today, then most citizens would hurriedly build new houses, plant vineyards and become engaged just to avoid war. Exactly! Unpopular wars could not and should not be fought. If free men, self-governed by God’s Law do not believe a war to be just and right, they will not and should not support it.

In the two wars we fought with conscript troops (Korea and Vietnam), the military’s performance was less than outstanding (with certain notable differences, mostly among all-volunteer outfits). Conscript armies are both forbidden and ineffective (the old Soviet Army had an entire military police force whose sole duty was to patrol behind the front, shooting any soldier who did not advance fast enough). Now some might argue that we have an all-volunteer army today. That is a half-truth. We have an all-volunteer mercenary force, a large standing army, drawn increasingly from the under-classes. Our Constitution forbids a large standing army because the founders knew that eventually, that army would be used against its own citizens.

Furthermore, though the Constitution requires Congress to declare war against a foreign power, the executive branch has now side-stepped this by declaring various “police actions.” The military might of the United States has become a de-facto personal army of the President. It is a Praetorian guard, used by the President whenever and wherever he desires. It is ironic that when soldiers take their oath to defend the Constitution against all enemies, foreign and domestic, they do not realize that one of those enemies might be the executive branch of the federal government!

A biblical nation will have a small standing army and a large citizen’s militia (like Switzerland??!!)

The standing army will provide the superstructure that in times of national distress can be quickly filled out with trained volunteers. Some may argue that a small standing army would not have allowed us to fulfill our treaty obligations in Asia and Europe. But that is the problem isn’t it? Why should we have made defensive treaties with those nations in the first place? Let Asia and Europe take care care of their own defense. We have bankrupted ourselves in two world wars pulling Europe’s bacon out of the fire. Our national debt could be paid if Europe simply paid back the money we loaned them in past wars, not to mention billing them for the cost of keeping a large standing army in Europe for 40 years. You do not need a large standing army if you do not make ungodly treaties.

Thirdly, Deuteronomy 20:11-12, states that peace is the primary objective. Verse 12 says war is to be engaged only when the opposing city refuses the peace terms and insists on making war against God’s people. This strongly suggests that the just war is one primarily of defense, not offense. The enemy insists on the war. There is evil in the world and it must be fought. But a godly nation will not engage in aggressive wars of conquest, nor intrude where it has no specific, national interest.

Since defense is the primary objective, money should have been spent in developing defense systems to protect our people. For example, advanced technology has been available for thirty years, which would have protected us from foreign aggression. It’s called ABM or Anti-Ballistic Missile systems. We stupidly made a treaty with the Soviets not to build the defensive systems against their nuclear missiles; systems that would have protected us from the only earthly power that could have threatened our civilian population. The Soviets have always been good at lying

New Book HARLOT CHURCHES

by Arnold Kennedy

“Shall I then take the members of Christ and make them members of an harlot? God forbid! (1 Cor 6:15). What we are considering is whether or not most so-called “Christian” churches are daughters of the Mother of Harlots (Rome). This concept is not new, but we will take a different approach based upon the preface (as stated in this book). Does a harlot have just one suitor? Likewise the Harlot church has many gods or lovers, just as Judah once had.

(i.e., the Potemkin or false front village). We were buffaloed into believing the Soviets were our topical equals when all they had were primitive, inaccurate rockets (often topped with nuclear waste because they didn't have enough actual nuclear warheads) and a radar system that just didn't work. When the "High Frontiers" concept (popularly known as "Star Wars") program was finally initiated in the 1980's, the technological gap bankrupted the Soviet Empire.

Note that in the case of Bosnia and Somalia, there are no American interests at stake, apart from bolstering the reputation of a failing president. It is a horrible tragedy for all the suffering people in the former Yugoslavia. But God is sovereign; the causes go back for centuries. We will not stop it simply by placing our troops between the warring factions. At best, we can impose a limited cease-fire, but how long do we stay to enforce that cease-fire? How many of our troops do we sacrifice in the meantime? The only thing that kept the Serbs, Croats and Bosnians from each other's throats for the past fifty years was a tyrannical, Communist State. The problems there will not and cannot be solved until there is regeneration and reformation.

The real reason for sending US troops to fight in foreign wars is the vain attempt to build a new tower of Babel; the recurring desire for man to impose his own one world government on his terms and for his purposes. And just as God confounded the builders of Babel, so also will He confound the "United Nations."

Fourthly, Biblical warfare is to be conducted against the men of the city (i.e., their troops), and not against women and children. God forbids His people from attacking non-combatants. His Law even extends to the protection of fruit trees (vs 19-20). God's people are not to wage war against the land, because the land belongs to God. The fruit trees strongly suggest that the economic infrastructure is also not to be destroyed. It is one thing to defeat your enemy in battle, it is quite another to make the land desolate, destroying future generations' ability to feed and clothe themselves. (as was done many times in past wars!)

Yet most of our modern practices of warfare are ungodly, both civilians and the land are devastated. And those practices have and will bring God's judgment. American general Sherman is often credited with the modern concept of "total war" in his infamous march through Georgia during the American War Between the States. Sherman cut a fifty-mile-wide swath of utter destruction in an attempt to bully the South into submission. He burned farms, slaughtered livestock and left them to rot and spread disease. He drove women and children from their homes, and caused unimaginable suffering, all in the name of "military necessity."

But Sherman was not really an innovator here. The ancient barbarian Mongol hordes used these same techniques. The Mongols diverted rivers to make fertile cities into barren deserts, leaving mountains of skulls as their only memorial. What makes Sherman so significant is that a supposedly Christian nation, with 18 hundred years of Biblical heritage, renounced God's Law and adopted pagan principles of warfare; principles that others quickly followed.

(The British in the Anglo-Boer War in South Africa 1898-1901, used the same techniques of destroying farms and animals in their 'scorched earth policy' to destroy the Boers, and 25000 old people, women and children were killed in concentration camps, CIM) In the First World War, civilian populations were bombed as much as technology allowed. This was supposedly to demoralize the enemy and attack his economic ability to wage war. The common soldier was lined up and forced to charge machine guns (with horrifying results) while poison gas shrouded the land. In the Second World War, technology allowed indiscriminate firebombing of civilian population centers, murdering hundreds of thousands of non-combatants. Churchill initiated this policy by bombing Berlin to get pressure off his airfields during the Battle of Britain. Later, in retaliation for the bombing of Coventry, the RAF totally destroyed Dresden, a German city of no military value. By sacrificing civilians Churchill saved the RAF and won the battle, but lost the British Empire after the war. God will not be mocked.

Most Americans do not know that we never defeated the Japanese on the battlefield, but we did destroy their homeland. We sent flights of B-29s over Tokyo with high explosive bombs to blow up the buildings, followed by waves of bombers with incendiaries creating a firestorm that killed more people than Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Undoubtedly nuclear weapons won us the war, but we now find ourselves in economic slavery to the vanquished (as per Deut 20:11). Has God not judged the Western allies? (with the words of Brian Letton, "... now they're buying from us what they couldn't take with lead..") The Japanese have bought up a very large portion of the west coast of America, of Hawaii, and the east coast of Australia, CIM)

For thirty years, we adopted a national policy of Mutually Assured Destruction (MAD) where the Soviet and American governments held each other's civilian populations hostage with nuclear weapons. Now that the Soviet Union has fallen into anarchy, third world nations and terrorist organizations appear to be doing some discount shopping for the most "bang for buck." I have nightmares about some tin pot dictator sailing a cargo ship into a US harbour crewed by religious fanatics, armed with a nuclear weapon and setting it off. Sadly, this is not just a nightmare; but a very real possibility.

Christians must demand that their national governments fight wars according to God's Law and not Man's. A nation cannot receive His blessing, if we violate His righteous standard. A Biblical nation will only fight when the issues are clear, the people supportive, and God's principles obeyed. They will not commit atrocities against non-combatants out of "military necessity" because it is not our guns, tanks, planes and bombs that give us the victory, but God's blessing. They will not involve themselves with ungodly alliances with pagan kings. God will not be mocked, whatever we sow, we will reap.

Christians in this country tend to be the most supportive and patriotic of its citizens. We have been the first to rally around the flag when the call to arms has gone out. But maybe it is time for us to be a little bit more skeptical and a lot more biblical in our thinking about when, where, how and whom we fight. America is not now, the nation it once was (and neither is Australia! CIM). God will judge us. And one of those judgments will concern whether our wars were just. May God grant grace, mercy, and repentance.

A FATHER'S PARTING WORDS

Mr John Rogers, minister of the gospel in London, was the first martyr in Queen Mary's reign, and was burnt at Smithfield, February 14, 1554. His wife with nine children following him to the stake; with wonderful sorrowful sight he was not in the least daunted, but with wonderful patience died courageously for the gospel of JESUS CHRIST. Some few days before his death, he wrote the following advice to his Children:

(note: it is poetry!)

GIVE ear my children to my words Whom God hath dearly bought, Lay up his laws within your heart, and print them in your thoughts. I leave you here a little book for you to look upon, That you may see your father's face when he is dead and gone: Who for the hope of heavenly things, while he did here remain, Gave over all his golden years to prison and to pain. Where I, among my iron bands, inclosed in the dark, not many days before my death, I did compose this work: And for example for your youth, to whom I wish all good, I send you here God's perfect truth, and seal it with my blood.

To you my heirs of earthly things: which I do leave behind, That you may read and understand and keep it in your mind. That as you have been heirs of that that once shall wear away, you also may possess that part, which never shall decay.

Keep always God before your eyes, with all your whole intent, Commit no sin in any wise, Keep His commandment. Abhor that arrant whore ROME, and all her blasphemies, And drink not of her cursed cup, obey not her decrees. Give honour to your mother dear, remember well her pain, and recompense her in her age, with the like love again. Be always ready for her help, and let her not decay, Remember well your father all, who would have been your stay.

Give of your portion to the poor, as riches do arise, And from the needy named soul, turn not away your eyes: For he that doth not hear the cry himself of those that stand in need, Shall cry himself and not be heard, when he does hope to speed. If GOD hath given you increase, and blessed well your store, Remember you are put in trust, and should relieve the poor.

Beware of foul and filthy lust, let such things have no place, Keep clean your vessels in the LORD, that he may you embrace. Ye are the temples of the LORD, for you are dearly bought, And they that do defile the same, shall surely come to nought. Be never proud by any means, build not your house too high, But always have before your eyes, that you are born to die.

Defraud not him that hired is, your labour to sustain, But pay him still without delay, his wages for his pain. And as ye would that other men against you should proceed, Do you the same to them again, when they do stand in need. Impart your portion to the poor, in money and in meat. And send the feeble fainting soul, of that which you do eat. Ask counsel always of the wise, give ear unto the end, And ne'er refuse the sweet rebuke, of him that is your friend.

Be always thankful to the LORD, with prayer and with praise, Begging of him to bless your work, and to direct your ways. Seek first, I say, the living God, and always him adore, And then be sure that he will bless, your basket and your store. And I beseech Almighty God, replenish you with grace, That I may meet you in the heavens, and see you face to face. And though the fire my body burns, contrary to my kind, That I cannot enjoy your love according to my mind: Yet I do hope that when the heavens shall vanish like a scroll, I shall see you in perfect shape, in body and in soul. And that I may enjoy your love, and you enjoy the land, I do beseech the living LORD, to hold you in his hand.

Though here my body be adjudged in flaming fire to fry, My soul I trust, will straight ascend to live with God on high. What though this carcass smart awhile, what though this life decay, My soul I hope will be with GOD, and live with him for aye [forever].

I know I am a sinner born, from the original, And that I do deserve to die by my fore-father's fall: But by my SAVIOUR'S precious blood, which on the cross was spilt, Who freely offered up his life, to save our souls from guilt. I hope redemption I shall have, and all who in him trust, then I shall see him face to face, and live among the just. Why then should I fear death's grim look since CHRIST for me did die, For King and Caesar, rich and poor, the force of death must try.

When I am chained to the stake, and faggots girt me round, Then pray the LORD my soul in heaven may be with glory crowned. Come welcome death the end of fears, I am prepared to die: Those earthly flames will send my soul up to the LORD on high.

Farewell my children to the world, where you must yet remain; The LORD of hosts be your defense, 'till we do meet again.' Farewell my true and loving wife, my children and my friends, I hope in heaven to see you all, when all things have their end. If you go on to serve the LORD, as you have now begun, You shall walk safely all your days, until your life be done.

God grant you so to end your days, as He shall think best, That I may meet you in the heavens, where I do hope to rest!

[Note: "hope" in Old English had a note of certainly and assurance to it.] (While we recognise some erroneous theology, nevertheless, it is worthy of consideration, CIM)

THE BIHISTUN ROCK

No better evidence can be desired to establish a fact to settle a date, than that of a monument created by a public authority. It settles the question of a historical fact, and few persons would be disposed to question a statement of a date found on one. The testimony of written documents may undergo a change due to fraud or accident, or may be liable to corruption or variation.

The old caravan road from Babylon to Ecbatana (ancient capitol of Media) runs by a limestone mountain rising out of the plain to a height of 1,700 feet. About 300 feet above the base on the perpendicular side, is a rock face containing an inscription made by the order of Darius the Great, about 515 B.C. The inscription not only fixes the date of his reign but provides some interesting references to the so-called "Lost Tribes of Israel." The memorial measures about 150 feet long by 100 feet high.

The labour of preparing and polishing the mountain side on the sheer cliff must have been a painstaking task. Where the rock was defective or unsound, pieces were secured and filled with molten lead. Holes or fissures in the rock were filled up in the same way, and the whole of the face of the rock divided into panels and beautifully polished. The lettering had been engraved on the prepared surface, and treated with a coat of a silicious varnish.

The inscriptions were in three languages, Babylonian (Accadian), Elamite (Susian) and Persian. They were chiefly in the cuneiform or wedge-like characters. While many scholars should be recognized for their efforts toward solving the puzzle of the wedge-shaped script, a young English officer in the Persian army, Henry C. Rawlinson, is given credit for successfully deciphering the old Persian signs. The trilingual inscription on what today is known as the "Behistun Rock" provided the "key". Once it was determined the three languages were identical it was only a matter of time till scholars were able to read the Elamite and Accadian writings.

Before the Behistun Rock gave up its hidden secret, the Babylonian-Assyrian valley was merely a cemetery of vanished nations, covered with tombs of ancient cities and towns, whose identities were a matter of conjecture. The relations of these nations to other people and lands were also inferred from hints here and there, and especially from representations of the Old Testament. But only by linguistic achievements of dedicated scholars were past conjectures transformed into visions of a valley full of thrifty cities, well-organized governments, victorious armies and world rulers.

The dominant feature of the Behistun Rock inscriptions is King Darius, in royal attire and surrounded by captives. Around the captives are five main panels, twenty in all ... the tenth panel is most interesting to a Bible student because it speaks of "Sarocus," the Sacan, who has the Hebrew form of head-dress.

Most noteworthy is King Darius majestically standing before nine persons united by a rope around their necks and their hands fastened behind their backs. A tenth man is prostrate on his back; the right foot of the king is upon his body. No two of the prisoners are dressed alike. Some of them have short tunics, others have long flowing robes. They are evidently the head chiefs of the tribes of Israel. The word "Kana" occurs 28 times in the inscription and the word "Armenia" also occurs frequently. This is the area from which the prisoners were taken -- the very area where the tribes of Israel had been placed by the Assyrians.

The inscriptions include a list of 23 nations over whom Darius ruled and named among these are the "Sakkas." In both the Persian and Elamite versions the original word is "Sakka," but in the Babylonian version the same people are called "Gimiri." (Verified on behalf of the British Museum by L.W. King and R.C. Thompson -- Sculptures and Inscriptions of Behistun -- pg.161) This proves that the Assyrians and the Babylonians called the Israelite exiles "Gimiri" regardless of where they lived. It also indicates that by this time (about 517 B.C.) a branch of the Gimiri (called "Sakka" by the Persians) had already migrated a long way beyond Bactria and dwelt on the eastern extremity of the Persian empire.

In another inscription, written on a gold tablet about a foot square, Darius wrote: "This kingdom that I hold is from Sakka which is beyond Sogdiana to Kush (Ethiopia) and from India to Sardis." (Translation published by Sidney Smith of the British Museum -- 1926) This provides added evidence that by 500 B.C. some of the Sakkas were far to the east near the upper Jaxartes Basin.

Additional evidence that the Sakka were a branch of the Gimiri (Israelites) is provided by another trilingual inscription found in the tomb of Darius, in Southwestern Persia . . . On this occasion, Darius listed three separate groups of "Sakkas;" the "Amyrgian Sakkas," the "Sakkas with the pointed caps," and the "Sakkas who are beyond the sea." In each case the name "Gimiri" in the Babylonian text, is translated "Sakka" in the Persian.

These inscriptions have been known for many years but the publications dealing with them have generally passed over the translation from "Gimiri" to "Sakka" with scarcely a comment. Perhaps it seemed quite inexplicable to the historians. And yet, the only conclusion that can be drawn from the inscriptions (also the writings of Josephus) is that the Iskuza were called "Sakka" by the Persians. Therefore, the logical conclusion is that the "Iskuza," the "Sakka," and the "Gimiri" are the same people. Then in reviewing the Royal Correspondence of the Assyrian Empire it is evident that the "Iskuza," the "Sakka," the "Scythians," the "Cimmerians," and the "Gimiri" are all Israelites.

WORLD AFFAIRS

by Pastor F.W.C. Nesper

WORLD REVIEW: When we look at the world and keep our ear on the ground, the general impression we get is not pretty or encouraging. As a matter of fact the picture is alarming and the scene is distressing. Man, the earth and the animals are groaning and crying for deliverance. Wherever you look there are wars and rumours of war. Only this morning (20 January) I was told that skirmishes had broken out in Iraq.

We know that there are tens of thousands of American and British soldiers in that area already. In several cities of the world there are huge demonstrations against the American attack upon Iraq. There is a general climate of unrest all over the world. Millions of people have no food to eat. One part of the world lives in luxury while the other part struggles to make a miserable living. There are great pestilences and diseases, like aids for instance. Anguish, fear and anxiety is the lot of millions. Nowhere in the world will you have far to go to see it. Yes, indeed this is not a happy world. ("This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes," Ps 118:23)

The earth groans under droughts, floods and pollution. It is as the prophet Isaiah says: "The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof, because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant. Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left." (Isa 24:5,6).

I think the mass media have kept the world fairly well informed about conditions in Zimbabwe. The situation is desperate. There is no food, the farms have been devastated. The trees have been chopped down, the game have been almost destroyed and caught in snares and then killed with assegais, or hunted with dogs and then killed with pangas. Foot and mouth disease have also broken out on a large scale.

There is a water scarcity because most of the pumps and pipes have been destroyed. There is a great danger that the same situation will blow over to South Africa. There are also various tropical diseases, eradicated by the white man, that have now started to return after the departure of the white man. There is a danger that South Africa will be flooded with refugees as the famine in Zimbabwe is reaching its critical stage. Our people are being murdered, robbed and raped ever since 1994, after the black government took over. When these refugees stream across our borders, the situation will be infinitely worse. Our country is not a safe place anymore

You must remember that this is one of the methods of Communism to enslave a people and to subject them to the central government, by starving them. When you stand in long queues with the begging bowl in your hand, waiting for a food handout, you have lost your independence. That is what Stalin did with the people of the Ukraine in the beginning of the thirties of the previous century. The people died literally by the millions through starvation. I still remember how as a child I saw photos of row upon row of skulls heaped up in pyramid form like rows of sheaves stacked up on the reaped wheat field.

THE-EXPLANATION:

Daniel, one of the prophets of the Old Testament said to king Nebuchadnezzar, "But there is a God in heaven." (Daniel 2:28). "This God of heaven" created this earth according to the finest and most perfect laws, that it may operate just as precisely and smoothly as the sun, moon and stars in their courses. But then man had to apply them and administer them exactly as God stipulated in His "everlasting covenant." And that man has not done. He said as it were, to the "God of heaven;" "stand to one side, I, great clever human being, will make my own laws."

Now, our own disobedience has overtaken us. We have entangled ourselves to such a degree that no one else except this same "God of heaven" will get us out of that snare. But any law also has its own stipulation and conditions. It has its own blessings and rewards for obedience, but also its punishment and retribution for disobedience. All these ordinances and stipulations have been set out for us in the finest detail in this law of the "God of heaven" that Daniel told Nebuchadnezzar about.

God has been so merciful and kind to us that He even sent His own Son to come and die for us on the cross to pay our penalty. But at that time there was a group on earth who had infiltrated by treacherous means, into the people of God who had been ordained as God's administrators on earth, and had taken over the leadership, who said: "Away with him, away with him, away with him, crucify him..... We have no king but Caesar." (John 19:15). There is an old saying which says, Fact is stranger than fiction.

THE FACT: Man has so become the slave of the lie, as a result of his rebellion against God, that he will rather believe the lie than the truth. When I therefore am going to tell you the truth in the next paragraphs to follow, most people will also not believe me, but there are a small minority who will believe me. It is for their sake that I am writing the following.

During the course of the centuries, man started to worship idols, because deep down in his innermost being he realised that he was unable to face the challenges of life in his own strength, in spite of the fact that he had chosen to be a "god" unto himself. The god who eventually stood out above the rest, was money, Mammon. That is why Jesus said, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon." (Matt 6:24). That same faction who said to Pilate "Away with him, away with him, we have no king but Caesar," have through the centuries under Satanic inspiration acquired the control of mammon. They control most of mankind already through their money, which they accumulated contrary to the laws and ordinances of the "everlasting covenant." And, because they unlawfully usurped the identity of the Covenant People, they also claimed for themselves the promise and the covenant of world dominion. They in actual fact reckon that the government of the whole world belongs to them. That is the root of world conflict.

They have worked very hard throughout history on this subterfuge claim, and used the power and prestige of mammon, to fool the world to believe that they are the Chosen People of God. By infiltrating the Church with this deception, and to see to it that the preachers also believe and preach it, Christendom believes that those deceivers are the People of the Messiah. That is why there is this mass concentration of American and British troops in the Middle East. They want to protect the Jews against the Arabs. Under the deception against which Jesus warned us, the Christian world believes that the return of the Jews to Palestine since 1948 is the prophesied return of Israel just before the Second Coming of Christ, to come and establish the Kingdom of God on earth.

The other nations like Russia, China, India and all of the Moslem world also see what is happening and know exactly what is going on. They know that this clique who owns the world's money, aims at world domination and therefore also the possession of the world's oil resources. It is therefore into this vortex of the Middle-East into which the powers of the world are being sucked and focused at this present time. I would advise you to listen to the old prophets, they had heard the voice of the "God of heaven" who knows the end from the beginning. The old prophet Zechariah said: "And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut to pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it." (Zech. 12:3). Make sure to also read chapters 12, 13, and 14.

THE DAY OF RECKONING: When you consider this verse carefully, it is already frightening enough, but it is not nearly the full description of that which awaits us. We have no idea of the injustice that is taking place on earth. Also not of all the suffering and misery. The God of heaven is ready to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their rebellion against Him, and for the rejection of His Son whom He specifically sent to atone for our sins with His precious blood.

I am going to give you a verse that most people will not even notice, but which is on the verge of going into all of its naked awesome fulfillment. That is Luke 19:27, "But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither (Palestine), and slay them before me." In vs 14 of Luke 19 we read, "But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, "We will not have this man to reign over us." It is they that said to Pilate, "Away with him, away with him..." They still say it today. What we now see and experience is THE DAY OF RECKONING which has already started.

New Documentary THE LOSS OF LIBERTY

On June 8, 1967, Israeli warplanes and torpedo boats launched a murderous surprise attack against the USS Liberty, an American intelligence ship. This professionally-produced tape reveals the long-suppressed facts surrounding this event. 34 American sailors were killed and 172 wounded. The USS Liberty had a 40ft hole in the side from the one torpedo out of six fired, that hit her, instantly killing 25. The ship was fired on with rockets and machine guns, and all life-rafts were intentionally destroyed. Yet, no one was ever to speak of this attack on threat of court martial, prison - or worse.

It is later than you think, wake up. The prophets often speak of "THAT DAY," THE DAY OF THE LORD, THE GREAT AND TERRIBLE DAY OF THE LORD, THE DAY OF VENGEANCE, and so on. All over the Old Testament we read that in the measure that Israel departed from the Lord and started to worship the gods of the heathen, the heathen began to gain the upper hand and dominated Israel and enslaved and humiliated her. We are there again at this present time, I believe for the last time. We have a form of godliness, but we have denied the power thereof. Is it not something to make you weep, when someone glibly calls himself a Christian, but there is not a grain of integrity in him? The heathen mocks us, please read Joel 2:17. This Babylonian System is going to be shattered, as God destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah. Hasten, flee, hurry, don't look back!

EU's "rights of man"

It would have been unthinkable a decade ago. Here was post-Crusades, post-Inquisition, post-Nazi, Europe accusing the one nation that for two years stood alone against the onslaught of the most murderous power to ever engulf that continent of the very sins of which its own history has been a continual chronicle!

"The European Parliament criticized Britain yesterday for a wide range of human rights abuses ... In its annual report on the state of human rights in the European Union, the Parliament singled out Britain's criminal justice system for much of the harshest criticism" (Daily Telegraph, London, Jan 14; )

Britain's system, keep in mind, is bound up in the tradition of "innocent till proven guilty," whereas the European system is based on the very opposite - "guilty till proven innocent." Not surprisingly, the report was drafted by a European socialist.

"The report also said Downing Street had abridged the 'freedom of the press' by telling journalists to hold back from reporting on military operations in Afghanistan. 'It invoked reasons of national security and the need to prevent national panic.'" (ibid.).

This came from the parliamentary body which legislates for the most secretive federation of nation states that has existed since the Holy Roman Empire! The EU simply has no law guaranteeing the transparency of its unelected Brussels-based technocrats. They draft their EU rules in secret and impose them with impunity on the masses.

Reading a little deeper into the report, one can predict the sinister outcome: "The Parliament has called for the creation of a European human rights agency to monitor compliance in a far more intrusive way" (ibid.). Not content with imposing 80,000 pages of laws, rules, regulations and financial impositions on its citizenry, the EU is about to launch an agency of "human rights" enforcers!

The ironic master stroke of this insidious penetration into people's privacy is that the EU is using the concept of the defense of human rights - something that Europe has never championed to anywhere near the extent of Britain and its dominions (historically the havens for the masses of refugees) - to impose a system which will enforce even greater limits and regulations on the so-called rights of man. In doing so, it will gain the right to intrude into citizen's lives to check that they are toeing the EU line.

"MASTER, MASTER, WE PERISH!"

author unknown

Jesus and His disciples set out to cross the Sea of Galilee. As the Master slept, a storm came up. The rising waves dashed impetuously against the ship, threatening every moment to bury them all in the bowels of the deep. The darkness of the night increased the horrors of the tempest.

In vain the Disciples exerted their utmost strength; the storm continued to increase, and baffled all efforts of human exertion. The waves broke over the ship, the water rushed in, and she began to sink. All hopes of escaping were vanished; despair seized every individual; and they were on the brink of perishing, when they ran to Jesus, crying out, "Master, Master, we perish!"

He roused from His sleep, raised His hand, so often employed in acts of mercy and benevolence, and with a stern and awful voice rebuked the boisterous element. The raging sea instantly obeyed His command, the aerial torrent stopped short. The surface of the deep became smooth.

Why did the Disciples wait 'til their plight was to the point of abandonment?

Answer this and you will have the answer to why modern Christians will not call upon the Power of Jesus to save them from the evils of the present world system until it is almost too late.

THE TRUE HOLY TONGUE

Adam de Witt

There is so much to- and fro-ing between believers as to what is the Holy Tongue. Many claim to be so up on alien tongues of Greek, Latin and Hebrew, yet it astounds me how little they even know of their own tongue. Let me give you a hint at what I mean. Many are claiming to know God's name in Hebrew but they do not even know that 'Sacred' is not English, it is a Latin word. The English word is in truth, HOLY.

So let us look into the Holiness of what so many claim to be Hebrew. That which is called Hebrew by the establishment is only the outgrowth of that which was spoken only by the Rabbis of Judaism in the same way the clergy of the churches in England and Europe spoke Latin. Yet no one else did, other than the learned show-offs. Both the Hebrew and Latin are dead tongues, and religions used 'death-warmed-up' tongues and called these, "Holy," or in the Papal-Latino-hybrid English: "Sacred." The Jews never spoke true Hebrew, instead they spoke Sephardaim/Babylonian. The Jewish homeland is not found in Palestine, but rather it was in Sephar (see the books of Kings) a swathe near where today is set the town of Baghdad. Sephar is where we get the word, 'Cipher' from; the hint is, to write or to Scribe, hence the Scribes. (see The Cipherers of Sephar, #183 @ $3.00)

It is this name Sephar that was given to the twin town of the swathe, Sepharvaim. The dwellers of the towns were called the Sephardaim. These are the writers or scribes of the Traditions of the Elders which became the Babylonian Talmud. It is from the twin town of Sepharvaim that the Sephardics came to settle in the areas of Israel which were emptied of Israelites by the Assyrians. Thus they named themselves after an Israelite shire called Judea. So they were thence, the Sephardaim of Judea, shortened to the name Judeans, or in English Jews. They took with them their Sephardic-Babylonian dialect. When the Greeks went into the Middle East, the spoken word became Greek. Thus everyone, remnant Israelites, Edomites and Judean-Sephardic offspring all spoke Greek.

The religious leaders of the cult of the Traditions of the Elders tried to keep their Babylonian dialect alive somehow. This was done by calling it Holy or to be handled in religious ways as Latin was for the Catholic church. Thus no longer spoken it lived on only in written form and only in religious life of the meeting(place)[synagogue]. Yet all the while it was not Hebrew, but rather a Judeo-Babylonian dialect from Sephar. Jews, that is to say, the followers of the Scribes' religion, simply spoke the tongues of the lands in which they dwelt, or their own versions thereof. Thus, Ladino was spoken from Portugal to eastern France and England. Yiddish was spoken from eastern France to the Black Sea. Beyond that they spoke Turkic (due to Khazaria).

In pre-Turkish times in Turkey they spoke Greek, in the Fertile Crescent they spoke Aramaic and in swathes up to India they spoke Iranian. Thus the dead Babylonian 'Hebrew' was a brew made from a dead Babylonian dialect of their Sepharvaim homeland and used as if Holy for the Scribes and Pharisees. The true Israelites, after Egypt, indeed learnt Canaanite, but this is not a problem as it in itself was Semitic and most likely the closest thing to original Hebrew.

Yiddish is the handed-down mother tongue (traditional vernacular) of the Ashkenazim Jewish folk, it is Judaeo-German, a thousand year old tongue, whilst Sephardim Jews speak Ladino (Judaeo-Castilian). Jews elsewhere spoke the other tongues as stated above Modern so-called Hebrew was shaped by the Zionist bewaying (movement) in the 1800's and popularized by writers such as Abraham Mapu, Yehudah Leib Gordon, Moshe Leib Lilienblum and Peretz Smolenskin; all of whom lived around the mid 1800's. Writing under the 'cover name' (Nom de Plume) of 'Medele the Bookseller' in the late 1800's was Shalom Jacob Abramovich who helped foster a modern Hebrew literary style that was both precise and natural. "Eliezer ben Yehudah, a journalist and wordbook (dictionary) writer, was the leader in bringing back spoken Hebrew," so says the 1999 World Book Encyclopedia. This 'Hebrew' was taken from the old Sephardaim/Babylonian tongue that died out and was only known as a religious but dead tongue.

True Hebrew came by way of Eber (where 'Hebrew' gets its name) through Shem and Noah and was most likely the erstwhile tongue spoken by Adam or an offshoot of the Adamic tongue. A son of Ham named Canaan, who fathered the Canaanite tribes, around 3,000 BC spawned an offshoot of the tongue spoken by Noah which became known as Canaanite. It was written in Cuneiform as were all Semitic tongues at that time. From the offspring of Shem came the lineage to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob who fathered the Israelites. Then the Israelites fell to the Egyptian captivity for 210 years and when they went into the 'promised land' of milk and honey, groups within Israel flirted with the cultures of other non-Israelite tribes in the area. The 1999 World Book (International Edition) on CD says as to 'Canaanite,' "The Israelites adopted many Canaanite laws and customs, and Hebrew language and literature shows much Canaanite influence." Under 'Hebrew', it says, "Hebrew is a dialect of Canaanite." (ibid)

This was now a 'post-captivity' Neo-Hebrew tongue, altered from the erstwhile pre-flood tongue. The 1997 Encarta Encyclopedia on CD says as to the name 'Canaanite': "Biblical scholars now believe that the Hebrew language was derived from Canaanite sources and that the Phoenician language was an early form of Hebrew." Encarta Encyclopedia also says this as to 'Hebrew': "Hebrew language - Semitic language originally adopted by the 'ibhri, or Israelites, when they took possession of the land of Canaan west of the Jordan River in Palestine. The language has also been called the 'speech of Canaan,' and Judean after the kingdom of Judah. Ancient Hebrew was succeeded by an intermediary form, Mishnaic Hebrew, about the 3rd century BC.

Modern Hebrew, the only vernacular tongue based on ancient written form, was developed in the 19th and 20th centuries." Encarta says that modern Hebrew was "developed" or more accurately, 'made-up' as a spoken tongue to go with the written word which in itself was different from the cuneiform of Noah's era. Thus it would be truthful to describe modern so-called Hebrew as a Babylonian/

Khazar tongue. Eber, the father of the Hebrews, lived long before the Egyptian captivity started and thus he spoke his own tongue named after him. So before rubbing shoulders with the Canaanites, the Israelites were already speaking Hebrew. The true, genuine, erstwhile type. This faded away with a growing of sin during the Canaanite contact age, which again faded away during the following Assyrian, Babylonian, Greek and Roman onslaughts (invasions).

The true Hebrew tongue died out in the land of Israel a long time ago. It left the land when the Israelites did and was supplanted by Sephar/Babylonian and then later again by Greek. Even during the time of Jesus the main tongue of the disciples was thus Greek, (whereas the main tongue of the scattered Israelites was 'Isaacson,' a forerunner of the Saxon dialects of Northern Europe which grew out of true Hebrew). Hence the New Testament being written in Greek. Most of the Old Testament quotes in the New Testament are word-for-word from the Greek Septuagint (the LXX) and not from the false Babylonian-Hebrew of the Masoretic text. The fact that Jews speak neo-Judeo-Hebrew today is as much proof of their claim to Israelite heritage as Afro-Americans trying to claim that they are Celts because they speak Ghetto-English.

True Hebrew does live on, like an Oak Tree which grew out of an acorn and the two at first glance look nothing like each other, the tree is nevertheless genetically pure from its seed. So it is with true Hebrew. Thus this tongue grew into the Isaacson tongue which through hundreds of years grew into Saxon. Far away from the Greek and Latin worlds and far away from the scribes and Pharisees, the rickes of the day named the Saxons after the sounds of their tongue, thinking that they spoke weird, and called them Barbarians.

Nevertheless, Saxon is the living tongue that has grown out of the tongue spoken by the pre-Hellenised Israelites. The joke is thus on the establishment. For they have poo-poo-ed Saxon dialects as lesser tongues and their own Papal-Latin and Judeo-Hebrew as the Holy tongues, when in truth their tongues are from the hearts of evil men whilst Saxon dialects are the stalwartly tongues of the folk of God. I find it sad that so many of the offspring of the carriers of the Saxon erstness (heritage) think as the establishment does, even within Identity. They also poo-poo Saxon words and rather opt for latin, Greek or Sephar/Babylonian. We see this in the Holy Name bewaying (movement) and in the choice of English words so many rather handle. They say, 'prior, sufficient, preponderance, sacred, prefer, original, expensive, etc.' in place of, 'before, enough, weight, holy, rather, erstwhile, dear, and so forth.' Indeed they think these words unlearned, or as they would say, uneducated. If they but only understood, or as they would say, comprehended, that true, or as they would say, proper, English is an outgrowth, or as they would say, a development, of the tongue, or as they would say, language, of Eber. Then they may grasp, or as they would say, realize, that their Holy Father tongue was True English, Dutch, German, and so forth, all along!

English is a Saxon tongue that has been Romanized/Esperanto-ised by the Jews starting from the time William the Plunderer (Conqueror) went into England and has steadily become worse! First English became befouled by Church Latin and William's French, then with the brewing up of Esperanto the thrust to Latinize English became more strong. Esperanto is a Jewish made-up tongue for the goy and is 80% Romanic (of the Latin dialects, Portuguese, Spanish, Italian, French, Latin, Romanic and Sephardic Spanish). They brewed this up due to the truth that there were many Saxon tongues other than English which needed Romanizing. We can still speak pretty good English if we want to, but hardly anyone cares to. (But, like trying to learn another language at home, it is not very easy. It is much easier to learn if everyone around you is speaking it - and you do still have to communicate with those who do not understand these words).

So then ask yourself; who always brings in new fake teachings and would rather that we use a Latin word as the name of that new teaching? You will find that at the bottom of it is some Saxon-hating, offspring of Sephar. Who gives the Americans all these dumb big sayings, such as a 'Horizontal Incision with Extreme Prejudice'? Out of those 5 words only one is English, "with"! Guess who has done it? Those who like to run our lands and hate us, of whom Paul said to Titus, "their mouths must be stopped."

There is a foretelling (prophecy) of a pure tongue, thus Holy in the Bible and it has nothing to do with the Rabbinical tongue from Babylon or the babble of "tongue talkers." The holy tongue is bound up with the foretelling in Zephaniah dealing with the daughter of the scattered ones south of the African river systems, namely Zuid Afrika (South Africa). Seeing that the only two Israelite tongues spoken there are, English and Afrikaans (a Dutch dialect) and that English is far from pure; that pure tongue may well be Afrikaans. Afrikaans is one of the purest Saxon (Isaacson) dialects going. The Jews HATE it and always belittle it as the evil tongue of Apartheid. Well how about that, seeing that they hate it so much and that Apartheid means 'be ye apart' or 'set apart' thus "HOLY" then the tongue of HOLINESS (sacredness) is Afrikaans.

So if you seek a true Hebrew name for God, then seek it in the tongue which God calls pure, Afrikaans. So get used to the idea that you may all need to learn Dutch! Now get this, the Dutch word for God is .... "God"! Now where have I seen that word before? "O Spiritu Sanctimus, sacrebleu!" the Pope. Isn't it funny how so many English speakers speak almost like the Pope, maybe they are falling for the Sephar plan, one law and one tongue for dumb goy, and another fake one for the Jew. And then to think that there are some in Identity who run for the tongue of the Babylonian Rabbis ... staggering!

Long live true English, true Dutch/Flemish/Afrikaans, true German, true Icelandic, true Norwegian, true Danish and true Swedish. Dutch or Afrikaans tongue courses can readily be bought ... also a true English word-book is in the making. God willing, we shall have it soon.
