"Blessed be the LORD God of Israel; For He hath visited and redeemed His people, And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began; That we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our lives." "WEATHER CONTROL"

by Dan Robson

Recently, our minister gave a sermon based on Elijah's great victory over the prophets of Baal, but as a personal aside, mentioned that he did not consider God responsible for the drought. For me, this took a lot of the sting out of whatever followed, so I pondered the question in my mind. 1 Kings 17:1, begins the story of Elijah,

"And Elijah the Tishbite, who was of the inhabitants of Gilead, said unto Ahab, As the LORD God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word."

Perhaps Ahab thought as our minister did, that God would not be responsible for the drought, but St. James disagrees with them both. James 5:17-18,

"Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months. And he prayed again and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit."

So according to James, God responded to a prayer by shutting up the heavens thereby providing no rain. It would seem to me that God controls the rain and other weather elements like, fire, snow, ice, dew, hail, wind and dust. But what does the Bible say? Matthew 8:24-27 states,

"And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch as the ship was covered with the waves: but He was asleep. And His disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us; we perish. And He said unto them. O why are ye fearful, ye of little faith? Then He arose and rebuked the wind and the sea and there was a great calm. But the men marvelled, saying, what manner of man is this that even the winds and the sea obey Him!"

Confirmation is found in Psalm 89:9, "Thou rulest the raging of the sea; when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them." Apart from the resurrection of Jesus and others like Lazarus, this is perhaps His greatest miracle demonstrating His Godly authority. All the gospel writers found this to be important, for each of them deals with this event and some, like Mark, includes the story of Jesus walking on the sea.

Solomon, the world's wisest man, believed that God could cause droughts. In his dedication prayer of the temple, he says: 2 Chron 6:26-27,

"WHEN THE HEAVEN IS SHUT UP, AND THERE IS NO RAIN, BECAUSE THEY HAVE SINNED AGAINST THEE; yet if they pray toward this place, and confess thy name, AND TURN FROM THEIR SIN, when thou dost afflict them: Then hear thou from heaven and forgive the sin of thy servants, and of thy people Israel, when thou hast taught them the good way, wherein they should walk; AND SEND RAIN UPON THY LAND, which thou hast given unto THY people for an inheritance."

Also, in the first paragraph we mentioned, "fire." 2 Chron. 7:1,

"Now when Solomon had made an end of praying, THE FIRE CAME DOWN FROM HEAVEN, and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices; and the glory of the Lord filled the house."

So, there is further confirmation. Then, there is the test of Gideon with the fleece. It is found in Judges 6:37-40.

"Behold, I will put a fleece of wool in the floor; and if the dew be on the fleece only and if it be dry on the earth beside, then shall I know that thou wilt save Israel by mine hand, as thou hast said. And it was so; for he rose up early on the morrow and thrust the fleece together, and wringed out the dew out of the fleece, a bowl full of water. And Gideon said unto God, Let not thy anger be hot against me, and I will speak but this once, Let me prove, I pray thee, this once with the fleece; now let it be dry only on the fleece and upon all the ground let there be dew. AND GOD DID SO THAT NIGHT; For it was dry on the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground."

Also, the Book of Job has some things to say on this subject. Job 12:15, “Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: also He sendeth them out and they overturn the earth.” And Job 28:25-27, “To make the weight for the winds, and he weigheth the waters by measure. When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunder: Then he did see it, and declare it; he prepared it, yea, and searched it out.” Or Job 37:6, “For he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth.”

And then there is the summarizing passage in Job 38:22-30,

“Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail. Which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war? By what way is the light parted which scattereth the east wind upon the earth? Who has divided a watercourse for the overflowing of waters, or a way for the lightning of thunder; To cause it to rain on the earth, where no man is; on the wilderness whereon there is no man; To satisfy the desolate and waste ground; and to cause the bud of the tender herb to spring forth? Hath the rain a father or who hath begotten the drops of dew! Out of whose womb came the ice, and the hoary frost of heaven, who hath generated it? The waters are hid as with a stone and the face of the deep is frozen.”

In Job 42:2, “Job answered the Lord and said, I know that thou CANST DO EVERYTHING!”

For me, this discussion is quite convincing. To finalize, we quote from the great prophet Isaiah, 46:11, “Yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass; I have purposed it, I will also do it.” And Isa. 55:8-11, “For my thoughts are not your thoughts and my ways are not your ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. For as the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven, and returned not thither but watereth the earth and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower and bread to the eater; So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth; it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.”

What a statement from God on His infinite power. Being merely men, we cannot hope to understand His purposes or His thoughts, but we do trust the Lord and take His utterances on faith.

So, does God control the weather? I hope the evidence presented persuades you that such is the case. If we do accept it, then we must consider the spate of disasters hitting the North American continent. In the last three years, we have experienced hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, ice storms, snow storms, bush fires, floods which froze into place, destruction of homes by forest fires and crops by hail. Solomon says these things happen because WE HAVE SINNED AGAINST THEE! There you have it. While our clergy and political leaders regard these “natural” disasters as outside the realm of God, we treat the symptoms and avoid the root causes, our abandonment of God’s Laws. When shall we open our eyes and see? When shall we open our ears and hear? When shall we open our minds to understand? Right now, we are the blind led by the blind and together we shall fall into the ditch. I fear God is losing patience with us and is determined to drive us to our knees in repentance, supplication and prayer. Let us not wait to be forced. Let us begin by confessing our manifold sins (you all know what your individual sins are!) and seeking God’s mercy which is in generous supply because the Lord is anxious to bless and prosper US but we provoke Him to use His weapons against us.

Food for thought?

“If I shut up the heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locust to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among My People (Israel); [then] If My people upon whom My name is called [a reference to Numb 6:23-27], shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek My face, and TURN FROM THEIR WICKED WAYS; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and heal their land.” 2 Chron 7:13-14.

HEADLONG TOWARD DISASTER:

A Visitor’s View of Britain in 2009

by Jory Steven Brooks, CBIA

Upon returning from my recent three-week lecture tour of Great Britain, many people have asked about the current state of affairs there. “Are things as bad over there as here in America?” was a frequent question. The short answer is. YES, things there are dire and getting worse, and the United Kingdom seems headed headlong toward disaster with no signs of a reprieve. Here are a few assorted observations recorded in my notebook during my journeys.

The Sunday Telegraph Newspaper, June 28, 2009, p.12 was headlined: “Christian Britain is dead, says Bishop.” The Rt. Rev. Paul Richardson said that 1 in 10 members of the Church of England have been lost since 1996, with a current membership down to 880,000 in a nation of over 60 million people. The church is currently baptizing an average of only 128 people per thousand now. “Many bishops prefer to turn their heads, to carry on as if nothing has changed, rather than face the reality that Britain is no longer a Christian nation.” Richardson says that disestablishment in inevitable, with the removing of bishops from the House of Lords at some point. The causes of this decline are given by him as the decline in attendance and rise in multiculturalism.

This multicultural foreign invasion is not only allowed, but encouraged and preferred. According to another article in the Sunday Telegraph, June 19, 2009, Gypsies and other immigrants should be seen first by hospitals and general practitioners. The newspaper states, "They should be given longer consultations and should be seen by GP's when they walk in without an appointment, even if doctors are fully booked . . . Although trusts do not have to follow the [government] guidelines, they could be breaking human rights laws and the Race Relations Act of 2000 if they did not." This was followed by another article in the Sunday Telegraph, July 1, 2009, which relates that "Migrants take seven in ten of Labour's new jobs . . . Foreigners in Britain have taken a larger share of new jobs than in any other major industrialized nation...."

How bad can things get? Listen to the words of Arthur James Balfour, Conservative Prime Minister of Great Britain from 1902-5, who was later foreign secretary and author of the 1917 "Balfour Agreement" establishing Palestine as a homeland for the Jews. He made this rather curious prophecy which is posted next to the door at The Balfour Pub on Marchmont Street in London: "The energies of our system will decay, the glory of the sun will be dimmed, and the earth, tideless and inert, will no longer tolerate the race which has for a moment disturbed its solitude. Man will go down into the pit and all his thoughts will perish." Quite a depressing outlook on the future! Was Lord Balfour feeling "buyer's remorse" over his agreement with Jewish leaders, which has proved to have resulted in untold anguish, turmoil, and warfare in the land of Palestine ever since?

On the subject of the Jews, the media titans insist on feeding the public a near constant barrage of books and films dealing with the Nazi persecution of the Jews. In the London theatre district, not just one, but two anti-Nazi plays are being presented this summer: Ronald Harwood's "Taking Sides," is joined by the courtroom drama, "Collaboration." Irony of ironies, but just around the corner is a trendy pub called "Axis." Let us hope that this establishment operated under a different name during World War II!

In contrast to this modern emphasis, the late "iron lady" of Britain, former Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, declared "that children should know the great landmarks of British history!" Her words were a response to "the continuing de-emphasis on nationalistic history since 1945," and emphasis on "social history" instead. How many of our children know much of anything these days concerning Western history, let alone Biblical history? At one small town on my lecture tour in Britain, a visitor who was a reader at her church (that is, an unordained minister) expressed that she had never even heard of the Biblical two houses of Israel and knew absolutely nothing about the subject. How much less then does the average layperson know anything at all about the House of Israel, its history, prophecies, and destiny which affect every one of us?

At yet another lecture-stop, I spent the night at a local bed and breakfast. Before retiring I went down to the kitchen for a spot of tea, where I met another guest who was (I believe) a young engineer. He had never heard of "British-Israel" and was quite excited to hear me discuss the prophecies and promises to Israel which were fulfilled in the British and Caucasian peoples. What will it take for more people like this to wake up and turn to Scripture for the answers to our pressing problems?

In London, the several locations of the 2005 terrorist attacks were festooned with flowers to remember the lives lost to followers of radical heathenism. Walking near Russell Square, I paused to note that Charles Dickens, the famous novelist, lived in Tavistock House, located at the site of the terrorist bus bombing of July 7, 2005.

As if to add insult to injury, wouldn't you know that London would be the world headquarters of the "Institute for Studying Muslim Civilizations"? Yes it is — on Bloomsbury Road. Perhaps fittingly, just a short distance down the same avenue was the home of the late atheistic biologist, Charles Robert Darwin, the inventor of evolutionary theory. His home is now the Museum of Zoology, where visitors are told that "only one in ten of our cells is human, the rest are microbes and multi-cellular symbiotic organisms." This view is the natural outgrowth of the popular teaching that mankind is descended from inhuman apes and other subhuman creatures. Even more sad is the fact that this "ten percent human" pagan view of man has gained a foothold among liberal church theologians who one churchman has labelled "Biblical minimizers and deconstructionists." It is an unquestionably sad state of affairs when both Christianity and Western civilization are being assaulted and undermined from both pulpit and classroom.

Meanwhile, Western morals continue to crumble. During an enjoyable afternoon outing to Lewes Castle in Sussex we were about to congratulate a fellow visitor who appeared to be very happily enjoying her honeymoon, until we realized that the proud "lady" standing next to her was the bride!

May our heavenly Father have mercy upon His morally lost House of Israel!

My heartfelt thanks to all of the sponsors and hosts who made this United Kingdom lecture tour a very successful and enjoyable endeavor. I felt honored to be able to share the Word of God with faithful groups in Plymouth, Teonville, Newbury, London, Brighton/Hove, Gravesend, and the wonderful annual week-long convention of the Covenant People's Fellowship at High Leigh. May God bless all of their efforts to turn wayward Britain from her disastrous pathway. Amen!!

THE JACKAL MANIFESTO 2008

(by Hells Angels. Henrik Ræder has kindly translated the entire document from the HA website. as Henrik noted, it's much more honest and lucid account of the current situation in Denmark than can be found in any of the mainstream media)

We use the word "jackal" about those we despise for good reason. A term that fits well in this context, and, seen from the true character of the animal is well chosen. Jackals are easy to recognize from their stupid attitudes and cowardly patterns of conduct. Using this term for them is not based on prejudice or narrow-minded unwillingness to understand their "difficult circumstances." Instead it is a term chosen after extensive consideration based on countless experiences and a life among them. From when there were just a few of them until today, when they are numerous enough to gather in groups. The Jackal Manifesto is not to be considered a derision of people with a certain tone of skin or a particular religion, nor is it a derision of the animal whose name is being used. Some self-righteous individuals will probably think of it that way — peace be upon them, and then leave the victimization to them. No, the Manifesto is to be thought of as a usable tool for understanding those individuals who through threats, terror and violence hold innocent Danes, children, young and older, of all races and both genders, in an iron grip of fear. Last, but not least, this term should be used to counter the spiritual depravity of racism.

This manifesto is created with no use of propaganda from police, politicians or media. The manifesto is based on facts — actual events and a long period of experiences with the aforementioned jackals. It is about understanding and defining the kind of people we're dealing with. Using the term "perkers" (a Danish derogative mixing "Persians" and "Turks") about these two-legged jackals would be misleading and excessively broad. "Perker" is a stigmatizing racist expression, quite like the use of the term "rocker" (Danish term for biker) has become in relation to bikers. Just as the word "rocker" has been associated with "crime," it is now also associated with "alien" and has become a good example of how negative terms are being misused to amplify people's fear and hatred, for no good reason. No one with even an inkling of common sense should despise or stalk innocent, decent people just because they are different, have a different culture, or simply due to it being in fashion! Doing so would eventually cause them to drag themselves down to the stage where precisely the jackals find their mental luggage, and where they belong.

Jackals are mainly found among people of Arab origin. Stating otherwise would be a mistake. Other nationalities are represented as well, and even dumb Danish boys. Members of the so-called immigrant gangs are not necessarily jackals. In case doubt exists as to who they are, where they came from and what they contain, we find an excellent profile of the jackal:

Alone and unarmed, they are largely harmless to ordinary adults. In these situations they usually behave in a friendly manner, cringing or unpleasantly smirking when one knows their attitudes and what they contain, and is clear about what they will say about you behind your back, they seem largely pathetic.

In groups of three or more they change character, become arrogant and courageous. In these groups they attack without reason or warning, targeting young and old alike.

They terrorise children and the young to an extent rarely seen in this country. So grossly and massively that it gives a whole new meaning to the term "bullying," and it harms everyone—also those "New Danes" who in the eyes of the jackals are too integrated and thus traitors to their feeling of "statelessness" and "we are always right" mentality that their upbringing and twisted brains have created. Many jackals claim to be victims of a war, are children of wars, or boast of having been in war, but their "wars" are far from the Denmark that has provided every one of them a chance. That they do not go back or away to their "wars," rather than to create them here, is due to the fact that their parents fled wars, they themselves fled wars, or because they have never been close to a war!

They have no respect for courtesy or polite behaviour, unless it comes from their fathers, their older uncles or imams. Polite and friendly individuals are seen as easy victims, cowardly and fearsome, and they are immediately smeared when out of earshot.

They have no natural respect for the elderly—apart from the persons mentioned above. They see nothing wrong in bothering or terrorizing them, or even committing violence against them. Before the legal charges about permit of residence and Danish citizenship they thought it was ridiculous to apply for Danish citizenship, in case they had not received it automatically or were born in the "country of whores." It was enough to be here, enjoy the goods, and behave like crap.

In spite of the fact of almost all of them being born and raised in Denmark, they use a losers tongue with an assumed strong accent. This manner of speaking is adopted because they hate everything Danish, including the language, and because they are impressed by the language spoken by the blacks in the ghettos of the U.S. They want to make clear that they are outside society and are gangstas (sic). In this manner they identify with each other and the genuine racism that the blacks have been subject to. They assume the role of the victim, which is central to their worldview.

They have an oppressive mentality towards women, which they barely keep in check when looking for a date or on foreign turf. This mentality probably stems from an upbringing where they already at the age of 6 or 7 were given the right to decide over their mother and older sisters. They harbour contempt for Danish women, their independence and their liberty, unless they do what they are told to, go along with them, or convert to Islam. If they do not, they are immediately considered to be whores, with no hint of irony! This is frequently expressed in random encounters in the street, in discotheques, in context of gang rapes, when their girlfriends intend to break up with them, or in any dealings with ex-girlfriends in general.

If they form the opinion that their own sisters, female cousins, mothers, or even ex-girlfriends are dressed incorrectly, are too often in town, enjoy alcohol, or talk too frequently to infidels, they apply pressure on them. If the women then do not toe the line, they risk expulsion, threats, violence or worse. If anyone dares to refer to, compliment or joke about "their" women, it is never thought of as funny or friendly, but as an assault on the so-called "honour of the jackals. If they face resistance in discussion or risk a beating in some situation, they immediately fall to the ground, howling and whining like genuine jackals.

If they are beaten, they howl and scream, and immediately look to their own kin, pretending to have won the fight. Only when they end up in the intensive care ward, or if their visible damages are too extensive, do they admit to having been licked. In these cases, they always claim that they were faced by many and had been assaulted! If they are out in sufficient numbers, they have no tolerance of anyone looking at them, at the girls in their company, into their cars or simply in their general direction. In case they are alone or outnumbered, they stare into the ground or away, probably ashamed due to them knowing their true worth.

They systematically behave aggressively in traffic, and will, in case of random accidents, call in reinforcements from more jackals, intimidate the other parties into taking the blame, or even assault them. Even rescue staff, who should be sacrosanct in the situation, are at risk of being assaulted in their common excitement. They start forming groups from the age of 10-12, but most pull out of trouble and life as a jackal at the age of 25, when they get married and have children. Surprisingly, they then seem to assume that all past misdeeds are instantly forgiven.

They do not necessarily belong to a gang. Many of them are on their own or just a few along in daily life, but as soon as they are assembled in sufficient numbers, they feel on top of things and then the jackal mentality asserts itself in full. A clear indication of a jackal feeling insecure and thus not having the courage to fight is loud shouting and wild gestures. Empty threats is a speciality, preferably from a safe distance; giving the finger from a car passing by, writing slogans on house walls or hateful messages in prison cells are examples of this. These risk-free acts are, surprisingly, considered by the jackals to be victories.

Fear is their weapon of choice, and precisely the fact that peaceful persons know that they may attack without reason, in groups and armed with knives; is the reason that many ordinary citizens live in daily fear of the jackals when leaving their homes. In contrast to the bikers (in Danish called "rockers"), which have also been demonized by the media, the jackals consider the "fear of them" to be something great. While bikers consider unjustified fear from strangers and ordinary citizens a burden, the jackals consider this fear to be an expression of others having respect for them. That they are something!

Most jackals are of immigrant background, but a few "mad dogs" of Danish ethnicity are around. They have either grown up in the wrong spot, or have been attracted by the respect (read: fear) that jackals, and to a high degree police and the press, have created around the jackal way of life.

The vast majority of jackals are Muslims, at least when at home with their fathers or speaking with the priest. They pretend to believe in God and that they follow the Quran. They often invoke Allah—in particular when in prison or when alone and scared. In daily life, however, they often fail to follow the true way of the faith: they smoke hashish, take drugs, commit crime, drink alcohol, fight, swear, commit adultery, and they most certainly cannot be blamed for NOT engaging in usury! The only rules from their faith that most follow are to abstain from eating pork and to attempt to observe Ramadan as well as they can. Apart from that, God and the guidelines of faith are merely consolation used when away from the security of the pack. This kind of faith and consolation are used by the leaders of the packs as a tool for power and to keep the crowd together when there is no other kind of sense behind their desires.

The jackals are occasionally presented as "foreign rockers," and it has become routine for police and press with statements to the effect that the jackals from the gangs are worse than the "rockers." This is an artificial comparison, but it creates some useful fear in Mr. and Mrs. Denmark. The bikers have never behaved in this manner, not even when some of them were rockers! The average Dane should obviously be scared when he or she hears about someone worse than the rockers. After twenty years of propaganda about how evil the so-called "rockers" are/were, something even worse appears.

Although these jackals are far from innocent, and to an unprecedented degree have been using pointless violence, it does deserve mention that precisely the police and the press have contributed to encourage them. That has given them that inkling of courage they never would have had themselves, if it wasn't for that extensive coverage—something that in the end has rendered them more dangerous to those who do not want to, or are not able to, defend themselves.

Cultural enrichment is something the jackals most certainly are not part of; they are more like pure losers with an assumed role of victim. When many Danes do not feel the need or desire to extend their hand to Islam, it is hardly caused by terrorism in the world at large, or the more or less obvious crime committed by individuals. It is more likely to be the encounter with the jackals of everyday life. Never in one's life must one bow down to this kind of human trash! ----- (received by email)

PROVING WHAT IS ACCEPTABLE by Robert McCurry

When you hear of a nation being called "the most barbaric of nations," which nation comes to mind? A far-away idol-worshipping third world nation? No, Pur streets in America are now that mission field. For a college educated, well-mannered, nicely-dressed, and articulate lady can worship idols and be as far from God as a village mother in the jungle, dressed in a grass skirt, naked from the waist up with a bone through her nose.

The village mother will have her newborn child thrown into the sacrificial fire so she can advance in the tribal hierarchy. The unwed American (and Australian) mother will enter an aborticide clinic and have her child ripped to pieces from her womb so she can climb the corporate ladder (while aborticide and taking of contraceptive pills have shown an increase in female cancers).

There is no doubt! Such fornication and murder are Sodom-like sins and must merit Sodom-like judgment, and judgment begins at the house of God. "This was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom," says Ezekiel 16:49, "Pride, fullness of bread, and abundance of idleness." Ever notice how that description fits most of the Church today?

Recently a minister who runs a food distribution ministry told me that there are over 3,000 Christian churches in the Washington D.C. area. You would think in a city with over 3,000 churches God would be receiving the glory in all areas of social and political life.

Ever see a news report about what goes on in our nation's capitol? Washington D.C. is one of the most effeminized, sodomized, blood-soaked cities the world has ever seen. It is a city where the civil officials allow sodomites to roam freely! And women murder more children by abortion than give birth! Such Sodom-like sin points directly to the American Church's willingness to passively coexist in the midst of such damnable crimes.

The Bible says in Jude 7, "Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire."

Have you heard of civil officials giving Domestic Partner Benefits to civil employees because they are fornicators and sodomites? To just approve of fornication, and sodomy brings God's righteous judgment of death upon yourself, much less for the state to employ these criminals and then substantiate them with taxpayer benefits!

Have you heard of Same-Sex Unions? Marriage-like rights to sodomites? Despite the fact that the Bible commands all husbands to love their wives "even as Christ also loved the ecclesia, and gave himself for it," The men in Vermont allowed their lawmakers to change the law making a sodomite equal to a man's wife in that state. There are news reports now that the men in other states are considering degrading their wives with the same type of law!

Woe unto men that make their wives and daughters equal to cankered sodomites in the eyes of the law! Such an egregious degradation and debasement will not stand in the Day of Judgment!

A church that hates people will show the world how to live without the knowledge of the judgment of God. They do this by having pleasure in passively and silently coexisting with unrepentant people who are committing damnable crimes. For, "Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them," says Romans 1:32. It is one of the worst of all sins; it is the highest degree of wickedness for this lost and dying world to see a church standing with adversaries and approving of evil.

When the lost and dying people of our nation look at your church what do they see? User-friendly passivity? A church that's been turned into a Spiritual Aerobic Centre and the pastor into a nursemaid? Instead of the Good News, does your pastor preach nice news? smooth things?

The Good News of the Gospel is Good News because it is the truth: we have sinned, and deserve, and face judgment. But Christ died for sinners. And God now calls us all to repent. (Acts 17:30-31). If your pastor is not publicly calling the city, state, and federal officials and judges to repentance by administering justice concerning these damnable crimes, then your pastor is showing the world how to live without the knowledge of the judgment of God, instead of following the example given to us by Jesus.

For Jesus did "upbraid" the cities that He had called to repentance "because they repented not!" He said, "it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom, in the day of judgment, than for thee." (Matt 11:24). A change of direction in society will not happen until the Church repents by changing its direction first. "Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them." (Eph 5:10-11). The Good News proclaims both the mercy and the justice of God to a lost and dying world.

by Michael Reed

The opening words of John chapter 14 in verse one captures the hearts and attention of many people in distress and discouragement or in troubling times like we live in, but Jesus says, "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me." He is telling us to trust in Him with all our heart, soul and might because it is worthless to trust in man, his ways or this worldly system. yes, trouble may come but we don't have to dwell on it, or seek to glorify it in our behaviour.

When Daniel was in the king's court and his antiChrist enemies tricked the king into signing the decree which made it illegal to seek or pray to God or any god or man except the king, Daniel made his way home and slung open his window wide. With the wind blowing through the window and the people walking by outside, Daniel commenced to pray and exalt the LORD his God who was in the beginning and shall ever be.

We know the story, when Daniel started praying the weasels who were watching him reported to the Grand Poobah who went and spoke to the king, reminding him that he had signed a document stating what the new law was and it was expected to be followed like that of the Medes and Persians, in other words 'O king, you better keep your word.' Penalty: Lion's Den!

O my, Daniel should have used his noodle right? Daniel's dilemma was that when he obeyed God he did it openly instead of hiding it, right? If he only would have kept his windows closed and maybe nobody would ever have noticed, unless they had him bugged or something; you would think a prophet had better brains than that!

Ever been faced with troubling times where you feel like you're caught in the middle? If you do this, then that bad thing will happen. The scenario often gets down to something like this: "If I obey God, then I'll have to go to jail" or 'If I don't obey God then I can avoid having something unpleasant happen.' Isn't that the way man thinks?

That's MAN's THINKING! Obey Christ Jesus and leave the consequences up to him! The Apostles all stated that "we ought to obey God rather than man." (acts 5:29). and that's what Daniel did. his choice was the same as yours and mine, obey or not obey; obey openly or hidden behind a basket in the corner quivering like a mouse.

Daniel had the character of a man who follows the true God and he boldly opened his windows and prayed extra loud so God and man would hear his thanksgiving that the LORD God Almighty is greater than the dictates of any man of flesh and blood or the spirit of antiChrist that dwells in him; and that the Christ of God, the LORD Jesus is going to crush his and our enemies in the dust under His feet! Hallelujah, Amen!

Daniel was not quivering in the corner behind any basket, hoping the streets were empty. he had confidence and trust in his God to deliver him from any problem, conflict, affliction, law of man or men sent from the king. And they sent for Daniel. Daniel worked for the king, but he also was not going to compromise the fact that his KING was greater than the king standing in front of him, and Daniel's reverence and devotion was to his KING.

Daniel knew that the LORD had already said, "I will

ABRAHAM'S KIN
by Adam deWitt

This outlines the reasons our folk have risen and fallen and have been removed from many parts of the world never to return to date. Yet for each removal (resulting often in millions of deaths) we as a folk never seemed to learn. The pattern of our 'removals' has always been the same. The patterns take place even today. Few understand them, recognize them or are willing to take heed. Yet the day will come when we no longer fall, the trend will only be to rise, regaining all that was once lost.

never leave thee, nor forsake thee. So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.” Hebrews 13:5b-6. Daniel feared only God and was soon thrown into the den of lions. If you didn’t know the story one might say, ‘well, see, Daniel had his chance to live a low profile and obey God, but was gobbled up by the lions.’

But we know that’s not what happened. The story goes that while Daniel was standing around praising God for His majesty and mercy and righteousness, the lions determined that Daniel was not to their liking and kept their mouths shut—God shut their mouths, and Daniel walked out of the lion’s den next morning and his persecutors, those anti-Christ buzzards who like to crow all the time and try to remove the name of the Almighty God from every courtyard and public place, just like today, were tossed in head first with their wives and children and the lions ate them up. Then the king gave praise to the LORD Jesus.

Are you troubled? Perhaps you’re not slated for the lion’s den, but your troubles are just as real: worried about the buildup of 40 to 80 thousand permanent US military in the US for halting ‘civil unrest’ and ‘rioting,’ FEMA and foreign troops scheduled to ‘practice’ for civil unrest and rioting about the same time as the proposed ‘banking holiday’ near the end of August and early September; money becoming more worthless just like a bag with holes in it; loss of value in property both real and personal; anxiety attacks; feminist movement and emasculation of men; no leadership or submission in homes, Christian or otherwise; removal of Christianity in the land; prices of everything almost unaffordable: gas, food, etc; no cooperation and trouble at home with wife, or husband, or children; divorce on the rise; gov’t school indoctrination; sodomites (those who practice homosexual behaviour) gaining ground and traditional morality losing ground; Christian values eroding rapidly; etc. etc. Yes, there is much to be troubled about, but “Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.” Trust in Jesus.

Don’t be troubled about it, but do as Daniel—obey God. ‘You shall have NO other gods before me.’ So Daniel says, ‘a law that forbids prayer—I’ll open my window to make sure they know I serve the true and living God and it is He in whom I trust.’

Jesus is sorting the wheat from the chaff, those who obey from those who don’t, and there is a Great Day coming when the LORD will judge His people and save those who love and serve Him.

“For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver, the LORD is our king; He will save us.” Isaiah 33:22. Amen.

THE SPINNING WHEEL by Michael Reed

Round and round and round she goes, where she stops nobody knows Do you want to go faster? says the carnival barker, as he sped up the spinning machine. Wheeeeeeeeeeeeeee! the people scream as they sink lower and lower into their seats.

Ever climb on to one of those spinning rides at the carnival (or at the Show)? I remember as a kid that I did. I hated it; it made me feel awful! My stomach was wrenched, my head was spinning, my insides were all out of sorts, and my whole body was shaken before it stopped; and then I got sick, it was terrible; I screamed for help, but they just laughed at me. They were having too much ‘fun.’ I vowed never to ride on one of those contraptions ever again.

Odd, how so many other kids liked riding that spinning wheel, while I detested it. It seemed as if they were oblivious or numb to the fact that their insides, head and stomach were taking a beating on that thing and the whole time the little man behind the ticket box was screaming “do you want to go faasssteeeeeerrrr!”

What’s even more odd is that now over 40 years later those same people are still numb to the fact that their world is spinning just like that contraption did when I was a kid, only this time it’s their country: Difference is that it’s not one man screaming: it’s a whole crowd of evil men, women and instigators who are spinning Law, fact, truth, stability, fidelity, safety, security, and more, making the land and all her people spin: heads, stomachs and insides whirling all the same as the same as this spinning machine, at break-neck speed.

The result of this spinning? Out of control invasion, wrongly called immigration, that goes ignored; bank closings; cost of groceries, gas and most everything goes through the roof and almost unaffordable; the husbands, fathers, sons (and now mothers and daughters) dying in the Middle-East sandbox; infidelity everywhere; divorce rampant; families crumbling; bailouts of everybody, but you and me; automakers now owned by the US gov’t; US military patrolling the streets of America to make it ‘safe’ from ‘rioting and civil unrest;’ North American Union; police kicking down doors of innocent people; angry cops tazing children and 70-year-old women to death; gov’t sponsored bioterrorism; US government implication in mass murder and terrorism on 9/11; Obama elected (so we’re told) as president; trillions of dollars “missing” from the private banking system known as the Federal Reserve; normal folk accused of being terrorists and imprisoned; foreign troops invading ‘to protect us;’ Help! This world system is out of control. How do you stop this spinning?!

I’ve heard more people than ever state that “this is not the land I grew up in;” “this is it, the end is here” “Jesus will be coming through the clouds any day;” “I’m ready for it all to be over;” and about a thousand other epithets of finality. If Jesus Christ comes today, Hallelujah. But an old baseball player once said “it’s not over till it’s over.” Jesus told His disciples that “you know neither the day nor the hour when the son of man will return” and neither do we. When Rome was burning many probably thought the end was then. Likewise throughout history many thought the time was at hand. Same today, many consider the time is now, but we know neither the day nor hour, so we must continue to be about the father’s business until His time arrives and He says stop.

Jesus speaks to us right now saying that we must “work” for the night cometh when no man can work.” In other words there is a time coming when we won’t be able to do the work He has called us to do. That is part of the problem today. We haven’t been doing the work He has called us to do because our people as a whole have ben living on the work and merits of their fathers and mothers of past days. In short, we’ve been ‘fat and lazy’ doing little or nothing. We haven't been doing the work of evangelists, preachers and Christians (or even showing a good example of a Christian in how we work any other job) to build our society on a firm foundation while our enemy has been doing everything they can to preach, evangelize and build their wicked kingdom and doing many 'good works.' Fact is, many Christians haven't even been doing their duty as parents in teaching and training their children in the love and admonition of the LORD: wrongly turning their children over to the 'day care' government-run public schools (and many similarly-run private schools), so 'mama can go to work' outside the home in defiance of what God says about mothers being 'keepers at home' (Titus 2:5).

You can look all around us and see the fruit of what has been taught the children (many of whom are now adults) in just their appearance. I made a trip to the grocery store recently and walking down the aisle was a creature of which I was uncertain of gender because of its appearance. As I got closer I discovered that it was a female, grossly overweight, wearing a miniskirt and midriff shirt, sporting tatoos covering every part of exposed flesh on her legs, arms, stomach and face. In addition her body had hundreds of piercings in her body and face, stomach, legs, nose, mouth, eyebrows, ears, and in fact she had so many lip-ring piercings I honestly don't know how she could eat without extreme pain, if at all! I am not exaggerating. So what's the point Pastor Reed? The point is, this was once a Christian land (with women who professed to be Christian mothers and even if they were not, they at least had a Christian influence on them) and the display of this female was totally anti-Christian and a barometer reading of just how low we have sunk. How? She was: 1) scantily clad, exposing some of the intimate parts of her body (1 Tim. 2:9); 2) covered with body piercings and tatoos (Lev. 19:28). Remember, your body is the temple of holy ghost, do not defile it with pagan and heathen markings! Rev. 18:4.

In a Christian or Christianized land the people know or have known what the LORD says and today they sometimes know but don't care. This is what the Bible calls Presumptuously, or with a "high hand."

Psalm 19:13 says, "Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression."

2 Peter 2:10 says, "But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities."

Numbers 15:30 says, "But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the LORD; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people." Albert Barne's Commentary on the Bible defines 'Presumptuously' as:

The original (compare the margin, and Exodus 14:8) imports something done wilfully and openly; in the case of a sin against God it implies that the act is committed ostentatiously and in bravado.

Adam Clarke's Commentary states that, Presumptuously is: "Bold daring acts of transgression against the fullest evidence, and in despite of the Divine authority, admitted of no atonement; the person was to be cut off - to be excluded from God's people, and from all their privileges and blessings." He continues that it "implied an utter contempt of the word and authority of God, springing from an idolatrous or atheistic mind. In such a case all repentance was precluded, because of the denial of the Word and being of God."

To sin against the LORD knowingly, willfully, obstinately, openly, self-willed, arrogantly, stubbornly or self-righteously, or with an attitude of 'I don't even care' what God says, is being "presumptuous" and that is RAMPANT throughout the land today! The phrase "you were raised better than that" and "you ought to know better" has been heard before in all quarters; answered often by "this is my life and I'll do as I please" or "it's my body" or "who are you to tell me what to do" or other such arrogant replies: this is presumptuous sin. I know, nobody wants to be corrected or told what to do, that's because there's no humility of spirit, nor respect for the things of God, God's Word, God's house (or Congregation), or even God's man; in addition to a 'presumptuous' spirit and attitude. The Bible says the Word of God is to be used by God's man to 'be instant in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine.'" (2 Tim. 4:2). In other words, tell them where their error is and correct them, so they can go the right path whenever they need it.

As a case in point the Governor, Nehemiah, states in 13:25ff, that he "contended with them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters unto your sons, or for yourselves. Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things?"

In Nehemiah 13:26, "outlandish" or foreign wives or husbands—RACE-MIXING, is everywhere today. You see black as night Hottentots, Bantus, Zulus and every other kind of black African with white women today—this is adultery of the first degree, not to mention admixture with every other race of people: and often you see Chinese, Phillipino, Korean, Japanese, Africans and other women with white men. This is adultery, plain and simple! Don't blame me if you're in sin. I'm only telling you what God's Word says so you can REPENT (see nehemiah 13:1-3; Deut 7:3; 2 Cor 6:17; etc). This race-mixing sin violates the Law of Adultery; the seventh Commandment- Exodus 20:14 - Thou shalt not commit adultery.

ADUL'TERY, n. [L.adulterium. See Adulterate]

ADUL'TERATE, v.t. [L. adultero, from adulter, mixed, or an adulterer; ad and alter, other] To corrupt, debase, or make impure by an admixture.

ADUL'TERATE, v.i. To commit adultery.

ADUL'TERATE, a. Tainted with adultery; debased by foreign admixture.

(Webster's 1828 Dictionary of the English Language gives these definitions).

The laws of formerly Christian lands like America (and Australia, New Zealand) once recognized these Bible Law violations, but no more; so Christians must make a greater individual effort now to teach right from wrong. But they are not doing so with any widespread notice because many would rather offend God than their neighbour (or relative). By goodness OFFEND somebody because the LORD our God is certainly offended by sin and so should we: “if ye walk contrary unto Me, and will not hearken unto Me; I will bring seven times more plagues upon you according to your sins.” Lev. 26:21.

Those claiming Christ world wide should do as the Apostle Paul states in 2 Cor 13:5, to “examine yourselves to see if you be in the faith.” When one sees gross and open violations of God’s Law everywhere in the land in every former Christian land around the world, there’s a problem—the salt has lost its savor. The sin against God must stop, as it brings curses upon us and the land, for it ‘rains on the just and the unjust.’ Adultery is just one of the very visible signs of these ‘presumptuous’ sins, but how about violation of the LORD’s Sabbath Days?

He says at Exodus 20:8-11, “Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy (set apart from other days). Six days shalt thou labour, and do ALL THY WORK: But the seventh day (not ‘of the week’ but after six days of work) is the Sabbath (REST) of the LORD thy God: in it thou shalt NOT DO ANY WORK, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, nor the stranger that is within thy gates (you can’t get someone else to do it for you - either!): For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is and rested the seventh day (after the six days of work - it does not say the God started creating on Sunday, like some assume, in fact our present Gregorian Calendar didn’t come into use until 24 Feb 1582, when it replaced the Julian calendar, which had been in use since 46BC. Originally, March was the first month, probably a left-over from Moses calendar starting at the spring equinox in March): wherefore the LORD blessed the sabbath (rest) day and hallowed it (set it apart).”

Again he states in Exodus 31:15, “Six days may work be done; but in the seventh is the Sabbath of rest, holy (set apart) to the LORD . . . “ The Sabbath is holy to our God and in this nation it was instituted as a Sabbath of rest and is still recognized in part today as government and official institutions are closed generally, except for worship in churches. But how long will it be before that is all changed? He says “The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.” Psalm 9:17.

I remember back as late as the mid 1970s that I rode in my car down a normally very busy road in Columbia SC, capitol of the state and over a stretch of about 10 miles passed four cars. This was a road that normally you passed four cars every millisecond. I spoke with a friend not long ago who lives near Washington DC and he said he remembers back before the violations of the Sabbath laws that you would not see more than a couple of cars on the Sabbath day all day long. In Christian lands, the Sabbath Day has typically been established as Sunday (late premier sir Joh Bjelke-Peterson of Queensland - a Lutheran - when he cleared his land for farming peanuts many years ago, would switch off his dozer at midnight on Saturday, and res-start it at midnight on Sunday - leaving it to sit idle for the 24 hours of Sunday-sabbath), and you could not buy gas, or shop as all these business closed. Even out of tradition many obey the LORD’s commands and bring blessings on the land.

The LORD said it then and he means it for now, “This is that which the LORD hath said . . . the rest of the holy sabbath unto the LORD.” Unto whom? THE LORD! Our God wants to see if we will obey HIM, not some elected or appointed man who says you can or can’t work or shop whenever you want. I remember when the observance of Sabbath days were removed as law in South Carolina. A Jewish-owned store samed Sam Solomon wanted to open on Sunday morning to sell their wares, and they did it until some valiant Christian warrior got tired of the violation of God’s Law and called the sheriff, who came in and arrested the store manager for violation. This happened many times before the Jews took it to court and then the Sabbath laws were ‘overturned’ in the entire country, as far as I know. They were called Blue Laws, because they were originally written on blue paper so everybody could see they were special laws to be observed from God’s Word. The Blue Laws still exist partially but they are being overturned piece by piece. These were official codification of God’s Laws to protect is from the curses of man, like with the Egyptians mandating seven-day work-weeks at hard labour. Wake Up Christians!—shopping, doing business, etc., are not on God’s ‘Top Ten’ priority list! Order your life and come into conformity with your Maker! Something we all need to do in many areas, including TITHING (Mal 3:8-18).

There will be some who say, ‘Brother the Law has been done away with. I don’t have to obey no Sabbath-keeping Law.’ John’s First epistle would be a good place to check out, then, because if that is so, he apparently didn’t understand that the commandments were done away with (see 1 John 3:4; 2:3-7; 3:33-34; John 14:15), because they were not! The Fourth Commandment still stands.

Others might say, ‘Well, what would I do on Sunday If I didn’t go to the shop or go to the mall?’ Well, you could do like many of the FAITHFUL have done in past days—come into HIS presence with thanksgiving and into His courts with Praise, singing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs and making melody. And taking a rest or visiting the rest of the day - what a novel idea. As a boy I remember being full of energy not wanting to rest on Sunday. I also remember all the older folk saying, ‘it’s Sunday, after church and dinner you are going to rest.’ This is a provision and blessing from the LORD for man’s own benefit.

I remember going to church ‘sings’ and ‘suppers’ with my grandmother on Saturday evening, visiting with other saints and talking about the LORD on their front porch, or them coming by and talking with my grandmother. The fact is they were preparing to meet with the LORD on Sunday by observing the Sabbath Day, giving testimony and encouraging one another. Wake Up O Israel! We’ve got to be oriented towards the things of the LORD and not toward the things of man, whose ways are foolishness unto God.

I have mentioned my grandmother for teaching me many things in this passage and in 2 Tim 1:5, Timothy is reminded of the “unfeigned faith of his grandmother.” If ever there was a time for the unfeigned faith of a grandmother it is now. Mine was and I am thankful that the LORD provided me with a grandmother who was a good example of a Christian woman obeying the LORD. She obeyed the spirit’s wooing later in life being drawn to Christ Jesus at an old-time country church revival and diligently sought out the LORD to understand a; that He said. She taught through example: hard work, tenacity, diligence, commitment dedication and lots of Bible understanding. Thank the LORD for a faithful grandmother - and thank the LORD if you and your children can church together with your grandmother! Are there any left who pray for their children and grands? That teach them the ways of the LORD and the Bible, and God's Law? That have understanding of His ways? Who have the law of kindness and hospitality written on their hearts? Who pray till they "get through to God?" That's another thing we don't see or hear much about these days: praying till you get through to God. I have seen many today who have not these qualities, but that's not God's command—which was 'Seek first the Kingdom of God.'

The Bible says at Titus 2:1-15 that young men and women are to be instructed in righteousness and the ways of the LORD by the elder, or aged, men and women.

"But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine: That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience. The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness (a set-apart people), not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things; That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children; to be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed. Young men likewise exhort to be sober-minded. In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works; in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity, sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you. Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again (backchat); not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world; Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; Who gave Himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people (Israel), zealous of good works. These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee." Titus 2:1-15.

ATTENTION: Aged men and women, are you doing your duty before God? Or rather, spending your children's inheritance, as directed by our enemies? The above qualities are missing today by and large because everybody's doing their own thing far removed from family, and the land that Jesus Christ has given us is going to hell in a handbasket! Why? Few grandmothers or grandfathers are teaching sound doctrine to their children or grandchildren; and even fewer mothers or fathers are teaching sound doctrine!!! These are the people who are supposed to be teaching and training their offspring and others Christian character and Bible understanding. If you are among those who are not teaching DO THE JOB GOD HAS ASSIGNED YOU! How can you expect children or grandchildren to "Honour thy father and thy mother: that thy days may be long upon the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee" unless they are taught the ways of Jesus Christ?

STATIST MEDICINE

by late Rousas J. Rushdoony

An important book published recently is Alexander Podrabinek's Punitive Medicine.¹ The author is now serving a sentence of exile in Siberia. This is a careful and documented account of the use of psychiatry for political purposes in the USSR.

Notable opponents of the communist regime are discredited by being sentenced to mental institutions, there to be drugged and tortured into submission. The psychiatrists act on orders from above. They justify this prostitution of their profession by saying that no man in his right mind would speak out, take a stand against, or contradict and challenge the state system and the official ideology. (on 3-9-09, a story on Ninemsn related how a man in Western Australia took his family and fled to El Salvador to escape enforced chemotherapy for his 10-year-old daughter, who was responding to natural healing, and they objected to the Chemo. Lawyers for the Health Department and Princess Margaret Hospital were in the Supreme Court trying to obtain an order to enforce the chemo, so the family fled) "Normalcy" and mental health to them means living with the system. To question or fight the system is for them not a normal act nor a sensible one; hence, it is a sign of mental problems.

Thus, mental health is defined by conformity to the Marxist order, not by a sound mind in relationship to God, and to men in and under God. Normalcy and mental health become whatever the state decrees and does. Such a definition is very close to that of the Western democracies and their schools; men are group directed, subject to group dynamics, and are trained to regard the behaviour of those resisting the group as "deviant." (One mother of an intelligent boy, whose father was a noted scientist, was called to the public school to discuss her "deviant" son. His "problem," which brought him under suspicion, was a preference for reading over playground horseplay). The group is the norm; society determines standards and mental health. The Marxists have simply put this humanistic standard under more disciplined direction: not the group, but the state, determines normalcy and mental health.

As a result, we have what Podrabinek calls "legalized lawlessness;² the new psychiatric "hospitals" are less evil,³ but all grow in perversity with time, and sadism becomes the order of the day among doctors and guards.⁴ No doubt, the courage of the resisters is a reproach to them, and intensifies their sadism and evil. Added to this is the fact that orderlies use patients for sexual perversions.⁵

The Soviet definition of mental health as conformity leads to strange diagnoses such as these: "She is suffering from nervous exhaustion caused by justice-seeking;" "You have schizo-dissent," and so on.⁶ "Soviet psychiatry does not allow any opportunity for conscientious refusal to adapt."⁷

Very aptly, Juliana Geran Pilan calls all this "The Shame of Soviet Medicine."⁸ The problem is not restricted to psychiatry but is common to all medicine in marxist countries. For example, venereal diseases are dogmatically called "bourgeois." How can a bourgeois infection exist in a socialist paradise? It not only exists but is very widespread, although not acknowledged. No statistics are given on V.D., it has supposedly been abolished. because it has been abolished, there are no clinics to treat it. The unhappy patient must go to the "dermatology" clinics for treatment! Dermatologists visiting the Soviet Union are assumed to be specialists in venereal diseases.

The same is true of narcotics. The newspapers like to write about "The Absence of Addicts in the Soviet Union: One More Proof of the Superiority of Communism Over Capitalism.” All the while, the use of drugs flourishes, and a drug culture is very real.⁹

The point is clear. Diseases and problems do not “exist” unless the Marxist state allows them an official existence or recognition. Medical training is controlled; doctors and psychiatrists are controlled; hospitals are controlled; drugs, like all medical practice, are a state monopoly. The medical profession serves the state, not the patient. Doctors are a part of a bureaucracy which has a state-controlled life and conscience.

Punitive medicine? Of course, it cannot be otherwise. As Podrabinek notes: “Punitive medicine is a tool in the struggle against dissidents who cannot be punished by legal means.”¹⁰

The most serious mistake we can make is to treat punitive medicine as a Soviet aberration. We should instead see it as the logical conclusion of all socialized medicine.

The advocates of socialized medicine believe that such a step would bring more medical care to the poor and needy. The fact is that, at least in the United States, the poor have usually had more medical services rendered to them than any other class. The fact of their poverty has made them the recipients of free services, or subject to very nominal fees, and hence they have more readily used doctors.

But the problem goes deeper. Ostensibly, socialized medicine will serve the people. Senator Edward M. Kennedy, in his book, In Critical Condition, The Crisis in America's Health Care (1972), sees socialized medicine as “the choice of conscience.” “The government” will supposedly have a conscience and a concern for the poor which doctors ostensibly lack. Private practitioners, whom he sees as grasping businessmen, will somehow all become Good Samaritans when the federal government controls them. His picture is a passionate, selected, and extremely partial one. It is also very unrealistic.

There is no reason to believe that socialized medicine anywhere will serve the people any better or as good as private practice. On the contrary, it will serve the federal government. Let us remember, after all, that the Sixteenth Amendment (the income tax) was voted into the U.S. Constitution in the name of helping the poor! The income tax was to be limited to “soaking the rich” and distributing the wealth. It would make a freer and happier America possible. The worker would come into his own, and there would be a better America after all.

There is no reason to suppose that a socialized and federalized medicine will be any more benevolent than the Internal Revenue Service. The I.R.S. after all, was created with at least equal idealistic motives. Anyone who can think of the I.R.S. as the people's friend today does indeed have mental problems! Socialized medicine will be no better than the I.R.S. and potentially far worse. Any and everything which puts us into contact with a powerful state and its bureaucracy is dangerous, and socialized medicine will place us in a very close relationship to that power-state: at pregnancy and childbirth, in ill health and accidents, for a variety of required medical examinations, and much more. Also, as euthanasia becomes an accepted practice like abortion, the more the state knows about you, the less safe you are.

Already, of course, the hand of the state is very heavy upon all doctors. Medical schools are extensively subsidized and thereby federalized. Because of funding, the medical school looks as much to Washington D.C., as it does to the general practitioner, or the surgeon, and their problems. Hospitals are also serving the state and are more ready to displease doctors and patients than federal authorities. What the state controls serves state purposes. Thus, Alexander Podrabinek's Punitive Medicine gives us merely the avant garde aspect of the new medical practice, socialized medicine.

It is a very logical development. The state is a punitive agency or institution. Its purpose is to punish or to vindicate. Its basic and truest instruments are the courts, the police and the military. Their purpose is to punish or to vindicate. The life of the state is geared to punitive action. St. Paul, in Romans 13:1-4, makes clear that the true function of the ministry of justice (the state) is to be a terror to evildoers. The state is the agency of coercion. The church's function is to educate; industry's function is to produce, and the medical professions' function is to heal. To place the healing arm of society under the coercive or punitive arm is the height of folly and unreason.

No realm taken over by the state has escaped its coercive and punitive nature, to the detriment of its original function. Thus, before the states in America took over education, the United States had the world's lowest illiteracy rate and a remarkably capable populace. Today, after a century and a half of Horace Mann's evil “reform,” state control of education, we have our highest illiteracy rate in history. Jonathan Kozol, in Prisoners of Silence, gives us some very alarming estimates, from federal and other sources. The Office of Education estimates that fifty seven million Americans are unequipped to carry out the most basic tasks. This means over 35% of the entire adult population. Some place the figure as high as sixty four million. Perhaps twenty three to thirty four million of these are illiterate; the rest can barely function. Illegal aliens, who may number as high as eight million, are not in these statistics at all. Kozol is a liberal, a concerned liberal. How does the teachers' bureaucracy deal with all criticisms of its incompetence? With evidences of illiteracy among teachers themselves? Typical of its reaction is an article on “New Right's Attack on Teachers” in the Tennessee Teacher, April 1980. Well, it is all an ugly conspiracy! “Since we as teachers believe in public education and in profound dignity, then surely we see the New Right as very wrong—a dangerous threat to the freedoms we inherited and continue to espouse.” A bureaucracy calls itself the vessel of freedom! This is 1984 and newspeak indeed! It is also the voice of monopoly and unreason. Coercion remains in public schools, because they are agencies of the state; compulsory attendance laws, the persecution of Christian Schools, and the like. But education is disappearing.

There is no reason to believe that socialized medicine will be any better. It will rather become punitive medicine. Thus, the problem is not merely a Soviet problem: it is our problem as well.

The sphere of the state is the ministry of justice according to the Bible. Its activities are properly punitive, and its jurisdiction must be limited to those areas which are legitimately punitive. Healing is not one of these. When the state takes over all areas, coercion prevails in all areas. As a result, because no independent, uncoerced, and free voice exists, corruption is the bribe. Without it, the economy would collapse .11 As Brokchin further observed: “There will be a Watergate-style scandal in the Soviet Union. No party boss ever has been or ever will be brought to trial and jailed for bribery, corruption, or theft. If one corrupt high official were ever sent to jail, all the rest would have to go too, almost without exception.”12 Where charges of corruption are made in the U.S.S.R., they are a façade for a personal vendetta, or for coercing dissent.

American life—and medicine—needs to be preserved from statist controls. Punitive medicine is not an agency of healing but an aspect of total terror. Those who seek it should be viewed with distrust. At the very least, they suffer from moral and intellectual myopia. notes:

BIBLE BASICS: — “BIBLICAL SEPARATION”

Pastor Lawrence Blanchard

Everything we hear and see today from the media, government, school systems and even churches screams for integration of all races and cultures. This is true only in White nations. Although differences between the races and their cultures are typically minimized (i.e. “race is only skin deep”), yet significant differences in behavioral tendencies and IQ, for example, result in unending and detrimental conflict between races. This is demonstrated in Negro racial attitudes against Whites, and Asian racial attacks against Whites, not to mention the continuing phenomenon of “White flight” from the cities to the suburbs.

Racial and cultural integration is a teaching of Marxist philosophy for the purpose of equalizing all races. Why? To bring everyone into conformity to a global, communist government and absolute state control. Integration is a key element in the plan of the anti-Christ “system.”

The Bible as God’s Word, however, commands separation, not integration. God created all people to be different, and thus, all are to be separate. He even purposely separated the Adamic families of the sons of Noah at the Tower of Babel incident (Gen. 10:32-11:9) even though they were of the same race. If that is true for one race of people, how much more so for different racial kinds.

SEPARATION AS NATURAL LAW

God ordained the idea of separation in all His creation by design. It is called in the first chapter of Genesis “after their own kind.” In other words, different kinds of plants, and air, sea and land creatures were created with an inherent selection mechanism that would naturally cause them to mate and cohabit with “their own kind.” For example, the wheat plant would reproduce after its own kind, the gray whale after its own kind, the fox after its kind, and so on. In nature, hybrids are against God’s order.

In the same way, God created different races to naturally select within each race—Chinese with Chinese, Negro with Negro, White with White, etc. God made the differences between the races to be mutually repulsive to each other—differences in beauty, IQ and smell, for example. Chinese think White people smell like chickens and that is naturally abhorrent to them. White people naturally think the true bred Negro is ugly in appearance compared to their own kind.

God set up His natural law in the beginning to administer His creation order, not on the basis of integration, but separation. The major races of people today have each been created by God with physical and nonphysical differences so as to keep them separate. Integration is, therefore, contrary to that order.

SEPARATION PRACTICED

Abraham was commanded by God to separate from the pagan culture of the Adamic people of the land area known as “Ur of the Chaldeans” (Gen. 11:31; 12:1). He was to enter into another land that his descendants would later possess, but at that time was occupied by the cursed “original owners” - mixed peoples (the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, Jebusites, etc.). Abraham did not integrate with them, but remained separate.

When the time came to find a wife for his son Isaac, Abraham sent his servant back to his own family:

“And Abraham said unto his eldest servant of his house, that ruled over all that he had, Put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh: and I will make thee swear by the LORD, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife unto my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I dwell: but thou shalt go unto my country, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son Isaac.”—Genesis 24:2-4.

As a result, Rebekah, the granddaughter of Nahor, Abraham’s brother (Gen 24:15), became Isaac’s wife. Isaac also sent his son Jacob back to Abraham’s family to find a wife, instead of taking a wife from the cursed inhabitants of the land in which he was living.

“And Isaac called Jacob, and blessed him, and charged him, and said unto him, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan. Arise, go to Padan-aram, to the house of Bethuel thy mother’s father; and take thee a wife from thence of the daughters of Laban thy mother’s brother.”— Gen 28:1-2.

Jacob took several wives and sired twelve sons who would become the fathers of the twelve tribes of Israel. Separation was practiced by Abraham, Isaac and Jacob to produce a racial family that would inherit the covenant promises given to Abraham. For the people of Israel, God commanded through Moses that they be separate from all other peoples.

“And ye shall be holy (separated) unto me: for I the LORD am holy, and have severed you from other people, that ye should be mine.”—Lev. 20:26.

Could he really be guilty? A QUESTION OF GUILT Port Arthur - The Truth

Martin Bryant is serving 35 life sentences for the 1996 killings of 35 people at Tasmania’s historic Port Arthur penal settlement, in the world’s worst mass murder. Strangely, a legally required Coronial Inquiry was never held and mounting evidence shows that Martin Bryant was a convenient patsy. Police and politicians are extremely sensitive when issues are brought to light. It is a tragic situation when a mentally retarded Australian citizen can be held in custody for the rest of his life, without an advocate or a chance to have his day in court. In order to be assured of God's presence with Israel, Moses proclaimed that separation be practiced:

"For wherein shall it be known here that I and thy people have found grace in thy sight? Is it not in that thou goest with us? So shall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth."—Ex. 33:16.

Interracial marriage was likewise prohibited by commandment for all Israel:

"Neither shalt thou make marriages with them; thy daughter thou shalt NOT give unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son."—Deut 7:3.

Israel was commanded to be separate in order to preserve their racial, spiritual and cultural identity. They were warned that if they did not obey, that mixed marriages would "turn" their "sons and daughters away from following" God "to serve other gods..." (Deut 7:4).

After the Babylonian exile, when some of the house of Judah had tried to return to their land, they had taken foreign wives and had children by them. Before they could re-enter the land, they were commanded to obey the Law to separate from them.

"And Ezra the priest stood up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed, and have taken strange wives, to increase the trespass of Israel. Now therefore make confession unto the LORD God of your fathers, and do his pleasure: and separate yourselves from the people of the land, and from the strange wives. Then all the congregation answered and said with a loud voice, As thou hast said, so must we do."—Ezra 10:10-12.

CONCLUSION

The historical record of the Bible shows consistently that separation of the Adamic people, i.e. White (showing 'blood in the face') people, is ordained by God. Because the New Covenant in Jesus Christ is interdependent with all the other covenants of Scripture, separation of White people from the others must be practiced (NO coloured adoptions—no interracial marriages). The New Covenant is only relevant for God's people who have maintained separation as a part of holiness.

The history of civilizations records that homogenous societies are the most stable, progressive and prosperous. Integration signals the destruction of civilization.

In America and other northwestern European nations, the rapid decline of civilization is apparent. One primary reason is that integration of all races and cultures is being promoted and enforced by the present governments and, more grievously, by Judaeo-Christian churches. But it can be stopped and reversed if only the pastors would preach the truth. Tell the pastors to start preaching the gospel of the New Covenant and not the heretical universal one.

America lived for a long time in a state of apartheid. It wasn't until 1947 (the same year when Aleister Crowley died) when Major League Baseball lifted the ban on colored ballplayers. Up until that time, major league ballplayers were all white. The same was true with football, hockey, and most of the other sports. It was true in colleges and high schools.

The colored teams were playing mostly in their own majors, colleges and high schools. They were separate. Much of America was very similar to what South Africa was several decades ago. Most colored players could only play in the colored leagues and schools.

Why was America like this? Was it good or bad? What did so many people in the United States take a negative stance on South Africa, Rhodesia and other black nations? The United States supported Nelson Mandela and Bishop Tutu, known Communists. Is South Africa better now or when they were under Apartheid? Most blacks will now tell you things were better under Apartheid.

It has been over 50 years since America's apartheid "separate but equal" clause was ended. Federal troops led the change in the schools. We have a whole new generation of people who know nothing but the present. People who advocate what used to be are thought to be evil and dangerous.

But wait a minute. Everyone is now considered to be equal. Women, all races, the partners in marriage—what does our GOD say about these situations? Either we are right now; which means that our grandfathers were wrong for 5800 years.

We have made many changes in the last 150 years: feminism, integration in neighbourhoods, ball teams, armed forces, schools; same-sex marriages, establishing Christmas and Easter as legal holidays, psychology, miscegenation, drug treatment, vaccines, etc. Was America wrong in the beliefs that were opposite these views or is America now wrong in accepting the changes that have occurred?

"... And now, Israel, what doth the LORD thy God require of thee, but to fear the LORD thy God, to walk in all His ways, and to love Him, and to serve the LORD thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, To keep the commandments of the LORD, and His statutes, which I command thee this day for thy good? Behold, the heaven and the heaven of heavens is the LORD'S thy God, the earth also, with all that therein is. 'SET THINE HOUSE IN ORDER'

by Michael Reed

In 2 Kings chapters 18-20, we find a story that foretells of a situation in America today. Hezekiah was king in Israel of the House of Judah who "did that which was right in the sight of the LORD."

Hezekiah was challenged by an enemy (Sennacherib) who was preparing to storm the land and take it over. But Hezekiah trusted in the LORD God of Israel and spread the matter before Him and the LORD delivered Israel from the hand of the Assyrians.

Upon deliverance from his enemy the prophet Isaiah came to the king Hezekiah as recorded in 2 Kings 20:1, and gave him disturbing news. He said, he was appointed to die, every man is, and must set his "house in order"!

Our Bible tells us that Hezekiah trusted the LORD (v.18:5); and that he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD (v 18:3)) and had removed the high places, broken down the images to other gods, and cut down the groves where idol worship and perverted homosexual acts took place (v 18:4); and he defended the LORD's honor and majesty defying king Sennacherib when asked "whom doth thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?" Hadn't Hezekiah brought the blasphemous letter from Sennacherib and spread it before the LORD and prayed for the God of Israel to "save thou us out of his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD God, even thou only." And then, hadn't the God of Israel done what he asked?

Yet, the LORD God of Israel informs Hezekiah that what he has done falls short of what He expects. There are many in our land today who don't have their house in order. Do you?

Well Pastor, just what does that mean? For Hezekiah and all the rest of us that means to repent of conducting our lives the way Jesus Christ has commanded. This is not a suggestion.

The word "repent" is from the Greek word in Strong's Concordance #G3340, meaning, "to think differently, that is, reconsider (morally to feel compunction):—repent." It means further to change your mind about what and how you're doing something. It's understanding that quite often "it's me" not "them"!

Up 'set your house in order' one must first realize that something is askew. For this to occur you must get 'eyes to see' the actual condition one is in; we've got to see the way we live, the conditions of our life, of our family and of our land. We must then be sorry enough to change that condition through heartfelt conviction and repentance doing all we can do while calling on Jesus to help.

I'm speaking to people who are in a covenant and saving relationship with Jesus Christ, yet it requires confession of sins of omission as well as commission. We cannot continue to ignore the wrongs or sins done in our society or even our own house (family) if we expect to see a return of Godliness in this nation. We must obey God rather than man. We must start behaving in accordance with His Word. One man's sin affects all of us (Joshua 7).

The ignoring of the sins of our brethren in our society by the soldier saints of Jesus Christ has placed us on dangerous ground in our personal relationship with Christ Jesus and in our land—Christianity is not a social club. Tolerance is the trait of another religion—Not Christianity! Tolerance makes us partakers of the sins of that which we tolerate. Christ our King has instructed us in righteousness and is clear when he commands us to do all he says (Deut 28:1). Psalm 50:16-22 is speaking to the wicked, those double-minded who claim Christianity. Taking God's name—His Word—in vain is wickedness which Christ will judge, be hot or cold. The Psalmist says that, "... thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name." (Psa. 138:2).

If a man witness an evil act and says or does nothing to prevent its continuing he is consenting to the act. He thus forgets his God (Deut 8:11; Psa 9:17) and brings himself into the sin by not reproving or rebuking the act and giving tacit approval (Eph 5:11).

In Scripture, a rebuke is a "chastisement; punishment; affliction for the purpose of restraint and correction. It is to warn or notify of a fault; to reprove, censure or admonish; by implication forbid." Ezekiel says, "When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand." (Ezek 33:8).

How can our house—personal, familial or national—be 'in order' if we don't remove sin, if we sit and do nothing to correct wrong? How can we expect the conditions in our corner of the land be different or to change unless each of us takes up the mantle Jesus Christ has charged us and obey his commands? Speaking of unrepentant Cretan Christians,

Paul says at Titus 1:13, "rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith." Wisdom must be used in giving reproof, "rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee. Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom." Proverbs 9:8-10.

Ezra rebuked the men of Israel for taking strange wives; Nehemiah rebuked the nobles and rulers for taking usury; Jesus rebuked Peter and the other disciples and a variety of evil spirits. Paul said, "Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear." 1 Tim 5:20. This is not a suggestion, it is the duty of mature saints to correct error so we may be "sound in the faith."

In summation, we can do all the right things, but if we neglect to correct our child when he commots error, he assumes it is perfectly alright to continue committing that error. Same applies to our neighbour and brethren, if they are in visible error—sin—it is our duty to correct them, lest they assume it is acceptable to continue.

WHAT IS GOVERNMENT? the definition of government

Could anyone improve on H.L. Mencken's definition of government?

"The government consists of a gang of men exactly like you and me. They have, taking one with another, no special talent for the business of government; they have only a talent for getting and holding office. Their principal device to that end is to search out groups who pant and pine for something they can't get and to promise to give it to them. Nine times out of ten that promise is worth nothing. The tenth time is made good by looting A to satisfy B. In other words, government is a broker in pillage, and every election is sort of an advance auction sale of stolen goods."
(received by email.)

"And it shall be, when the LORD thy God shall have brought thee into the land which he swore unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give thee great and goodly cities, which thou buildest not, And houses full of all good things, which thou filledst not, and wells digged, which thou diggedst not, vineyards and olive trees, which thou plantedst not; when thou shalt have eaten and be full; Then beware lest thou forget the LORD, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage."
Deut 6:10-12.

Note the word "beware." Many have put much of their life into the building of the nation, putting their heart and soul into many aspects of labor—in farming or various industries. And the Lord says that when things become good and there seems to be plenty, we must beware lest we forget Him. There was always the danger that the children of Israel would forget the Lord their God and turn aside to other gods or neglect to put proper emphasis on being servants of that living God. Whenever this happened, they got into difficulty. It is so easy to think that "we" did it all by ourselves, or that "we" were so smart. "But thou shalt remember the Lord thy God: for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth..." (Deut 8:18. - But... "Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings." (Mal 3:8).-
