"THE AGE OF ILLUSIONS - PART 1"

by Pastor Don Elmore

INTRODUCTION

The Bible is full of warnings to the covenant people of God to "not be deceived." Examples are given of false apostles, false brethren, false gospel, false spirit, false seed, false kingdom, false church, false Jesus, false salvation, false gods, false holy days, false money, false science, false zodiac, false medicine, false meditation, false foods, false freedom, false Christianity, false Israel, etc. —all taught by deceitful workers. The genuine and the imitation; the true and the counterfeit; the real and the illusion abound everywhere in today's deceived, godless world.

In fact, deception is so prevalent in American society that in almost every area of life—the popular and accepted perceptions, conceptions, or interpretations are not in accord with the facts. The illusion has become the norm; while the real is either unknown or rejected.

THE ILLUSION OF ONE DOLLAR

A basic property of math is the Transitive Property of Equality:

If two things are equal to the same thing, then they are equal to each other. In mathematical language:

If A=B and B=C, then A=C. One can readily understand why this must be true. For if both A and C are equal to B, then they must be equal to each other.

To illustrate the illusion of one dollar—all one has to do is to read what is written on the paper Federal Reserve Note and an American Silver eagle coin. Both have imprinted or engraved on them the same two words:

"ONE DOLLAR"

So, if the paper Federal Reserve Note is "One Dollar" and the silver coin is "One Dollar"—they they both must be equal to each other since they are both equal to the same thing—one dollar. One should be able to exchange the one for the other: one paper "one dollar" Federal Reserve Note for one "one dollar" silver coin.

But that is precisely how the illusion is exposed. They are not equal! The relationship between the two fluctuates daily. Over the last three years, the "one dollar" Federal Reserve Note has had a value between 1/4 and 1/15th of the Silver coin "one dollar." As of today, it takes almost 13 paper one dollars to purchase one silver coin dollar.

What we carry in our pockets—Federal Reserve Notes [or Australian notes, CIM]—are an illusion of money.

"No state shall ... coin Money; emit Bills of Credit: make any Thing but gold and silver coin a Tender in payment of debts." - United States Constitution, Article 1, Section 10.

["A State shall not coin money, nor make anything but gold and silver coin a legal tender in payment of debts." Section 115, Australian Constitution. CIM]

"Lawful money of the United States shall be construed to mean gold and silver coin..."—United States Code at Title 12, Section 152.

"Coins and paper currency used as a circulating medium of exchange, and does not embrace notes, bonds, or evidence of debt..."—Black's Law Dictionary definition of money.

The paper money Federal Reserve notes are disqualified as money, because they are notes. A note is an IOU—an evidence of debt. It is not money.

The paper money Federal Reserve notes are disqualified as being dollars. The Free Coinage Act of 1792 specified money to be gold or silver coin. The denomination was to be based on weight. A dollar and all other coins were to be at least 90% pure. The dollar is specified as :

Gold — 25.8 grains

Silver — 412.5 grains

If a paper currency "one dollar" could be exchanged for 25.8 grains of gold, or 412.5 grains of silver, then an argument could be made that it could be worth one dollar. But, while it used to be true that it could, today it cannot. Paper money, therefore, is just an illusion [but, like monopoly money, it serves the purpose of people "playing the game" CIM].

Even more illusionary is the money created by the technology age. Over 90% of all the "money" in the United States is now electric money—not paper—not silver or gold coins. Money is deposited and withdrawn from checking, savings and brokerage accounts electronically.

Today, when many employers pay their employees, they no longer give them gold or silver, or paper currency, or a paper check (cheque), but numbers are electronically sent into the individual workers' checking accounts. And many bank customers have their bills paid by deducting numbers electronically—so much for Article 1, Section 10!

THE ILLUSION OF FOOD

Not all foods are equal. Canned peaches, immersed in high fructose corn syrup, is not equal in calories, nutrition, vitamins and enzymes as a freshly picked organic peach; margarine is not equal to raw butter; pasteurized/homogenized milk is not equal to raw milk [note that homogenization is much worse than pasteurization! CIM]; hormone-injected, feed-lot beef is not equal to grass-fed, grazed beef; regular refined table salt with aluminium is not equal to sea salt; baby formula is not equal to a mother's breast milk; refined white sugar (sucrose) is not equal to healthy and necessary sugars: Glucose, Galactose, Fucose, Mannose, Xylose, N-acetyl-neuraminic acid, N-acetyl-glucosamine sugars; etc.

Most foods sold in grocery stores and restaurants are not fit to eat and are very detrimental to the consumer's health. Besides all of the harmful added chemicals used as flavorings, preservatives, or colorings and all of the pesticides and herbicides still present in the plants—modern food processing destroys nearly all of the naturally occurring enzymes in the food.

What is so bad about eating foods that have all of their enzymes destroyed? God has placed enzymes in vegetables, fruits, grains, and other raw foods to aid in the eater's digestion. Without ENZYMES, THE NUTRIENTS IN FOOD ARE UNAVAILABLE FOR USE IN THE CELLS OF THE BODY.

The digestive system secretes a few digestive enzymes in the mouth and stomach, but most are secreted by the pancreas and small intestine. These digestive enzymes are produced as they are required as their purpose is to aid the food enzymes in digestion.

Enzymes also help the body to purify the blood, break down fats, cleanse the colon, maintain proper cholesterol levels and maintain peak energy levels. Enzymes are absolutely essential for good health and life.

Much of today's food—(1) looks good, (2) tastes good and (3) smells good—but is high in calories and low in nutrition and enzymes. As a result, the eating of this nutritionally incomplete illusionary "food," adds to the burden of the pancreas and immune system to replace those lost food enzymes, robbing the body of energy production, enzyme reserve and function.

The product of modern food processing is an illusionary food that has nearly all of its naturally occurring enzymes destroyed. Whether this nutrient deficient food is:

- Canned
- Pasteurized - homogenized
- Genetically engineered
- A product of "mixed seeds"
- Cooked
- Packaged
- Radiated

it lacks the enzymes necessary for digestion and the absorption of nutrients.

THE ILLUSION OF CHRISTMAS

Most protestants and other celebrators of Christmas are under the assumption that Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Jesus. But that is an illusion. The name, Christmas, itself, exposes the illusion [but only in English, of course, Dutch: Kerstfeest; German: Weihnacht]:

CHRISTMAS is the contraction for the MASS OF CHRIST. It is the special celebration of the Mass on the birthday of the god who was born on December 25th by the Catholic Church. The Mass is the liturgy of prayers and service of the daily offering of the unbloody sacrifice of the anointed—called the Eucharist. Every year on television the midnight Christmas Eve Mass is broadcast on television channels all over the world.

So Christmas (Christ's Mass) is really the celebration of the recurring death and not the birth—it just occurs on the supposed day of the sacrificed one's birth. So what is wrong with Christmas, i.e. the Mass of Christ—it is the blasphemy of the Mass.

1. The Mass is presented as being a sacrament in which the wafer and wine is (or becomes) the ACTUAL body and blood of Jesus. But if this were true, it would be in opposition to the Law of God which forbids His people from drinking blood or eating the flesh of men.

2. The Mass is an unbloody sacrifice that is non-ending. It thereby blasphemously denies that the sacrifice of Jesus was ONCE and for all the final sacrifice of the Old Covenant blood sacrifice rituals.

3. The Mass is offered to any of all races, without any regard to the blood of the everlasting covenant that God made exclusively with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and their seed.

4. The celebration of this special Mass occurs on the birth date of the sun god of Persia, Greece, Rome and Babylon—Mithras.

All down through history, remnants of Christians have restrained from participating in the Mass or any special celebration of it. For example:

Over 1200 years ago, The Second Book of the History of the Evangelical Churches of the Valleys of Piemont, page 189 reveals that:

"The Evangelical Churches of the Valleys of Piemont, as well as those of Dauphine, have indeed been sorely persecuted, from the very beginning, by the Ecclesiastics, that is to say, ever since the Apostasy of the Roman Church has taken place in the World, and all because they would by no means comply with their belief and customs."

Later, on pages 190 and 191, the writer of this church history informs the reader that extreme persecution and torture occurred to these Christians who had "preserved among them the purity of that Doctrine which was left them by Christ and his Apostles...." As a consequence of their faithfulness to the doctrines that were taught to their fathers, they suffered "most formidable and lamentable spectacles of barbarous and unchristian cruelties" because "their ministers did not at all cease to teach and preach to their respective Congregations, that:

- The Pope was Antichrist
- The Mass an Abomination
- The host an Idol
- And Purgatory a Fable."

After the Protestant Reformation, the Protestant reformers and their churches also did not keep Christmas. The Pilgrims and Puritans even outlawed Christmas both in America and England in the 1600's! And as late as 1855, Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists refused to recognize Christmas as a holiday.

Christmas did not begin to be a legal holiday anywhere in the United States of America until very late in the 19th century. In fact, Webster's Revised Unabridged Dictionary, 1913 Ed., page 253 confirms that as late as 1913 many States did not even recognize Christmas as a legal holiday. It was only after the influx of Roman Catholic immigrants in the 1800's that the practice spread and gained acceptance by all but the "remnant."

Merry unbloody sacrifice of the anointed on the anniversary of his birth is an illusion. To teach that Jesus is physically sacrificed each time the Mass is given; as the wafer and wine actually are transformed into the body and blood of Jesus which are then consumed by the officiating priest. This ritual is a denial of the ninth chapter of Hebrews where three times it states that Christ did not offer Himself often, but only ONCE—for His sacrifice was sufficient and accepted by God the Father.

The Mass is an imitation of the Old Covenant ritual of the daily animal sacrifices offered by the Priests of Israel. It is supposed to pay for the sins of both the living and dead; which insinuates that the sacrifice of Jesus was not complete. And it is all done on the anniversary of the birth of a false god.

In addition, the teaching that the round wafer is the actual body of Jesus and that the wine is the actual blood of Jesus, is truly a custom that is hard for non-Catholics to understand how anyone could believe this mystery. For the wine still tastes like wine, smells like wine, intoxicates like wine and does not look, smell or coagulate like blood.

And the “transubstantiation” of the wafer into the body of Jesus is so serious that if the priest vomits after eating it he is told to consume the vomit so that the “wafer-god” is properly revered.

Those who celebrate Christmas are not required to believe in the virgin birth of Jesus or that He was the redeemer of Israel. Anyone can celebrate the Mass which will occur at Midnight in the Vatican on Christmas Eve.

But the Pilgrims, Puritans and Evangelical Christians of the Valleys of the Piemont and Dauphine believed in the virgin birth of Jesus but did not celebrate the Mass of Christ. They believed the real and not the illusion. End

CREATION MUSEUM DECEPTION
by pastor Lawrence Blanchard

The Answers In Genesis’s (AIG) Creation Museum has been getting some favourable press lately. (See The Boone Community Recorder, Thursday, July 20, 2006; “Creation Museum to open in 2007.”) And why not? AIG gets a lot of financial support, is widely heralded as the “Christian” advocate for the biblical truth of creation and, by the way, has a top notch marketing program to sell its bill of goods.

Figured into AIG’s successful marketing program is that it has courageously taken on the arch villain of Christians — those evil evolutionary-minded atheists. You need a good villain to fight against if you are going to keep all those bucks flowing in. After all, that Creation Museum is expensive! And think of all that “positive economic impact” coming for the community as out-of-town visitors file through the grand museum.

AIG has become the big hammer for the Christians to defend a supposed biblical view that God created the universe in a matter of six, 24-hour days about 6,000 years ago. Christians are delighted to fund AIG to swing that big hammer against those dreaded evolutionists.

IS THAT EVOLUTION I SMELL?

The problem is, creationist theory (at least this brand) has a little evolution of its own. Of course, those who promote this theory would vigorously deny they teach “evolution.” No, no. But you decide if it’s about the same idea or not. Here’s how the theory goes:

- God created everything. (That part is true)
- God created only one male and female pair of one dog kind, one cat kind, one bird kind, one fish kind, and one human kind from which all “species” came into being. (We will focus now on “human kind”).

- Then, after Noah’s Flood when all of Noah’s direct descendants from Adam were scattered all over the planet, they were exposed to different environments.

- These different environments acted upon their genes and somehow transformed them into the different races we see today. Like the evolutionists, they call it “natural selection.”

Thus, this creation/evolutionary process (which creationists claim took place in only 200 years) accounts for all the diversity of creation including the races of human kind. But you see, they have to throw in a little evolution to make their theory work.

BUT WAIT, THERE’S MORE

That’s not the end of the similarity between the creationist and evolutionary theories. In regard to “humans” both claim a common origin. The creationist would say we had a common set of parents—Adam and Eve. The evolutionist would say we they all come from some sort of blob. Both theories come up with assumed premises that find problems in verification.

The similarity continues. As an implication, both the creationist and evolutionist agree on the same conclusion about the “human” races. Since they came from a common origin, they are, therefore all equal.

So, why not have racial integration in schools, government and churches? Why not promote racial intermarriage? Let’s all say “yes” to tolerance and diversity! That’s the logical conclusion.

Let’s think about this. Specifically, let’s think about the creationist theory about how the so-called “human race” came into being. Here are a couple of questions:

Is there any evidence, or has anyone ever observed evolutionary changes where, let’s say, a Negro changed into a White person due to climatic change - or vice versa?

Is it possible to start out with a genetically mixed male and female (as they say Adam and Eve were) and eventually produce a true-breeding Caucasian or Chinese?

The answers to the above questions are found in the book, Did All Races Come From Adam? by pastor Lawrence Blanchard (#584 @ $27.95). This book challenges and explodes the creationist theory of the races while maintaining a true-to-Scripture account of the creation.

CONCLUSION

Answers In Genesis Creation Museum may have the best intentions, the best funding and popularity, but it’s peddling a theory of the races that has no validity in the Bible, science or common sense. It’s time for professing Christians to examine another side of the issue:

- “The first to plead his case seems right, Until another comes and examines him” Proverbs 18:17

Look at the evidence and let the chips fall where they may. You may just discover a new and consistent understanding of the Bible and the gospel of the Kingdom.

At the end of the day, the truth is, there is no real difference between the modern creation and evolutionary theories. They both end up on the same page—tolerance and diversity. Is that biblical? We say, absolutely not! - End ----- In the county of Kentucky (Boone) where FGCP is located, there is a very unique situation.

1. To the south of FGCP, there is a very famous State Park—Big Bone Salt Lick Park. As its name indicates, this Park, located in the Southern portion of the county, at one time contained a large concentration of salt. As a result, hundreds of large (big boned) mammoths traveled from miles around to lick the salt. but the salt was in a swampy, soft area. Thus, the very heavy, large mammals became trapped and died—leaving their large bones near or on the surface of the ground. When this phenomenon was discovered in the 1800s, thousands of bones were carted off to museums in America and Europe. Today, there are historical markers indicating that these animals became trapped hundreds of millions of years ago.

2. To the north of FGCP, there is a new Creation Museum that is ready to showcase for Fundamental Christians all over the world. Like William Jennings Bryan (Scopes Trail), they advocate that the large mammoths existed no more than six thousand years ago. In fact, nothing in the universe existed more than six millenniums from the present day.

What a contrast! The difference between the view given by the Kentucky Big Bone State Park and the view advocated by the Creation Museum as to when the prehistoric creatures roamed the earth is ONLY hundreds of millions of years.

Symbolically, our building is located between these two extreme county locations and views. Our view is that the earth and universe were created by God an unknown long time ago, but it became waste and void. After an unknown long interval of time in that desolate condition, the earth was restored back to a condition where it could once again support life.

While there were preadamic peoples and animals, Adam was placed in the Garden of Eden ONLY about six thousand years ago. And from the body of Adam, Eve was created. Neither were born; neither had a fleshly mother or father—therefore it was impossible for them to have evolved from anything. The Bible is the book about their generations (offspring) [Gen 5:1] The other non-Adamic races were created prior to and separate from the placing of Adam in the Garden. end

A SEPARATED PEOPLE
by pastor Harold Stough

“I am the LORD your God, which have SEPARATED you from other people. And ye shall be holy unto me; for I the Lord am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine.”—Lev. 20:24,26.

“... the people shall dwell ALONE, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.” —Numbers 23:9

“... and the Lord hath CHOSEN thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, above all the nations that are upon the earth.”—Deut. 14:2.

“You ONLY have I known of all the families of the earth.” —Amos 3:2.

“Blessed be the Lord god of Israel; for he has visited and redeemed his people.” —Luke 1:68

“Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?” — Acts 1:6.

The above are but a few of the very many verses which could be cited, showing that God did predestine Israel (see Ephesians, chapter one) and as Paul also writes to Titus, “Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people zealous of good works.”—Titus 2:14.

Yet despite this, people reject the Chosen Servant People theme of the Bible—either outright or by substituting another recipient of God’s bounty. Do they realize what they are saying?

- That God made promises He couldn’t keep?
- That He changed His mind?

• That because Israel sinned He dropped the idea, despite His unconditional promise that they would be a nation before Him as long as the sun, moon and stars endure? (Jeremiah 31:36). These are the ones that in the same chapter He says He loves, “... with an everlasting love.’

The logical and inevitable conclusion one would have to reach from such a conclusion is that:

- God is not omnipotent.
- God is not omniscient.
- God is not omnipresent.
- God is not a God of truth.

But what Christian would openly say any of these things? None! But they are saying it nevertheless if they deny continuing Israel. “By Myself have I sworn,” said the Almighty when He made the everlasting covenants to the patriarchs.

THE GREAT TRANSFER

It seems that it was Augustine, in his City of God, who first gave out the teaching that the national covenants to Israel were transferred to the church, which would have pleased the Catholics. But it should not have been taken up by the Protestants, in their Reformation challenge. It certainly provided fuel for the free-thinkers, leading Charles Bradlaugh to draw the conclusion that God was not a God of truth, or honour either, to transfer the covenants to another, the church.

He apparently knew that the Jews were not the Israel of the Bible. The Jews of today know that they are not all Israel, as their chief spokesmen affirm. Historically this should not be a problem, for the origins of modern Jewry are largely known and accepted.

THE PROBLEM

The problem lies with Christian ministers, writers and Bible teachers who reject the authority of the Old Testament, or give it a limited acceptance, and start with the New Testament. But this cannot be understood without the Old Testament. The Gospels, with the story of Israel’s Redeemer, the Epistles written to Israelite communities, the Revelation, which is a companion volume to the book of Daniel, completing the story of the Times of the Gentiles, tell the story of Israel—the whole twelve-tribed nation, visited, redeemed and to be completely restored. In rejecting the Old Testament these so-called scholars are thus rejecting the New!

To get themselves out of this predicament they have to, in fact, give up, and find a new Israel. They do this by resorting to a few theological somersaults and thereby create a spiritual Israel to receive these promises. In doing so they create even more problems. Is the church a nation? Does it have a throne as David had? Does it proclaim God’s Law? Here’s the problem for they reject the Law, substituting grace and freedom from any legal restraint.

Christendom has been sadly let down by its champions. They affirm the Jews are all Israel, whereas some would doubt they are even of Judah, let alone all Israel. Or that the church is Israel and this involves the rejection of all God’s covenants, and therefore the God of the Covenants.

How much easier to take the simple but positive stand that the whole Bible is true, that God is truly omnipotent and will complete the fact of redemption through His servant nation Israel, found today in modern Celto-Saxondom. Amen.

WHY DO YOU QUOTE THAT ONE

Dr Bertrand L. Comparet

You have noticed that sometimes I point out to you some matter on which your King James Version of the Bible is not accurate, or I may quote a verse from another translation in not quite the same words you find when you look it up in your King James Version. Some of you probably wonder, "Why doesn't he just stick to the old King James Version with which we are all so familiar?" Here is the answer: I do this because you are entitled to be told THE EXACT TRUTH as to what the Word of God really says. No matter how old an error is, no matter how we have become accustomed to it or have grown to love it because of its familiarity, IT WON'T DO TO BE MISTAKEN ABOUT WHAT GOD REALLY SAID.

Am I attacking religion or the Bible by correcting errors in this way? Not at all. RELIGION IS THE SUPREME TRUTH, and only when we get man-made mistakes out of it can we have the purest religion. So what about the Bible? Well, let's start at the beginning.

As you know, the Bible was written many centuries before there was any such language as English. The Old Testament was originally written in the Hebrew language; and about 300 BC, a group of 70 scholars in the city of Alexandria translated it into Greek - and their translation is called the Septuagint (meaning "seventy") [#532 @ $55] The New Testament was originally written in the language which Jesus Christ spoke - Aramaic (a language closely related to Hebrew) - later translated into Greek. All Catholic versions of the Bible were translated from the Greek into Latin, by Jerome, whose translation was called the Vulgate; and from the Vulgate into English. Protestant Bibles are nearly all translated into English from Hebrew manuscripts of the Old Testament and Greek manuscripts of the New Testament. Thus, in these repeated translations, there were multiplied opportunities for errors to creep in.

I believe that the Bible, AS THE PROPHETS ORIGINALLY WROTE IT, IN HEBREW AND ARAMAIC, was truly the Word of God, inspired by Him, true and correct. So far as the translators have made a perfect and exact translation into English, without the slightest change, it is still the Word of God: but wherever the translators have changed it, it is no longer the Word of God but only the word of the translator or interpreter, and we cannot accept or rely upon it in those particular verses which were changed. We must get back to the exact words and meaning it had in the original.

The King James Version was published in the year 1611. At that time there were no ancient language scholars as well-trained as the best we have now, for they had relatively little of ancient writings to study. Again, King James expressly forbade them to make any but the most necessary changes in previous translations or "to make any innovations." In those days, heresy (which, in practice, was any disagreement with the religious hierarchy) was still punished by the most horrible torture and death [coming soon to a place near you, under the new Government religion hierarchy - run by sodomites and jews]; so the translators were not eager to dispute older translations. The best scholars today tell us that there are a great many mistakes in translation in the King James Version. By far the greater part of it is correct; and where it is correct, I quote from it, because it is so well known and loved for its majestically beautiful wording. But the errors must still be corrected. What sorts of errors are there?

First, those where they just didn't understand the meaning of the Hebrew or Greek word, and so used the wrong English word. The best scholars of today can find and correct these errors without any doubt.

But it is not all that simple. In nearly all languages, some words have more than one meaning; so which meaning do you take? For example, the English word "fast - F-A-S-T: what does it mean? First, it means "capable of moving very rapidly;" second, it means "stuck so firmly that you can't move at all;" third, to go without eating; fourth, as applied to colours, "not fading from sunlight or washing;" and fifth, in a slang sense, it means "of doubtful moral character." Which meaning will you give it when you translate it? Sometimes the general context will tell you; but not always. For example: "I asked the Captain 'Can you get your ship out of the harbour into the open sea within an hour?'" and he replied "My ship is fast." Did he mean "My ship is speedy, so I can do it"?' Or did he mean 'My ship is STUCK FAST AGROUND, so I can't move it at all'?' When you find a word of double meaning in the Bible, you must carefully compare EACH meaning the word has with everything the other prophets wrote on that same subject, and see which meaning is entirely consistent with all of God's message on that subject (see for example "The Misuse of the words

"all," "Every," and "Whosoever," by Arnold Kennedy, Newsl #208, July 2003 p6). Sometimes one translator gets it right, sometimes another; hence the need to compare many translations. Sometimes a certain sect has founded its principle doctrine on a definitely wrong translation; in such a case, I can only stick to the correct translation, no matter what someone's erroneous doctrines may be.

Another difficulty arises where the Hebrews or the Greeks used different words than we use in English to express the same idea. Each language has its own idioms. For example, if you heard a man say "I sure PAINTED THE TOWN RED, last night," you would know what he MEANT - but that's not what he SAID. Suppose you translated that, word for word, into German: can't you imagine some solemn German wondering why a man would spend the night slopping red paint on other people's houses? To translate the MEANING exactly, you would have to use other words; and probably ten different languages would have ten different ways to say it. These cases are the most difficult of all to translate, for you must truly get into the spirit of both languages - and no one translator can always do it. The one who translates one Hebrew phrase with brilliant accuracy will make a terrible botch of another; therefore, there is NO One perfect translation of the Bible. That is why I have in my library 11 different translations of the Old Testament and eighteen different translations of the New Testament. In all doubtful points I compare many, and choose the one which is clearest and most accurate.

For example, let's take Jeremiah 8:8 - in your King James, it reads, "How, then., do we say, We are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made He it; the pen of the scribes is in vain." If this means anything at all, it must mean that God made His law in vain - poor, weak God, He meant well, but He just wasn't able to make it stick. You know that Jeremiah never wrote anything that silly. What did he really write? Smith & Goodspeed, An American Translation, translates this, "How can you say, 'We are wise, and the Law of the Lord is with us? When, lo, the lying pen of the scribes has turned it into a lie!'" Moffatt translates it, "What! You say, 'We are wise, we do have His directions - when lo, your scribes have written them wrong and falsified them.'" Rotherham is the same. Truly, as God said through the prophet Isaiah (43:27), "Thine interpreters have transgressed against me."

Again, the meaning of some English words has changed greatly since the King James translation was made. For example, take Psalm 119:147, where the writer (probably Hezekiah) says, "I PREVENTED the dawning of the morning." You don't really believe that King Hezekiah didn't allow the sun to rise, do you? And he never said that was what he did. In the year 1611, the English word "prevent" meant "to anticipate" or "to come before it." Hezekiah merely said that he ANTICIPATED the morning would soon dawn; and that's what People who read the King James Version in 1611 understood it to mean. Today, "prevent" means "TO HINDER," "NOT TO ALLOW SOMETHING TO OCCUR." There are many other old English words which have changed meaning like this. Wherever such a word is used in the King James Version, it will mislead you. In such cases, I use one of the modern English translations: sometimes Moffatt, or Smith & Goodspeed, or Ferrar Fenton [#531 @ $49.95], or Rotherham, or Weymouth, or Panin, or Bagster's translation of the Septuagint, or Lamsa's translation from the Aramaic; or yet some other. Sometimes nothing but a literal translation of the Hebrew or Greek will give enough precision of expression.

So I am not disputing the Divine inspiration of the Bible: I am defending and upholding it. There is only one true Bible, and that is just exactly what God expressed in the languages in which it was first written. Wherever men have changed this, they are wrong, no matter how good their intentions may have been. We must go back to the real Bible, the true Word of God.

WHERE THERE IS NO VISION THE PEOPLE PERISH!

by pastor Ken Kemble

As we look at the many nations of Israel in the world today, we can easily become disheartened. Our culture is fast disappearing, and we are perishing as a people in the midst of our own lands. We are truly in a state of turmoil, and are slipping further and further into the mire of apostasy and decadence all the time.

"The Word of God says:- "Where [there is] no vision, the people perish." Proverbs 29:18.

We need men of vision today. men and women who have a passion for the way things ought to be and who tirelessly work toward that vision with determination and conviction—unwavering and undaunted—opposing all ideas and actions which would hinder us from achieving the goal. Enough of the wickedness! I am tired of right being wrong and wrong being right. It's high time we resolve to set things straight! And we can do it—with HIS help—one household at a time!

Let me share with you a few things which we feel are important goals that we should all be working toward in our homes, in our communities, and in our nation:-

OBEDIENCE

One goal that all of us should strive toward in obedience to God in every area of life—to keep His Law as best we can. Earlier, I quoted the Scripture which says: "Where [there is] no vision, the people perish." But I did not finish it—I quoted it the way most preachers quote it. Most preachers today quote this first portion of Proverbs 29:18 and then proceed to insert whatever program they happen to be pushing at the time, hoping to inspire their people to accomplish whatever their current program may entail. But there is more to this important verse than what is usually quoted. The full Prov. 29:18 reads:- "Where there is no vision, the people perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he."

[note that the GENEVA Bible quotes it as: "Where there is no vision the people decay; but he that keepeth the law is blessed." which I think is a better translation! CIM]

So then, the vision—without which we would decay or perish—is nothing less than God's people honouring, cherishing and keeping His commandments! Though there are many ministers who would tell us today that the Law of God has been done away with, we know better. Our Lord said:-

"Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach [them], the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 5:17-19.

The only portion of the Law that has been "nailed to the cross" is the Law containing the ordinances of the Levitical offerings and sacrifices (Ephesians 2:15; Colossians 2:14). In other words, we need not sacrifice lambs, or anything else, at a Temple anywhere—our Lord Jesus Christ was all of the sacrifices rolled into one when He was nailed to the cross. But the moral and civil law of God has never been (and never will be) nailed to the cross—it is eternal.

Let us not be numbered among those who are least in the Kingdom. Let us believe our Lord Jesus Christ, and keep His Law in every area of our lives! For "blessed [is] the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper." Psalm 1:1-3.

Let us strive toward obedience in everything that we do, and we will reap the rewards of a happy life, full of blessing and joy! Every child of God should seek after holiness. The Word of God tells us:-

"Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees; And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed. Follow peace with all [men], and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord: Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble [you], and thereby many be defiled; Lest there [be] any fornicator, or profane person, as esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright. For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.” Hebrews 12:12-17. And again He tells Israel: “He ye holy; for I am holy.” 1 Peter 1:16.

LOST TRIBES OF ISRAEL by Reader Harris, K.C. (1907)

Although an atheist in his early life, he became convinced of the truth of the Bible after hearing the Anglo-Israel message. This life-changing experience caused Reader Harris to leave his successful legal career to become a Methodist minister, valued Christian leader, and author of over 34 books. In 1891, he founded the Pentecostal League of Prayer, an interdenominational group, which, within a few years grew into the immense Pentecostal movement in Britain.

If there is one thing that we cannot hear too much preaching and teaching about, it is this subject of holiness. Now, it may be asked, ‘What is holiness?’ Holiness is not necessarily perfectness, because if it were, we would have failed miserably, and, quite frankly, we would never achieve it.

Holiness is simply “apartness.” [or apartheid, the state of being separated] God has set us apart and He expects us to stay separate from those things which He tells us in His Word to stay separate from. We are the Israel of God and there are certain activities, thoughts, foods and people that God does not want us to have anything to do with. It is up to us to know what those things are, and in order to do so we must study His Word. His Word is our guidebook by which we live.

Let each of us live holy lives before God! Because a holy life is a happy life, and well-pleasing unto God!

FAMILY ALTAR: Every home should have a family altar—a place where the whole family can go to the Lord in prayer each day; a place of meditation and quiet reflection. It may not be an actual, physical altar [like some heathen have - with or without candles] - but do you have a time of family prayer? A time of daily Bible study? A time of Christian instruction in the home? Prayer and Bible Study should be heard in every home on a daily basis.

Deuteronomy 11:18-22 says:- “Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes. And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way (today you could say, while driving), when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. And thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thine house, and upon thy gates: That your days may be multiplied, and the of your children, in the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give them, as the days of heaven upon the earth.”

This passage makes it clear that God and His Word are to be a part of our everyday lives. In my personal life, there is not a day that goes by that we do not have a time of prayer and Bible Study in our home. I do not say this boastfully, but humbly and with thanksgiving to God. It is the sweetest part of our home life each day—our anchor, our compass, the one thing that never changes. If you do not have family Bible Study each and every day you are missing a tremendous blessing.

My Grandmother was one of eight children. She was a school teacher. She once wrote about what life in her home was like when she was a girl in the 1920’s. Writing in the third person narrative, he wrote what the giant Oak tree in their yard might have said if trees could talk:-

“Each night I hear, coming from the window of the front room in the house, words such as these: “Ask, and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you—Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon this earth—Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren [that’s our kinsmen- not other races! CIM], ye have done it unto me—Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things will be added unto you—What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul—Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them—Thy Word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against Thee—Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My Words shall not pass away—God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life” and “Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me.” It is the man reading from a wonderful book. I see all those at home each night on their knees, and I hear the man asking you, “Great Planter,” for guidance in his family and for the world in which they live.”

My Grandmother and her brothers and sisters were some of the finest Christians I ever had the pleasure to meet. Their lives were shaped by God’s Holy Word. I praise God for such a heritage. It should be this way in every home! In our wanderings in the wilderness, the Tabernacle was always situated in the center of the camp, showing us that it is God’s design that He be the center of our lives, both personally and nationally. He does not want to be an afterthought. He does not want to be second place. He wants everything in our lives to revolve around Him. Does your life revolve around God and His Holy Word? It should!

In the days and months ahead, let us all determine that we are going to give God first place in our homes. For the house—and home—that is built upon the Rock will be filled with peace, joy and happiness—and it will never fall!

IS WHITE SUPREMACY SCRIPTURAL?

by pastor mark Downey

It is curious as to how this expression “White Supremacy” has become such a bugaboo, how it invokes images of some sort of exaggerated cult and how the average citizen reacts to the utterance of this phrase. We know the enemy perverts language and is the author of confusion, therefore it would behoove us to research words that are so loosely bandied about that are causing us so much trouble.

From my original 1847 Webster’s Dictionary, the definitions of the following words: Supremacy - state of being supreme or in the highest station of power; highest authority or power; as the supremacy of the king of Great Britain; or the supremacy of parliament. Supreme - highest in authority; holding the highest place in government or power. Superior - [from super, above] 1. higher, upper, more elevated in place. 2. higher in rank or office; more exalted in dignity. 3. higher or greater in excellence, surpassing others in greatness, goodness or value of any quality; as a man of superior merit, bravery, talents, understanding, accomplishments. 4. being beyond the power or influence of, too great or firm to be subdued or affected by. The word supremacist was not in the 1847. From Webster’s 7th New Collegiate Dictionary 1972 the definitions of the following words: Supremacist - an advocate or adherent of group supremacy [a white ~]. Supremacy - the quality or state of being supreme; the position of being first (as in rank, power or influence), implies superiority over all others; the idea of dominion over one another. 1. Superior - 1. situated higher up; 2. rank, quality, importance; 3. courageously or serenely indifferent (as to something painful, disheartening or demoralizing); 4. greater in quantity or numbers, excellent of its kind; better. 2. Superior - 1. one who is above another in rank, station, or office, esp. the head of a religious house or order; 2. one that surpasses another in quality or merit.

Now let us direct our attention to the Bible that indicates an interesting parallel with the preceding dictionary definitions, without having to resort to twisting or doing violence to Scripture. There is an overabundance of verses that declare God has a chosen people. Psalms 33:12 Blessed is the nation ... and the people whom He hath chosen for His own. John 15:19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his own ... but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you. Also Psalms 105:43; 106:5; Mark 13:20; Acts 13:17; Deut 10:15; 14:2. Additionally, the election of God points to divine specifications:

1 Peter 1:1-2 to the strangers (Israelites) scattered ... the elect according to the foreknowledge of God. Romans 9:11 For the children (of Israel) being not yet born, not having done anything good or evil, that the purpose of God according to the election might stand. If this isn't enough prejudice, God further elevates His Chosen to be above (remember the definition of superior?) other people. Deuteronomy 7:6 For thou art an holy people unto the Lord thy God, the Lord thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, ABOVE all people that are upon the face of the earth. Exodus 19:5 ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me, above all people. Also Deut 7:14; 14:2; 26:19; 28:1,13; 2 Sam 22:48-49; Psalms 45:7; Micah 4:1; Isaiah 2:2. So what happens to the non-Israelites? Psalms 47:3 He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet. This is beginning to sound like God is a racist!

Nothing has raised man to peaks of creativity or lowered him to depths of destruction than the dual notion of racial similarity and differences. Both have biological overtones for the individual and groups of individuals. It is the inevitable characteristics of one group that differentiates from another. Whether you like it or not, this is the reality of race in a nutshell. Race goes far beyond the color of skin. The concept of race encompasses so many facets and fictions, love and hate, reason and unreason that is more easily sensed than understood. Webster's definition of racism is "a belief that race is the primary determinant of human traits and capacities and that racial differences produce an inherent superiority of a particular race." Belief implies assent to expressing the idea or purring the belief into action, in politics, religion, art, business, community, home, etc. The racism of a racial group will change from a static to a dynamic character when it becomes the victim of oppression and the peaceful security of the society is at risk. This is a natural confrontation in nature, an instinct for survival. Ironically, anti-racism feeds its own agenda in the reverse by practising racism vicariously by adopting the cause of every race but their own. Racism is a form of group morale, providing a protective psychic shell for the most defenseless and defensive peoples, and a responsibility for an aggressive fighting spirit. The race is an extension of the family and death comes easier to those who believe they are dying for their own kind. Racism may be the most compelling force or factor in the rise and fall of civilizations. Consider the distortions of history which avoid racism altogether or glibly treat it as a disease rather than as a basic element of our God-given genetic memory. Our enemies would have us forget who and what we are and erase the past. COULD IT BE THAT THEY HAVE CORRECTLY CALLED US WHITE SUPREMACIST AND HAVE GOTTEN US TO REJECT THIS TRUTH ABOUT OURSELVES?

Use of the phrase "White Supremacist" became popularized in the 1960's referring to opponents of the civil rights movement and desegregation. The defamation liberals employ at all costs to insure their own superiority is to silence and confuse any ideas about White people being the true Israelites of the Bible. To the point of getting us into denial and a guilt complex similar to the clever Jewish psychology of 'holocaust' hysteria and the repercussions of challenging their allegations. They go berserk when the White man lives above their (man made) laws, obeying God's Laws, because the kingdom of Heaven is here and now and Christ is our Sovereign, and we are willing to die for the cause of Christ. They will associate White Supremacist with criminal activity or mental illness. The mark of White Supremacist isn't false pride, it is virtue, and does not encompass the whole of Christendom, but rather a radical remnant that probably wouldn't call themselves White Supremacist inasmuch that they have a humble spirit and live modest lives. These are the 'salt of the earth' that race-mixers ridicule and malign.

Christ died for His people, His sheep, His race - not for the non-elect. Otherwise everyone would be saved and we know that is simply contrary to Scripture. You see, God has made the good guys and the bad guys for His plan and purposes whether it meets with your approval or not. Jesus told His disciples to stay away from the heathen and to go only to Israelites (Matthew 10:5-6). The good news is that the White race is the lost sheep of the House of Israel for which Christ came, not the Jews, not the pseudo-church and certainly not just anybody of any race that merely believes. We Whites are the recipients of the Old and New Covenant and those who would spiritualize Israel away make God a liar. The prophecies given to a physical seedline become null and void.

If the Bible is addressed to Israel only (and it is), then when the word 'every' or 'all' is used, it means every or all Israelites. All are one in Christ means all Israelites Only.

His sheep hear His voice. How do the sheep demonstrate supremacy? We rise above un-Christian behaviour, we live as Christ our example and we walk in His steps. Christ was the epitome of a White Supremacist being the Chief Shepherd showing us the way. Why would a White Supremacist insist upon being above? Because it is the believer's union with Christ now and hereafter. It says in Colossians 3:1 if ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sits on the right hand of God, verses 9-10, put off the old man ... put on the new man, whereby we are renewed in knowledge. vs 11 where there is nothing among various Israelites, but Christ (the whole) is all, and in all (in all races?) ... the context is v 12, put on therefore, as the elect of God... the following virtues of Christian Israelites. Can anybody be the elect? Isaiah 45:4 says, "Israel mine elect" same as Deuteronomy 7:6 and 1 Peter 1:1-2 called the scattered strangers 'the elect.' White Supremacists are highly principled by heavenly design, impervious to brainwashing, having the full armour of God to resist spiritual wickedness in high places. These satans in the beast governments have declared war against White Supremacists because the light of the world is so opposite and contrary to their dark philosophies and laws. These shall make war with the Lamb (Rev. 17:14) and the Lamb (Christ) shall overcome them. ... with His called, chosen and faithful. White Supremacists are superior if they practice the righteousness of Christ (Zeph 3:13, 19). Is not a truth teller superior to a liar? [when courts decide that 'truth is no defense' then lies and liars prevail, CIM] The Ferrar Fenton Bible puts it this way in Haggai 2:7 the Desired (i.e. Christ and Christian White Supremacists) of all nations (of all Israelite nations) will come and fill this house with splendour (elevated excellence) v. 13-14 when a defiled person (a non-white supremacist, spiritually or physically dead, an alien or heathen) touches anything consecrated (the holy thing being separated from the profane), it becomes defiled, v 22-23. God will destroy the inferior defiled heathen because He has chosen the purity of our race (Matthew 5:8; Titus 1:15). We need to understand the words man/mankind, people, neighbour, brothers/brethren, nation(s), gentile and stranger(s). The words human, humanity, humanism and humanitarian are not in the Bible. The word hue means color, therefore hue-man means a coloured entity. It is interesting to note that white is not part of the rainbow or natural spectrum. The Adamic race was a special creation. The other races were pre-Adamic. The special relationship of God and mankind is within the family of Adam, not all of humanity or the various non-Adamic races.

What would Christianity be without the White race? The White Supremacists are the standard-bearers of Christianity. Jeremiah 51:12 says, "set up the standard upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set up the watchmen, prepare the ambushes." The remnant (White Supremacists) of Israelite Christians always awake under captivity before others, because we are the called out ones of God. It is satan, in a national sense, or wicked government that the remnant actively tries to withdraw from. Those withdrawing are called separatists, racists, bigots or White Supremacists. Could it be that we are above them because they keep lowering the standards of everything? False prophets say that if you don't believe Christ loves all people you're a racist. Yet Christ said, "bring mine enemies before me and slay them" (Luke 19:27). Don't think He came to send peace on earth. He came to deliver a sword and division (Matthew 10:34, Luke 12:51). Evangelism fails if it only saves to send people to a pie in the sky heaven or barbecue pit of hell. What about saving our race and nation? At one time 'Christian' was synonymous with the White race; but it has become a racially homogenized religion with every sort of perverted denomination (a nice word for cult) imaginable. Why do we have to respect and tolerate other so-called religions? The first amendment to the Constitution [Austr. section 115, CIM] deals only from a Christian perspective. It will not work otherwise. The diatribe against White Supremacists is used to circumvent our birthright destiny. You'll see in Micah 3:1-3 that the racial melting pot is like a horrid cannibal's stew. The melting pot people would eliminate any and all standards that would identify the tribes of Israel. They are out to destroy all of White civilization and culture. We are reviled and despised because we have the Lord within us to execute His Laws. No other race has this assignment. The order of the New World Order is self explanatory: 'they' are ordering us to bow down to their rule, law and authority.

Are we going to rise to the occasion, because our national house has fallen to the depths of the present Babylonian cesspool? Are we going to rise up and come out of our captivity? Chapter eleven of Romans speaks of us (Israel) being down but not forgotten, vs 2. God has not cast away His people and God reassured Elijah that he was not alone- v4-5. Could it be that we have a parallel remnant of Israelites today, a special election of White Supremacists who deny the image of Baal? We know that the majority of Israelites are blind because of the riches of the world. Don't you have to be colour blind these days to be politically correct? But Paul speaks exclusively of them, v.14, which are my flesh or racial kindred. Verses 16-24 talks about an olive tree and cutting (with a sword perhaps!) and grafting branches. This olive tree is a symbolic of Israel. Verse 16 "if the firstfruits be holy, the crop is also; if the root is holy, the branches are also". Some branches were cut off for unbelief and a wild branch (the lost tribes) were grafted in; the root accepts the wild one through the branch's faith. It is not the branch that accepts the root for life. God's pruning of the olive tree maintains the Life of the tree for His purposes. The lesson here is that you cannot graft on an apple branch to an olive tree any more than you can say that the other races pertain to God's special election of Israel. Romans 11:29 For the gifts and calling of God are without change (it's irrevocable). v. 32 that He might have mercy on all (the context is v.26 all Israel - not all races!).

Finally, what is revealed to us about race in the 'end times'? Jesus likened it to the days of Noah and Lot (Luke 17:26-30). The dominant sin of that day was the promiscuous interracial marriages bringing with it strange gods and lawlessness. Compared with Noah's flood we can witness the rising tide of colour in our midst today. We are flooded with multi-cultural diversity, ethnic pluralism, rainbow coalitions and a multitude of parasites on a host nation that has been spiritually lobotomized. What is our flood? The serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood (Revelation 12:15). The great whore of Mystery Babylon sits upon many waters, which is to say many races, multitudes, nations and tongues (Rev. 17:1,15). When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him (Isaiah 59:19) What is our standard? That ole Adamic supremacist Noah had an ark to save his racially pure family. What is our ark to save us from

YOU ARE THE ARM OF THE LORD

Psalms 44:1-8 -- by pastor Robert T. Woodworth

The Bible speaks of "the arm of the Lord," the arm of God, His hands and His feet. Some time ago I dealt with the passages which refer to the right arm of God, as being fulfilled in the coming of Christ.

Obviously, God, Who is Spirit, has no arms and hands as we do. We should not think of God as a superhuman, a kind of heavenly Father in the sky with human attributes in spite of all the metaphors which are used to describe the Almighty. While we are made in the image of God, He is not to be made in our image with human limitations and frailties.

First let us examine some of these Bible passages which refer to the arm of God or His hands and feet. Start with Isaiah 30:30, "The Lord will cause His glorious voice to be heard, and show the descent of His arm" (NKJV).

In Isaiah 33:2, "O Lord, be gracious to us; We have waited for You. Be our arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble." Isaiah 40:10, "Behold, the Lord God shall come with a strong hand, and His arm shall rule for Him." Isaiah 48:12-14, "Listen to Me, O Jacob, and Israel, My called: I am He, I am the First, I also am the Last. Indeed My hand has laid the foundation of the earth, and My right hand has stretched out the heavens; when I call to them, they stand up together. All of you assemble yourselves and hear! Who among them has declared these things? The Lord loves him; He shall do His pleasure on Babylon, and His arm shall be against the Chaldeans." Isaiah 51:5, "My righteousness is near; My salvation has gone forth, and My arms will judge the people. The coastlands will wait upon Me, and on My arm they will trust." Down to vs 9, "Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord!" Isaiah 52:7, "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him who brings good news, who proclaims peace, who brings good tidings of good things, who proclaims salvation, who said to Zion, Your God reigns!" Paul cites this in Romans 10:15, referring to John the Baptist and all who proclaim the Gospel of Christ.

Isaiah 52:10, "The Lord has made bare His holy arm in the eyes of all nations." Isaiah 53:1, "Who has believed our report? And to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?"

Now all these may refer to what Christ did or does for us, but look at Isaiah 63:11-12, "Then he remembered the days of old, Moses and his people, saying: 'Where is He who brought them up out of the sea, with the shepherd of His flock? Where is He who put His Holy Spirit within them, who led them by the right hand of Moses, with his glorious arm'..."

When God does something through Christ, His arm is symbolic, not literal. His arm implies human intervention. God has no arms literally, only figuratively. When Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, the Israelites passed over the Red Sea unharmed. (Ex. 14:21-26). Then in his song of victory, Moses sings, "Your right hand, O Lord, has dashed the enemy in pieces." (Ex. 15:6).

When God uses His right hand, He uses His people, their hands, and arms and feet and voices. God has no right hand literally, but you do. He has no right arm, but what is attributed to His right arm is really the function and accomplishment of Christ, His Son.

Today, Christ is not a Man on earth, but at the right hand of the Father in heaven. Therefore we are to be the right hand and right arm of God to do His work in the world today. We are the body of Christ.

Leaving the Prophet Isaiah, turn to the Psalms for more references to God's arms and hands. Ps. 44:3, "For they (Israel) did not gain possession of the land by their own sword, nor did their own arm save them, but it was Your right hand, Your arm and the light of Your countenance, because You favoured them." God saved Israel by the hand of Moses, but it was God's own power and strength that enabled Moses to do it. Israel did not gain possession of the Promised Land by the hand of Joshua, but God used Joshua's hand to gain it for Him and them. God could have wiped out Canaan of all its pagan people, and given Joshua and Israel a clean country to occupy, but He didn't. He called on Israelites to use their own hands and arms to defeat their enemies and occupy the land.

We know this is true because Moses recorded it in Deut 4:34, "Or did God ever try to go and take for Himself a nation from the midst of another nation, by trials, by signs, by wonders, by war, by a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, and by great terrors, according to all that the Lord your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes?" No, God used Moses, his arm, his hands, and the valiant in Israel, their arms and hands.

Beginning with Moses and the deliverance of Israel from Egyptian bondage to the freedom of the Promised Land, God has used human hands and arms to deliver His people from the hands and arms of their enemies. We are God's arms in the world today.

In the New Testament there are many references to Christians as being the body of Christ. The Church is His body. 1 Cor. 12:27 says: "Now you are the body of Christ, and members individually."

The end of Eph. 1:22-23 explains our position in this body of Christ: "And He (God) put all things under His (Christ's) feet, and gave Him (Christ) to be head over all things to the church (us), which is His (Christ's) body, the fullness of Him (holy spirit) who fills all in all."

In Col. 1:24 Paul tells us of the need of suffering, "for the sake of His body, which is the church."

When the Bible speaks of the arm of God, it describes the means by which God moves and acts in nature and nations. God has no arms but yours and mine, and He wants to use us to do His will on earth.

Does God need us? No, of course not! He can save the world and everything in it by Himself, but He deigns to reach down and give us divine strength to do His divine will. That is why Jesus taught us to pray, "Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven." If God wanted do it all by Himself, why would He ask us to pray about it?

Is God's will for the earth going to fail because, and if, we do not comply and do His work on earth? No, absolutely not. God is not dependent on us. We are dependent on Him. When we do not do God's work on earth, we are the ones who suffer and lose and fail, not God.

If we do not reach Israel with the gospel, will millions die without salvation because of our failure? To say yes, is to say that God is not omnipotent, but dependent on men to save the world.

Look at it this way. When God allowed His only begotten Son to die on the cross, was it because Peter was not able to save Jesus from the servants of the High Priest or the soldiers of Rome? No, Jesus had to tell Peter to put away his sword. He could have called ten thousand angels, but He didn't. He could have called out for the rocks to save Him, but He didn't.

There is nothing you, nor anyone nor anything (nor any 'satan') can do to thwart God's will nor hurry it, to supplant it or stop it. God is able to do all things by Himself, but He chooses to reach down and ask us [Israel] to be His arm and His hands, and His voice and His feet as members of the body of Christ. How beautiful on the mountains, or among the nations are the feet of those who bear the good news of peace! It is not the feet that are beautiful literally, but the feat of obedience and service to God as His body doing His will. How beautiful or wonderful it is to be called of God to be part of His body to do His will and act as His arm!

But on the other hand, how awful it would be to be part of the body of Christ, but not available to Him when He needed you. Have you ever had a hand that did not work, an arm that was crippled, a leg lame, or a voice raspy or silent? How does it feel when members of His body are not functioning in the purpose for which they were created?

We are God's arm. Is God crippled because of us? If we do not do the work He has called us to do, who will? Who will get the credit? Who will get the blame? Too far fetched? Jesus told a parable about a man who had two sons who were given tasks to do. One said "Yes" but did not go; the other said "No" but later repented and went. Which one, Jesus asked, did the will of his father?

If God calls you to do something for Him, do it. He could get someone else, but He called you. He could do it Himself without your help, but He didn't. Are we obedient children or lame alibis? Where is our reward if we are not faithful servants?

Let us, as the arms and hands and feet of the Lord, be diligent in carrying out our defined tasks faithfully as fully functioning parts of the body of Christ.

It was enlightening to read the editorial in SALTSHAKERS - written by Peter Stokes.

In our article 'A Time to Fight, Command and Guard' in our February Journal, Peter wrote "Christians used to sing 'Onward Christian Soldiers' but today it seems to have become 'Onward Christian PACIFIST'!"

Little did we know that within a few months those words would become a reality. In the April edition of Crosslight, the Victorian Uniting Church newspaper [know anybody that goes to the Uniting Church? you might want to wise them up about this! CIM], we were concerned to see the title of a new "song," 'Onward with non-violence,' to be sung to the tune of none other than "Onward Christian Soldiers."

The first verse is,

*"We can be inclusive, of each faith and race;
no discrimination, each can have their place;
We can call for justice; we can march for peace;
demonstrate for captives, call for their release."*

The chorus us:

*"Peace from justice through non-violence,
This is where we stand;
Freedom from oppression, This is our demand."*

What does "Inclusive of each faith and race" really mean? It seems to us this is now an appeasing multi-faith [New World Order, CIM] anthem, not an evangelical hymn to the God (of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob) who said, "Thou shalt have NO OTHER GOD but me." (Ex 20).

Can we pray and worship with those who worship false gods? Psalm 1, particularly verses 1 and 2, are very important here: "Blessed is the man who does not walk in the counsel of the wicked or stand in the way of sinners or sit in the seat of the mockers. But his delight is in the law of the LORD, and on His Law he meditates day and night."

This clearly relates to us NOT getting involved with the wrong people or simply 'hanging out' with those whose religion, ideas or lifestyle are wrong! Despite what is so often said today, that 'Jesus hung out with sinners,' Jesus did not simply hang out, go partying or 'fellowship' with people of false religions (although many seem to prefer them to fellowshiping with those of like faith), drunkards, homosexuals or prostitutes. He went to them with a singular purpose, to change their lives - to turn them back to God.

We received another appalling example of Christians selling out to 'other religions' and therefore false gods during April. A 'news brief' from ekklesia.co.uk heralded 'Pluralism Sunday,' taking place at the end of May "to celebrate religious diversity." It announced "an initiative by Christians to dedicate their worship to a celebration of religious diversity"!

Celebrating other religions? What a complete contradiction of not only the first commandment but the whole of Scripture.

Yes, as stated in our last Editorial, we must go outside our churches and engage people. BUT to evangelize people, not to worship their gods or even to worship with them, and we must never condone their false religions. [listen to Sheldon Emry, Should A Christian Worship With Non-Christians? #A-7601 @ $5ppd] At Easter we remembered that Christ conquered sin and death; He died to set His people free. This is the message we must give to all people - our rally cry must remain....

"Onward, Christian soldiers, marching was to war;

With the cross of Jesus going on before.

Christ, the royal Master, leads against the foe;

Forward into battle see His banners go!

"Onward then, ye people, join our happy throng;

Blend with ours your voices in the triumph song.

Glory, laud and honour, unto Christ the King.

This through countless ages, men and angels sing.

Onward, Christian soldiers, marching as to war.

With the cross of Jesus going on before."

"FAMILY" RULED AS HATE SPEECH

You may want to take a permanent marker and black out "family," "traditional values," and "family values" in your inter-office notices: They could be construed as hate speech. So said the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in a recent decision.

In response to a notice regarding the start of a homosexual employee association in a city office, two women posted a memo announcing the formation of a different group. The memo said, "Good News Employer Associations is a forum for people of faith to express their views on the contemporary issues of the day with respect for the natural family, marriage and family values."

Their manager demanded the notice be taken down because of "statements of a homophobic nature." The two women sued, believing their First Amendment rights had been violated. The court ruled in favor of their supervisor (Cybercast News Service, March 14).

Christian rights groups are up in arms, and for good reason. The court's ruling basically excluded a group advocating marriage and traditional values from First Amendment rights in a government workplace. The ruling stated public employers could regulate employee speech if their "administrative interest" was more important than the free speech of employees. And apparently, anything that competes with homosexuality does irrevocable harm to the workplace.

The pro-homosexual posts received no repercussions whatsoever from the case. The court banned a pro-family notice and allowed a pro-homosexual one to remain. The two women's post made no mention of homosexuals at all, but merely promoted "family values." Is that an equal-minded judgment?

Wrong judgment is a hallmark of our society today. Free speech applies to a select few promoting their own set of values. The homosexual agenda (see LOAN videos CI-204 and CI-218 @ $5 each loan) is overshadowing the constitutional right to free speech. And at least two courts uphold that belief.

SHARIA LAW FOR BRITISH SCHOOLS?

A new publication on British education released by the Muslim Council of Britain reveals a push for Islamic law to be imposed in the British school system.

Reporting for the Washington Times, Diana West stated, "At the crux of the Muslim council's document is a call for special treatment for Britain's Muslim students that is so special as to reorient the entire British system according to Islamic law" (February 23).

Based on the fact that a British poll found that religion "appears to be more important" to Muslim youth than those of other heritage, the report infers that Muslim religious requirements are also more important than those of other religions. Hence, the report proposes that a huge range of Islamic practices be incorporated into the British school system including: wearing of the hijab, the growing of beards, halal meals (including special staff training, food preparation and storage), prayer rooms for Muslim children, special washing facilities to perform Wudu, participation in Ramadan (including the rescheduling of certain school events to avoid clashes), Arabic classes, Koran recitation—and so on. "The Muslim council isn't asking the British taxpayer to create the perfect Sharia state exactly," writes West, "but rather the perfect Sharia state school system."

Of course, this is just the latest—or rather audacious—move in Islam's assault on the West. The two-pronged approach—overtly through violence, and more subtly through a cultural offensive—seeks the Islamification of Western society. Islam expert Bernard Lewis once explained this phenomenon: "In the classical Islamic view, to which many Muslims are beginning to return, the world and all mankind are divided into two: the House of Islam, where the Muslim law and faith prevail, and the rest, known as the House of Unbelief or the House of War, which it is the duty of Muslims ultimately to bring to Islam" (Atlantic Monthly, Sept. 1990).

When seen in this context, the Muslim council's latest attempt to change school policy in Britain is far from a simple request for religious freedom.

FOLLOW ZIMBABWE'S BAD EXAMPLE

Following in the footsteps of Zimbabwe's Robert Mugabe, the South African government has started to expropriate white-owned land for redistribution to blacks. The first of these enforced seizures was carried out in February.

For some years, under South Africa's "land reform" policy, white-owned farms have steadily been taken over on a "willing buyer, willing seller" principle. During this time, immense pressure has been placed on farmers, with squatters illegally occupying white owned farms and government security doing nothing about it. Last year, the South African government went one step further by giving white farmers an ultimatum: Sell their farms for an agreed price within six months or face being forcefully evicted from their farms.

Now, the government is making good on that threat. In its first expropriation of privately-owned land, the government seized a 62,271-acre farm in Barkly West owned by the Evangelical Lutheran Church on February 13.

This same type of land redistribution was a primary cause of Zimbabwe's economic ruin. Zimbabwe suffers from uncontrollable inflation rates and unemployment hovering around 70 percent. It is believed that South Africa may follow in the unsuccessful footsteps of its northern neighbour. Making whites turn over their farms to people with, in many cases, little or no farm experience could greatly hurt the economy. South Africa, which has been so richly blessed in natural resources, may find itself trying to live off fallow ground. (Nobody should give any aid to any African country run by Blacks, CIM).

11.2 I have read Dear Abbey's column where she said in past centuries in Europe the Christians called the Jews "Christ-killers." She said this was wrong and "anti-semitic." Our Sunday School teacher says the Jews did not crucify Jesus, but that Pilate and the Roman soldiers did. Who is right, the European Christians of several centuries ago, or Abbey and our Sunday School teacher? Who crucified Jesus?

This has been a bone of contention between Jews and some Christians for over 1900 years. "Dear Abbey" is Jewish, so she can hardly be blamed for giving the standard Jewish answer. However, teachers in Christian churches should get their answer from the Bible.

in the parable of the householder in Matthew 21, Jesus told of someone who said, "This is the heir, come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance." It is quite easy to identify Jesus as the heir in the parable, and then in verse 45 it is revealed that the ones who would say, "Come, let us kill him," were the Jewish Pharisees. So before His death, Jesus identified His murderers as the Jewish Pharisees.

Also, in Acts 5 verses 24 through 30 we find the Jewish Priests commanding Peter and the Christians not to preach in Jesus' Name, and in Peter's answer to the Jewish Priests he says in verse 30: "The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree." This is a direct accusation that the Jewish priests did the actual crucifying of Jesus.

This entire question is answered in great detail in our 30-page booklet, Who Killed Christ? (#108 @ $5.65) Everyone should read this booklet. Using a score or more Bible passages from both the Old and New Testaments, we prove the Jewish priests and their own band of soldiers crucified Jesus, and that the Romans have been accused of this in order to hide the real truth of the Jews' guilt in this greatest of all crimes.

11.3 Where are the two Latin words AMER and RICA written in the Bible? I have heard you say that AMERICA means "Heaven's Kingdom."

First, those words are not in Latin, but are from the ancient Gothic. Like other words, they are spelled differently over the centuries and in other languages.

Anyone who speaks German will tell you that "himmel" means heaven, and "reich" means kingdom. Anglicized German is often missing the first "h," and the "i" and "r" are often interchanged. (The Japanese do that, too, which leads to speculation on the origin of the Japanese people).

Anyway, "himmel" becomes "immel," "amel," or "amero." "Rica" is more Latin, but still means the same as "reich." Those familiar with European languages can verify this.

It has been in God's purpose that although this continent was given many other names by the early European explorers and map makers, all other names have fallen into disuse, and all the world knows our land by a name meaning "Heaven's Kingdom."

12.2 What is the meaning of the word "adultery"?

Adultery usually means marital unfaithfulness. Special reference is made to Israel's unfaithfulness to her husband, Yahweh.

The word itself, from both Old Testament Hebrew and New Testament Greek, carries the connotation of contamination or to make impure by adding something that is improper, as can be seen in its sister-word "adulterate." Adultery is not confined to the traditional idea of sexual sin. In effect, any notable act or attitude which would damage the purity of the marital bond could actually be an adulteration. Matthew 5:28, [But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart]. This is not trying to describe some "spiritual sin" which is commensurate to the physical act. Rather, it is plainly stating that the bond of love in one's heart is weakened or "adulterated" by allowing lust to enter. As the adulteration in the heart grows thus weakening that bond, it can then easily manifest itself in an outward act of adultery.

This process is exemplified in Israel's history. She covenanted with Yahweh in Marriage, and promised to be a faithful wife, Exodus 19:3-8 [And Moses went up unto God, and the Lord called unto him out of the mountain saying, thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel; Ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself. Now therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a peculiar treasure unto me above all people ... and all the people answered together and said, All that the Lord hath spoken we will do.]

The institute of marriage is described as bringing two separate people (or entities) into the bond of "oneness" (Genesis 2:24. [Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh]). This oneness is sanctified and pure unless we defile it by contamination through lust to action. Alienation of heart precipitates complete alienation of the person. Israel began lusting after other husbands (gods), and soon found that this adultery had alienated her from her national God, Yahweh. Jeremiah 3:9, [and it came to pass through the lightness of her (Israel's) whoredom, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks (trees). Ezekiel 23:37, [They (Israel) have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols they have committed adultery...]

When one's love for their mate becomes defiled and weakened to the point of unconcern, usually some outward act of infidelity follows in its path. To separate from your mate, breaking the union, would also come under the title of adultery. Matthew 5:32, [Whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery]. This adulterating, or defiling of the "one flesh" union has a weakening effect. When such an act has been committed, one cannot erase it as though it never happened, although we can repent and be forgiven. One must discontinue this adulterous way and [sin no more] John 8:11, this is symbolic of Israel's adultery too.

Coveting your neighbour's wife could be considered "adultery in your heart." This is covered in the 10th Commandment, which overlaps many of the other commandments.

This however does not negate the primary meaning of the Seventh Commandment, this being the pollution of the race through inter-racial marriage - the admixture of something that does not belong.

Hi again and hasn't this month flown by? We will be visiting Brisbane again twice later this year, God willing, having to go down in July and again in September. So some upcoming Messengers may get a little short because of lack of time. Please note that there have been some changes to some DVD programming from what was arranged on some videos. We hope to correct this in the next catalog. Where possible (not in every case), recordings transferred to DVD have been improved, and are more watchable than in the past on VHS. We still have quite a number of VHS tapes available at 6 tapes for $10 posted if any wish to avail themselves of these. Deborah has made up the new CIM introduction shown on some videos, and also the website - . And a good job too!

We continue to appreciate your ongoing letters, orders, prayers and support. All are very much needed. We thank you for your faithfulness. Material on back order will be supplied ASAP - some is still on the water - although I have heard that America will be discontinuing surface mail. If that happens, I'm sure costs will rise considerably. May our God bless you and keep you safe in His care,
