"Blessed be the LORD God of Israel; For He hath visited and redeemed His people, And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began; That we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our lives." ### FEMINISM: THE CAUSTIC EXPLOSION THAT IS DESTROYING AMERICA by Andrea Roltgen

America is built on a foundation of principles that are everlasting; God and His righteous Laws, rights that are endowed to us by God, not by man, and a framework of government that is based on those two truths.

Through those foundations, a great nation was born. Every brick laid to raise this great land above the crumbling efforts of other government systems, was once mortared with a common understanding and agreement of the basic founding principles. This meant acknowledgement of the truth of Good vs Evil, and that the strength of a uniquely free society is found within the individual hand-built walls of personal freedom and responsibility that are forged by strong families with unwavering commitment to God.

Since feminism was mottled together out of a deep disdain for God's perfectly created order for men and women, it fuelled the desire to rebel against the foundations of family. Therefore, the erosive movement was able to gain intense momentum as it was paired perfectly with societal shift. Our nation became less concerned with foundations, more influenced by European Marxism, and sought out the Babylonian cry for feminism among women, and later brought along men, who all reject God. Suddenly, the use of the once sacred mortar of our foundations of God, Constitution and iron-clad families of strength, were abandoned to pursue anti-godly endeavors and selfishly built altars of sin.

It was inevitable by this point, that this movement would begin the most corrosive of all forces to weaken the fortress of family, and bring down the entire societal house of cards; from the inside out.

God defines the strength of women far differently from how the feminist and feminist-influenced society defines it.

"Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies." Proverbs 31:10. Read the entire chapter here.

This is one of several places in the Bible where God describes what He has designed women to aspire to. Rather, today, our culture follows Margaret Sanger, Gloria Steinem, Ashley Judd and whoever is on tap for a little shock presentation of rebellion against womanhood.

In history, it was a great honor to be a woman who was defined by her feminine nature! Now, these characteristics: Femininity, modesty, motherhood, and joy-filled pursuit of God's will and His Kingdom are nothing more than "something women used to be" in the minds of most women in our nation. Women today are no longer measured (even in much of the Christian community) by these definitions, but rather by their materialistic success, achievement and pursuit of feminist ideals. These "archaic" and God-defined characteristics today falsely reflect weakness and "oppression" in the minds of our depraved and indoctrinated culture.

Gloria Steinem, one of the first hippie feminists to lead the mainstream destruction of family, the sanctity of life and marriage, and a free society, put the goal quite simply when she said:

"We don't just want to destroy capitalism, we want to tear down the whole f*** patriarchy!"

The women's movement has been led by the group, the National Organization of Women (NOW), and has essentially become the ideological side-car of the Democratic Party. The feminist movement does not simply seek "equal rights," but rather has become the Marxist fuel behind the radical environmentalist movement, the abortion mill industry, homosexual "rights" and homosexual "marriage," and social justice agendas set forth on the foundations of redistributive wealth and entitlement socialism.

Radical feminism has truly been the best vehicle for dismantling the family unit, and indoctrinating generations of youth for their abominable causes that are united together with one commonality: “Anything that destroys the foundations of this free nation falls under our umbrella and becomes our brain child.”

“We want to destroy the three pillars of class and a caste society — the family, private property, and the state.”

The feminist movement likes to point to some mirage of history when they point out “all the housewives who were beaten, enslaved and without education” before feminism. Yet they fail to remember that they are the very movement that has enslaved women. Prior to no-fault divorce, women and families that were abandoned were an extremely rare, nearly unknown happening. Marriage was for life, and fathers were the heads of the families. The ties that bound people together prevented an entire underclass of women that we have today.

“The number of displaced homemakers rose twenty-eight percent between 1975 and 1983 to more than three million women. Another twenty percent increase from 1983 to 1988 brought that number to more than four million. An astonishing sixty-one percent of those women suddenly left alone had children under the age of ten at home. Often without job skills and stranded without alimony of child support, as many as seventy percent of these women make less than ten thousand dollars a year, and fifty percent are employed at minimum wage or less. It is, thus, readily apparent why a full seventy-five percent of all Americans living below the poverty line in the United States are women and their children.” (Sylvia Ann Hewlett, A Lesser Life: The Myth of Women’s Liberation in America (New York - William Morrow, 1986).

Today we have an entire generation of young female adults who know nothing of how to raise children, care for a home, cook healthy and economical foods, stay within a budget, promote healthy lifestyles, etc. We are drug and doctor dependent. Once tried and true home remedies, healthy living, stability for children, bedtimes, Bible-reading routines and family unity were a given. Now they are rare. Shuttled back and forth between broken families, staying so busy with activities that we never have time to stop and contemplate the destruction that the large purchase of feminism has left us with.

Lacking strong fathers who will lead by example, discipline, and require responsibility from their children, mothers are left to carry out their feminist leanings by playing both man and woman. Since that part cannot successfully be done by one gender, the prescription bottle often manipulates the child’s psyche enough to eliminate some of the strain of discipline. The instances of young children on psychotropic drugs is skyrocketing, and does not bode well for the mental health of our upcoming generations.

With homes in chaos, mess and disarray, and kitchens largely left abandoned in pursuit of feminism, a generation has been raised on fast food not as a rare treat for a family, but as the staple diet. Few young ladies know how to cook. We’ve lost the tradition of the family dinner table that provides far more than nourishment for the body! It’s where in our nation’s precious history, great young minds learned the Bible, learned the Constitution, hashed out their disagreements, their desires and hopes, and learned to be respectful and mindful of those with more life experience than them.

Women have enjoyed the new liberation they have sought. Now, the some who are awakening from the great lie of feminism are complaining about “where have all the good men gone?” They are realizing their blasphemy of foundations and family have left them wanting. Young men must forge through vast seas of princess girls: raised on daddy debt, promiscuity and indulgence of self. Young “ladies” who dress like tramps, serve only self, and will cut and run the first time real life calls on them to be the women God calls them to be. Hating the idea of motherhood, pregnancy, and self-sacrifice, they are raised to be little she-males from the time they are young. Never to be tied to the home, they reject lifestyles that must be “below them,” such as the very backbone of the Christian family: making a home for a husband, raising Godly children, and serving one’s community by being a woman of virtue,

Nearly every piece of marital advice found today, even much within the Christian community, points to feminist influence. Blending and “sharing” gender roles is applicable for all in an effort to avoid “oppressing women” with straight talk about the blessing of actually being in love with fulfilling womanhood. Men are demasculinized, women are masculinized and defeminised and God’s Word on families is marginalised.

As this country slips more rapidly towards global Marxism than ever seen in history, we must realize that it is the feminist movement which has funded and propelled the destruction of our great nation more than any other philosophy. The hatred of God, men, (specifically white men) and traditional families has caustic reactions on our foundations. The erosion has turned to a great crumbling, and without a foundation of God and strong families, we are built of nothing more than reeds upon sinking sand.

WHY THE SPIRITUAL ISRAEL CONCEPT IS WRONG

by Dave Barley

For the Lord’s portion is his people; Jacob is the lot of his inheritance. Deuteronomy 32:9

First off, before we get into the meat of this needed Bible study. Most of you have been very thankful and supportive of these special studies on this highly controversial Bible topic concerning “race-mixing.” Some of you though, are outraged that a minister would dare speak on “such an offensive” subject. A few have even written and asked to be removed from our mailing list. These “highly spiritual thinkers” deem “other ministers” they know to be more loving, open, and not as “callous” in their views.

Well, I am far from an unloving, cold-hearted, uncaring minister of the Gospel. In fact, I care so much about the TRUTH that I will not compromise on the TRUTH. I certainly do not require large numbers or groupie support, and I am not alone in this Biblical understanding that race-mixing is a genocidal plague that needs to be confronted with the Light of God’s Word. So, I will not back down from exposing and confronting this false teaching of SPIRITUAL ISRAEL. In fact, I feel so strongly about this issue that, if it ever came to it, I would shut down this ministry before I join the “crowd” and let them form me into some Aaron, “let’s build a golden calf” of popular Hollywoodized “race-mixing” frenzy.

For well over 50 years, Christianity has been watered down and diluted with permissiveness in vital areas of Biblical conduct. Consider the sacred institution of marriage. That alone has been degraded and disrespected to the point it is almost meaningless today. Furthermore both “adultery and fornication,” are terms that directly apply to race-mixing and the adulteration of “kind after kind.” “Thou shalt not commit adultery,” (Exodus 20:14) literally means thou shalt not adulterate yourselves. Jesus charged Israel with being an “adulterous generation.” (Matt.12:39; 16:4; Mark 8:38). This applies to both physical and spiritual adulteration of which there are numerous Biblical example of, including, the days of Nehemiah and Ezra.

I do want it understood that I am not against racially mixed people. What happened to them is not their fault. It was the fault of their parents. Now they can be bitter and angry about this, or, they can seek the healing, leading power of the Holy Spirit and seek to be an instrument of healing truth and Biblical understanding. Some of you have asked me what I would recommend racially-mixed people do regarding finding a mate they can marry. Well, my best advise at this time, is follow the “kind after kind” Biblical principle, meaning, you are what you are, and who you are. Don’t hide from this or pretend you are other than what you are, a mulatto (racially-mixed) person. So, a mixed-race person should marry another mixed-race person.. I believe this would be in keeping with the “kind after kind” principle. And now, on with our study.

The Babylonian message of the day is “race is not important, and too much is being made out of race.” Well, I’m here to tell you friends, “THAT’S PURE BABYLONIAN BULL!” What Babylon does is glorify and relish in is the flesh, NOT RACE. Babylon does everything in its power to mix, mingle, corrupt, and pervert “race,” especially that of the White Caucasian race. Sadly, there are ministers dabbling in the Anglo-Israel message who are out there preaching that “race is not important, that the only thing that matters is the spiritual.” You have to admit that on the surface that type of preaching sounds so “spiritual and enlightening,” but it is pure Babylonian BULL. Here’s what I mean. I mean that when God Almighty created the races in His “KIND AFTER KIND” process, He created something good, unperturbed, right, and genetically pure for each racial entity. He did not create each unique race so man could come along and racially mix, or may I even more bluntly say, “BASTARDIZE” His “kind after kind” creation. Please note that I am not even slightly hinting that man is spiritually perfect, sinless, or that his race alone saves him. ALL HAVE SINNED AND FALLEN SHORT OF THE GLORY OF JESUS CHRIST. But man being out of order with God’s Will is no excuse for him to keep moving in the wrong direction.

Now, I know that some of you are probably outraged by my opening comments, BUT WHY? Again I ask, WHY? Are you outraged because you think I’m Biblically wrong, in which case, you must obviously believe race-mixing is perfectly OK, and that I am a hard-hearted insensitive racist. Well, I am guilty of having a love for my racial kinsmen according to the flesh as the Apostle Paul did (Romans 9:3).

And I am guilty of being Biblically and Spiritually moved by the fact that God has a strong Biblical record of being devoted to His Abrahamic Covenant people, and therefore I, unapologetically, also love my kinsmen with all their spiritual imperfections and shortcomings. In plain terms, yes, I do love and support my race, and I mainly want to be among my own kind as strange as that may sound in today’s multi-culturally minded world. All over America you can see very apparent examples of white flight. I saw this many years ago in San Antonio. Lovey-dovey white people claiming to be racially blind, would rapidly sell their property when “minorities” moved into their neighborhoods and crime increased.

RACIAL COMMONSENSE

I am not saying, nor do I believe that we cannot witness the good news of Jesus Christ to the other races, but do so without minds of mush, meaning, always be mindful of who you are and with a high degree of reverence and respect for the principles of the Kingdom of God. This certainly includes not perverting who we are or abusing God’s precious order and design (Matthew 7:6 seems appropriate here, CIM). The creation out of order with the blessed purposes of the Creator is sad indeed and we are witnessing the ramifications of this perversion in today’s Babylonian world that is OUT OF ORDER WITH THE KINGDOM OF GOD. Let us not be ignorant of the fact that much of what we see lived, believed, and practiced by the world today is totally out of order with the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness.

But what about the other races Pastor and all their problems, don’t you love them also and care about them and their plight in this unfair world we live in? Well, may I ask, on what level are we to consider this? On a worldly level, or on a Biblical level? Certainly we would want to consider this on a Biblical level. If I may be so bold in quoting myself, I want to make this Biblically inspired point, “If we loosely throw around the Covenant calling of God and we multi-racially apply the Israel Covenant, we very plainly Babylonianize the Plan of God, and we return to the confusion of the tower of Babel. Good intentions and hearts of love will not stave off the open door of multiple forms of worldly corrupting love perverting the best intentions of man.” Remember these Biblical facts: God called Abraham to be separate, to come out of his own family (Gen.12:1-3) and with the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, God would raise them up to become His Kingdom people, He has called us to “seek the Kingdom of God and His righteousness” (Matthew 6:33).

Few Christians want to face the reality of Amos 3:2, “You only have I known (Israel) of all the families of the earth: therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities.” Was God ignorant of the other races or people of His creation? Certainly not, however, He did not enter into Covenant with them. Doesn’t the Bible tell us in Malachi 3:6 “For I am the Lord, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.” Understand this Biblical reality. When it comes to Israel’s Covenant consideration, God Almighty made Covenant with Abraham in the Old Testament. He did not change His Covenant Purpose with the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (Israel) in the New Testament. “I CHANGE NOT” He told us, and this means His Word and His Covenant with Israel has not changed. The New Covenant was not transformed into a spiritual melting pot. Our proof again is in the New Covenant itself which is defined and unambiguously declared in Hebrews 8: 8-10:

“For finding fault with them (Israel), he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah: Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord. For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

The Spiritual Israel teaching contradicts the Old and New Covenants. It spiritualizes away the clear whole Bible teaching of the Israel message, which is, “Who are Israelites; to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises.” (Romans 9:4).

The Anglo-Israel people are not equally yoked or bonded together with non-Israelites! Even with God fearing Christian non-Israelites. You cannot call this present day Sodom and Gomorrah America a godly test market for the true blossoming forth of the Anglo-Israel Covenant people. We have been corralled like sheep for the slaughter, dumbled down to the point we cannot rise up as God’s battle Axe and weapons of war for a true national healing and restoration. The Spiritual Israel LIE is a corrupting feminization that robs God’s people of their rightful Biblical Heritage.

LESSONS FROM NEHEMIAH

There was nothing effeminate about Nehemiah and we so need men, yes men like Nehemiah today. And here’s why: Nehemiah 13:1-3

“On that day they read in the book of Moses in the audience of the people; and therein was found written, that the Ammonite and the Moabite should not come into the congregation of God for ever; Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: howbeit our God turned the curse into a blessing. 3Now it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel all the mixed multitude.”

Please notice “THEY SEPARATED FROM ISRAEL ALL THE MIXED MULTITUDE.” What an unfeeling, insensitive thing for Nehemiah and the Levites of Israel to have done according to man’s worldly reasoning? Where’s the love, and the message of Spiritual Israel in these verses? Surely what they did must have been unbiblical.

Only problem with that argument is that this is what the Word of God says. Now unless you believe you can do away with the Old Testament teachings and prefer to believe that its precepts are unspiritual outdated words, then you’ve got a problem, especially since Jesus Himself quoted from the Old Testament.

I know it’s popular today to be open and inclusive and it makes us feel so warm and fuzzy inside but it’s a bad idea to trust your feelings. We are told in Jeremiah 17:9, “The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?” You’re certainly free to look at this issue emotionally, and with an unchecked love, but I would strongly suggest that if you want to be a part of the solution rather than the problem that you be more open to the warnings of God’s Word. First of all, what Old Testament verses are referenced in Nehemiah 13: 1 & 2? The Levites were quoting from Deuteronomy 23, vers 2-3.

“A bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to his tenth generation shall he not enter into the congregation of the Lord. An Ammonite or Moabite shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the Lord for ever.”

PROGRESSIVE CHRISTIANITY = PROGRESSIVE DESTRUCTION OF CHRISTIANITY

Outraged Spiritual Israel advocates will say the verses in Nehemiah limit or restrict only the Ammonites and the Moabites, not all people. Do you mean to tell me that among all the other non-Adamic, non-Israel people that they have a clean pass to come in and racially mix and mingle with Israel, except for the Ammonites and Moabites? That is New Age-inclusiveness, world endorsed thinking. Verse 3 says, “Now it came to pass, when they had heard the law, that they separated from Israel ALL the mixed multitude.” The Bible forbidding the Ammonites and the Moabites from coming into the congregation of God forever was not an open door policy to all other races, but a separation from “ALL the mixed multitude.” In other words, all non-Israelites or non-Adamites and mixed-breeds.

Modern day Judeo-Christianity has it all wrong in being open, inclusive, and conditionless in welcoming and advocating racially mixed congregations, though it certainly is “fashionable,” and is promoted as being “highly spiritually advanced.” No!, modernistic Christianity has it wrong. Race-relations without proper Biblical guidelines and conditions degenerates and corrupts the blessed spectrum of true Christian Light. Race mixing only encourages more race mixing and the seed of such seeks carnal satisfaction of the rage and bitterness they feel in the mix they have become. In a very real sense, it is a crime against nature and natures God, Jesus Christ.

Some of you take pride in reading and applying certain Laws of God, like the laws of restitution, but let’s not just pick and choose. Let’s seek to understand and apply the whole counsel of God’s Word for our blessing and restoration. The Spiritual Israel lie is doing nothing but embracing racial amalgamation under the pretext that this will bring about more spiritual unity and harmony. Well, this all sounds spiritual, but, the end result is hardly that of Kingdom Biblical order, but it sure fits spiritualized united race relations conditioning.

I have lovingly, kindly, and patiently witnessed the Gospel of Christ to many dark skinned people, and will happily do so whenever the opportunity presents itself, but there are certain dangerous lines of integration that we must not cross. I have seen much good Christian fruit in many of them, and I am blessed to know them and befriend them, but, in proper Biblical order, they need to be among their own kind, and Adamic Israel people need to be among their kind. Being unequally yoked together is not just about religion, it’s also about race, and unchecked racial grouping can and often will lead to racially mixed marriages and racially confused values. People, especially the children, lose their racial identity in racially mixed relations, but with spiritual Israel warped values, you are conditioned to just look beyond such notions, because they are viewed as racist. Thus, in such environments, multiculturalism and racial liberalism grows unchecked and unimpeded.

In today's world of misguided love and acceptance, it is easy to stand with the spiritual Israel crowd and feel secure in the numbers, but it is a false security. While the world wants us to feel horrible for defending racial preservation and even Biblical racial truth, we need to stand tall, support our kinsmen according to the flesh as the Apostle Paul did. I refuse to participate in the racial and spiritual destruction of God's Covenant people. The doing away of essential Biblical preservative laws, judgments, and principles of righteousness in either the Old or New Testaments is the road to national destruction, and much of this is being done under the guise of "spirituality" to break down the application of Kingdom principles (laws).

Hosea 5:7

"They have dealt treacherously against the Lord: for they have begotten strange (ZUWR) children:"

NEHEMIAH PROVES STRANGERS ARE NOT EQUAL WITH ISRAEL

There are several Hebrew words for "stranger" such as "ger," "tashab," "zuwr," "nekar," or "nokri." To a large extent, Zuwr, and Nekar strangers are of a different kind than Adam kind. Race-mixing with them (Zuwr and Nekar) is always prohibited, but among Adamic strangers, marriage is permitted for it is not interracial. Remember, there are White Adamic strangers and sojourners as Abraham himself was of this kind, and there are non-Adamic people (Zuwr or Nekar) strangers.

Mongrelization or race-mixing destroys race. It is racial genocide. When people have been conditioned to believe that racial defense is somehow shameful, and values that must be shunned, this only encourages racial genocide. Now, I truly do not mean to be offensive, but let's face it, most Christians today are quite fond of "bastards" and they will band together and fight you tooth and toenail to make them fully included, appreciated, and unconditionally loved. Of course, they will dislike me for even bringing this up, and completely forget what the Word of God says in Nehemiah 13 and Deuteronomy 23, as well as numerous other Bible passages, as if Pastor Barley is the problem. Ignoring the problem will do nothing about the bastardization of our people and the growing mongrelization problem in our nation, let alone the rest of the world.

Of course, the idea of racial preservation today is unthinkable and viewed as evil according to man, but, no my friend it is Biblical, and all your warm fuzzy feelings to the contrary will not change this Biblical fact. As we read on in Nehemiah 13: 23, we find some tough love verses that few Christians seem to want to dare associate with, or think of as SPIRITUAL.

True, people will and do try to negate the verses you are about to read, but God is not the author of confusion and He does not change. Man does. Nehemiah 13:23-31

"In those days also saw I Jews that had married wives of Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab: And their children spake half in the speech of Ashdod, and could not speak in the Jews' language, but according to the language of each people. And I contended with them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God, saying, Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters unto your sons, or for yourselves. Did not Solomon king of Israel sin by these things? yet among many nations was there no king like him, who was beloved of his God, and God made him king over all Israel: nevertheless even him did outlandish women cause to sin.

The worldly gospel according to man's self-centered sense of awareness has permitted men and women to become most tolerant of today's free to mix and match anything goes world. "Don't judge, that isn't fair, God's Laws no longer apply, that isn't very loving," mumbo jumbo. The problems keep growing and increasing with severity because no one has the righteous sense of fortitude to say, "STOP THE MADNESS!" But Nehemiah had the righteous sense of fortitude to say it.

By way of illustration, if you and I were to point out to certain people, that a growing number of Americans "speak half in the speech of a Caucasian person, and half in the speech of a Haitian," (or African) we would be hated, ridiculed, and thought of as being most unchristian. Yet, that is exactly what Nehemiah reports happened in these verses, and he "contended with them, and cursed them, and smote certain of them, and plucked off their hair, and made them swear by God ... Ye shall not give your daughters unto their sons, nor take their daughters unto your sons, or for yourselves." Now I'm certainly not encouraging any of you to react the way Nehemiah did, but it is obvious he did not take the sin of miscegenation lightly, nor should we.

In addition the warning is given in verse 27, "Did not Solomon king of Israel SIN by these things?" Sin is a pretty strong word, but this word is equally applicable to our day and time as well. Sure, in many ways this generation is on a downhill slope to DISASTERVILLE, and we can continue to look the other way and try to pretend the problem away, or we can draw a line in the sand and take a stand for Biblical order, teach it, and encourage each other to follow and live by its precepts. Remember, God didn't condemn something in the Old Testament, and then legalize it in the New Testament. Should we be proud of Nehemiah and his bold stand for the truth of God's Word, or should we join the world and ridicule him as an insensitive racist who's out of touch with the reality of world conditions? Verse 27:

"Shall we then hearken unto you to do all this great evil, to transgress against our God in marrying strange wives? And one of the sons of Joiada, the son of Eliashib the high priest, was son in law to Sanballat the Horonite: therefore I chased him from me.

Remember them, O my God, because they have defiled the priesthood, and the covenant of the priesthood, and of the Levites. Thus cleansed I them from all strangers (NEKAR), and appointed the wards of the priests and the Levites, every one in his business; And for the wood offering, at times appointed, and for the firstfruits. Remember me, O my God, for good.”

Well, I have to ask, have I become your enemy because I have told you some uncomfortable truths from the Word of God? Now I was born and raised in the South, but I think both the North and the South were wrong. Just setting the slaves free to live and openly dwell in America was not the right solution, and, certainly, slavery was not Biblical, at least not the way the South did it. We should have sent the Negroes back to Africa, and made a reasonable form of restitution for our wrongs in the way we handled this matter. The principle of cleansing ALL NON-ADAMIC STRANGERS from our land as stated in verse 30 is not unbiblical, or cruel, or inhuman, it is moving within Covenant understanding and Kingdom order. This, of course, did not happen, and there is always a national price to be paid for our national sins. 2 Chronicles 7:14 is our only way of deliverance by way of Covenant.

This particular Bible study could go on in many helpful areas of Scriptural insight. I would recommend though, that all of you obtain a copy of my book ISRAEL, SPIRITUAL OR PHYSICAL? LET'S WEIGH THE EVIDENCE for further research into this issue of “Spiritual Israel.” It is certainly my prayer that this study has been helpful and answers a number of your questions.

I certainly believe it is wrong to hate someone because of their skin color or race, I believe we should be kind to all people as long as they are not seeking to hurt our life, liberty, or property. But at the same time, being a melting pot of racial indifference only promotes indifference to what God's Word declares about race and racial guidelines.

A SOUND MIND

by pastor Roy Anderson

Break Thou the bread of life, Dear Lord to me,
As Thou didst break the loaves beside the sea;
Beyond the sacred page, I seek Thee Lord;
My spirit pants for Thee, O living Word.

O Send Thy Spirit Lord, Now unto me,
That He may touch my eyes and make me see:
Show me thy truth concealed within Thy Word,
And in Thy book revealed I see the Lord.

Our human bodies are packed from the top of our heads to the soles of our feet with mysterious arranged organs, nerves, bones, sinews and the skin. One has to be amazed at its incredible durability. As a senior citizen, this becomes more apparent as the years roll by. But if we take all the parts together and compare them, each with the other, none is more potent than that of the mind. The mind is a tremendous force that controls all that is in the body. It is likened unto a storehouse, a mighty transformer pouring out its energy and wisdom for every situation of life: it lies as a sleeping volcano, sometimes erupting, pouring out smoke and fire, or the mind can be as a tornado, destroying everything in its path within minutes or hours. This power that lies in the mind can be a power for good or evil. The mind can turn us into a raging maniac or lead us into sublime heights.

Arriving back from a conference in San Diego, I was refreshed and renewed in the Spirit of (the) Christ, and rejoiced in fellowship with my brothers and sisters in (the) Christ; God has given us a sound mind, but there are some who do not have a sound mind.

“For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.” (2 Tim. 1:7).

God is good! For He has blessed His people with many physical and mental benefits for daily use. God's will is that our minds, as well as our bodies, be instruments of righteousness, doing good and at peace with God. Evil forces with all their cunningness and strategy, know how to take the Christian mind and turn it into their playground, thus causing confusion, frustration, tension and anxiety. Besides all these, worry seems to be the chief tool of these evil forces. Your mind, through your nervous system, affects every part of your body; wrong thinking causes heart failure, high blood pressure, ulcers, hypertension and scores of fatal maladies coming from this source. “As we think, Thus are we!”

When we worry, we are divided in our thinking. We cannot make a clear decision; it is next to impossible. Our perspective of things is clouded and blurred; understanding is lost and we cannot comprehend or understand or grasp the situation. There's a difference between the worlds “concern” and “worry.” A concerned person thinks about the problem, plans what to do about it and then takes action to end the dilemma. Concern is meditative; worry is confusion, frustration and anxiety.

I am concerned about the ministry here in Las Cruces, especially when those outside the realm of the Kingdom Gospel are determined to cause confusion and frustration by their fables. These people are double-minded and unstable in all their ways, as we are told in James 1:8.

God's Word gives direction on this matter of concern, for concern is hope; worry is hopelessness.

“Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; And lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and he shall direct thy paths. Be not wise in thine own eyes; Fear the Lord, and depart from evil.” (Prov. 3:5-7).

I have before me a book given to me by Brother George Southwick of California, titled “The New Testament in Modern English,” by J.B. Phillips. Here is what is said concerning worry.

“Don't worry over anything whatever; tell God every detail of your needs in earnest and thankful prayer, and the peace of God, which transcends human understanding, will keep constant guard over your hearts and minds as they rest in the Christ Jesus.” (Phil. 4:6-7, Phillips translation).

God's Word tells us how we should be as Christians. I have often wondered if I should throw my hat in first, before I visit people who are double-minded. One never knows how one is going to find them on a day to day basis.

“Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, Whose hope is in the Lord his God.” (Psalm 146:5)

There's an old saying, but it's worth mentioning concerning living for today. It goes like this:

“Yesterday is a cancelled check, and cannot be negotiated; tomorrow is a promissory note which cannot be used yet; and today only is cash in hand and is negotiable.”

We must live for today; don't borrow from yesterday's woes; don't reach for tomorrow, for God told the Psalmist:

“This is the day which the Lord hath made; We will rejoice and be glad in it.” (Psalm 118:24).

Count your blessings, dearly beloved, name them one by one, and you will be surprised what the Lord hath done. God's people, Israel, are to lay hold on God. It is God's business to keep His people happy and joy filled through our faith in the Christ, Jesus. Our Messiah, Priest and coming King did not leave us without a word on this important subject concerning life's worries, confusion, frustrations, tensions, and anxieties. Do you remember what Jesus said in the Gospel of Matthew? Jesus said:

“Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought (be not anxious) for your life, what ye shall eat, what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what you shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment? Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they? Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature? And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which today is, (Psalm 118:24) and tomorrow is cast into the oven, shall He not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Therefore take no thought saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘Wherewithal shall we be clothed?’ For after all these things do the nations seek: for your Heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.” (Matthew 6:25-34).

Through prayer, praise and thanksgiving, which is a vital element in the lives of God's people Israel, He enables His people to spiritually lift their hearts and minds, higher and closer to God. It is difficult to praise God in the midst of our problems, but it is possible. Did you notice the direction Jesus gave to His people in Matthew 6:34? Jesus said to leave tomorrow where it belongs. Don't try to cross that bridge before you get to it. Let tomorrow rest in God's hands, for “God is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think” (Eph. 3:20). Call upon God for today's problems; let tomorrow be in God's hands.

“By Him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to His name.” (Heb. 13:15).

The Psalmist said: “And my tongue shall speak of Thy righteousness and of Thy praise all the day long.” (Psalm 35:28).

“O Lord, open Thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth Thy praise.” (Psalm 51:15).

If we are to shed the garment of worry, as a dirty old coat, we must put on a new coat of praising God. Praise removes that gray cloud that seems, at times, to hover over our heads, and allows the sun to shine through. Praise dispels confusion, frustration, tension, anxiety and gloom. It brings hope and gladness. When you feel discouraged, or slipping into worry, frustration, confusion or anxiety, go to a quiet place; get down on your knees and praise God. His promise in the Book is to help you, and you should claim that promise before Him. Then wait patiently as the Prophet Habakkuk did, when he said:

“I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower (the Lord), and will watch to see what He (the Lord) will say unto me, and what I shall answer when I am reproved.” (Habakkuk 2:1).

God does not always answer immediately. We must wait our turn, for God has millions of prayers going up to Him daily, not that He needs more time to answer. But he will answer for His Word is truth and just.

God gave us a sound mind to discern the tools of evil from the gifts of God. This was our first consideration not to worry. The second consideration for God's people was to praise God. The third and last consideration is to heal our bodies and minds, so that we can have faith in the Word of God.

“But without faith it is impossible to please Him: for he that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of them that diligently seek Him.” (Heb. 11:6).

There is no other way to please God, or to live successfully for Jesus (the) Christ, or to conquer worry, frustration, confusion, tension or anxiety, than by faith. Faith is a gift of God which grows as one seeks the truth in the Word of God. It is put to the test by trials and tribulations, tempered by the grace of God (1 Cor. 10:13).

Many Christians today believe that their feelings exhibit their faith. I have a problem with this, for I believe feelings have to do with our sensory physical make-up. Faith is not dependent upon taste, touch, smelling, hearing, seeing, or emotions; faith is believing, which is a process of the mind believing in the Word of God.

My most difficult trials of my faith come, through severe testing from the bitter, biting, baffling, ordeals of vicious, merciless backbiting so-called Christians. Have you had this experience? I pray for them, for this is in the Book, but often wonder why I should follow God's Word. This brings to mind what the Psalmist wrote:

“Mine enemies speak evil of me, ‘When shall he die, and his name perish?’ And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanity: His heart gathereth iniquity to itself; When he goeth abroad, he telleth it. All that hate me whisper together against me; Against me do they devise my hurt. ‘An evil disease,’ say they, ‘cleaveth fast unto him: And now that he lieth he shall rise up no more.’ Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, Hath lifted up his heel against me. But Thou, O

If this Shepherd-King of Israel can endure the most ruthless and heartless kind of verbal punishment from his so-called friends, and be put to death on the cross, then through faith, I will travail - lay hold on God and never let go.

DAVID & GOLIATH

Obama Administration: We can and will force Christians to act against their faith.

In a legal argument formally presented in federal court in the case of Hobby Lobby v. Kathleen Sebelius, the Obama administration is claiming that the First Amendment—which expressly denies the government the authority to prohibit the “free exercise” of religion—nonetheless allows it to force Christians to directly violate their religious beliefs even on a matter that involves the life and death of innocent human beings.

Because federal judges—including Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayer—have refused to grant an injunction protecting the owners of Hobby Lobby from being forced to act against their Christian faith, those owners will be subject to federal fines of up to $1.3 million per day starting Tuesday for refusing to include abortion-inducing drugs in their employee health plan.

The Obama administration is making a two-fold argument for why it can force Christians to act against their faith in complying with the regulation it has issued under the Obamacare law that requires virtually all health care plans to cover, without co-pay, sterilization, contraceptives, and abortion-inducing drugs.

The first argument the administration makes against the owners of Hobby Lobby is that Americans lose their First Amendment right to freely exercise their religion when they form a corporation and engage in commerce. A person’s Christianity, the administration argues, cannot be carried out through activities he engages in through an incorporated business.

“Hobby Lobby is a for-profit, secular employer, and a secular entity by definition does not exercise religion,” said acting Assistant Attorney General Stuart Delery in a filing submitted in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Oklahoma.

“Because Hobby Lobby is a secular employer, it is not entitled to the protections of the Free Exercise Clause or RFRA (the Religious Freedom Restoration Act),” Delery told the court on behalf of the administration. “This is because, although the First Amendment freedoms of speech and association are ‘right[s] enjoyed by religious and secular groups alike,’ the Free Exercise Clause ‘gives special solicitude to the rights of religious organizations’.”

In keeping with Delery’s argument, the Washington Post, as a corporation, can use its First Amendment-protected freedom of speech to write editorials in support of the Obama administration imposing its contraception mandate on businesses like Hobby Lobby.

But the members of the family that created and owns Hobby Lobby as a corporation have no First Amendment freedom of religion that protects them from being forced by the government to act against their religious beliefs in providing abortion-inducing drugs.

The second argument the administration makes to justify forcing Christians to act against their faith is more sweeping. Here the administration argues it can force a person to act against his religion so long as the coercion is done under the authority of a law that is neutral and generally applicable—in other words, as long as the law was not written specifically to persecute Christians as Christians, the government can use that law to persecute Christians.

Hobby Lobby is a family business. David Green created it in his garage in Oklahoma City in 1972. He and his wife, Barbara, and their three children—Steve, Mart and Darsee Green Lett—have grown the business to where it now operates 500 stores in 41 states. David Green is Hobby Lobby’s CEO; Steve Green is its president; Mart Green is vice CEO; and Darsee Lett is vice president. Mart Green is also CEO of the privately owned Mardel chain of Christian bookstores, which operates 35 stores in 7 states. Through Hobby Lobby, the Greens have created more than 13,000 jobs. Mardel has created 372 jobs.

The Greens, who are Evangelical Christians, do not suspend their religious beliefs while running their businesses. Instead, they strive to run them fully in accordance with their Christian beliefs.

They are unanimous in stating that they have always “sought to run Hobby Lobby in harmony with God’s Laws and in a manner which brings glory to God.” They do not have two sets of morals—one for when they are at church or at home and another for when they are working on their businesses. They have only one set of morals—that they strive to follow at work or any other activity.

They also provide their employees with a generous self-insured health care plan, and they even operate an on-site, cost-free health clinic at their corporate headquarters. But, guided by their Christian faith, the Greens believe that human life begins at conception and that aborting unborn life is wrong. In keeping with this, they do not cover in their employee health plan abortions, abortion-inducing drugs, or IUDs that prevent implantation of an embryo.

In September, the Greens, Hobby Lobby and Mardel bookstores sued Health and Human Services Secretary Kathleen Sebelius, Labor Secretary Timothy Geithner and the departments of Health Human Service, Labor and Treasury. Their complaint said that the Obamacare contraception mandate violates their First Amendment right to the free exercise of religion because supporting abortion or counseling for abortion is contrary to their religious faith.

HARLOT CHURCHES

“Shall I then take members of Christ and make them members of an harlot? God forbid!” (1 Cor. 6:15).

The Harlot is a church - Rome is a “church.” The Harlot has prepared a spiel of words that will attract the young man to her. This spiel of words are doctrines - they are the doctrines being followed in various measures by almost EVERY church. In all the popular non-liturgical churches, there is very little between each of them in the structure, or in doctrine. Many, including liturgical churches, even see the Roman Church as the mother-church to themselves. This indicates such churches have become daughters of the Harlot.

#623 @ sug don $5.25

As the mandate now stands, the Greens were told they must begin complying with it on Jan. 1.

The Greens appealed their request for an injunction to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 10th Circuit. A panel of two appeals court judges refused their plea. They then appealed to Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor, who sits over that circuit, and she declined to reverse the lower courts and issue an injunction.

The Greens stated they would not start complying with the mandate on Tuesday and that they would continue to pursue their case in federal court. "The company will continue to provide health insurance to all qualified employees. To remain true to their faith, it is not their intention, as a company, to pay for abortion-inducing drugs."

Will the Obama administration compel Christians to act against their faith? As of now, the answer seems plain: It will.

DEVILS AND SWINE

by Adam de Witt

When it comes to telling those who believe in the church-taught creature, that they call Satan, the Devil or even Lucifer; that there is something wrong with that belief, namely: that this evil entity is not some spook ... And that when each case is tackled with them, to show who this creature truly was .... you can see they are half taking it on. Those who believe in this evil-being as some wandering spook through the ages feel at times thwarted at not being able to prove that it is super-spook. There are a few hard examples for them to deal with, but the one they seem to love most is that of the demons being cast into the swine as proof of devils.

Mark 5:9 describes the following in the land of the Gadarenes: "And He (Jesus) asked him (the man), 'What is thy name?' And he answered, saying, 'My name is Legion: for we are many'."

Luke 8:30 describes the same story: "And Jesus asked him, saying, 'What is thy name?' And he said, 'Legion;' because many devils had gone into him."

Matthew 8:28-34 has a bespoke version of the story: "And when He was come to the other side into the land of the Gergesenes, there met Him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass that way."

So at first glance, it looks believable. Many devils in this man, or two men ... so to start with we have an issue here - is it one or two men? We see right from the start with this tale, something is amiss.

The Bible has a number of mechanisms worked into the script to make it clear when it is speaking in riddles, likeness-tales (parables), or symbolism. We do the same in the way we talk, we often throw in sayings and our way of using them makes it clear to the listener what we are saying; if it is by way of making a point or case by way of figure-of-speech, or common saying.

The tale of demons going into swine, just like the woman running into the wilderness followed by a dragon, is not literal. It is symbolism, and unless one does not know who the Israelites are, such tales are meaningless and open to the silliest of interpretations. Some texts use the word 'demons,' some translations use the word 'devils.'

"When He came to the other side in the region of the Gadarenes, two demon-possessed men coming from the tombs met him. They were so violent that no one could pass that way. 'What do you want with us, Son of God?' they shouted. 'Have you come here to torture us before the appointed time?' Some distance from them a large herd of swine was feeding. The demons begged Jesus, 'If you drive us out, send us into the herd of swine.' He said to them, 'Go!' So they came out and went into the swine, and the whole herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake and died in the water. Those tending the swine ran off; went into the town and reported all this, including what had happened to the demon-possessed men. Then the whole town went out to meet Jesus. And when they saw him, they pleaded with him to leave their region."

It should be clear that this tale, if a true account of an actual happening is loopy and off-the-wall. Think about it. The Bible is also called the Logos, the writings of Logic, but where is the logic here? Look at it again. Ask yourselves, would demons which are devils who serve some spook called Satan presumably, actually meekly ask Jesus something like this, "I say Jesus, now if you are going to drive us out of this chap .... er ... two chaps ..... then be a nice fellow and pop us into those swine over there...." Would they? Would not they like all demons put up a mean fight? And why onto and into swine? Why not something else? Why the meek offer of exchange? It makes no sense at all and truly, I wonder about folks who in their right mind can even think nothing of this and think it all perfectly normal.

And if swine are so unclean, what difference should it make to the swine? Why should they run into the sea and drown, when men are far more sensitive than swine, yet they never ran into the sea to drown?

And why should men for that matter, further afield be tending swine in a land where such a form of farming was deemed as forbidden? The whole tale is a joke, if it were literal. But very telling for those who have eyes to see and ears to hear if it were a coded tale, like a parable or riddle.

There is a counter tale to this, a flip side, elsewhere in the Bible which NO ONE for some reason takes literal...
"..cast not your pearls before swine, .... lest they turn around and rend you..."

Should this be taken literal? Why not ... if the above account is taken literal? You may say, of course not. It would be daft to take it literal. Who for starters would cast pearls to 'oinkers' and even if you did, swine would surely not turn around and rip at you for doing so.

So of course it's not literal. It's given as a tale of learning to make a point. Great, we agree on that ... then be consistent .... demons meekly asking to hop into swine, to then drown in a sea, is also an account to make a point. It is not the literal, but has rather a meaning of great worth for the Overcomers. Furthermore I would add, this tale is the continuation of the theme of casting pearls to swine, but instead of pearls, it is the opposite of pearls.

"GENTILES"

The word misused to promote the popular all-inclusive "Jews and Gentiles" Doctrine. When we examine verses such as, Deut. 7:6, they establish the exclusive nature of Israel as being a set-apart race (holy) among all the other races of this globe. We can see there is a racial message that conflicts with the common belief about 'Jews and Gentiles.' The common teaching is that 'the Jews' are Israel and the 'Gentiles' are everyone else. The two views are against each other....

Give the swine pearls and they will trample us. Give them tripe and rubbish and they will trample themselves to be choked to death in the sea.

The 'Swine' are unclean folk.

The 'Sea' stands for the throngs, the masses.

'Pearls' are truths, clean thoughts.

'Demons' is translated from a word that means, not spooks, but a mindset. And because this is a likeness-tale, or a learning-tale ... teaching by way of understood custom ... we need to free our thinking from church tradition. Jesus said that church tradition fordoes (destroys) the Word of God, and that we are to seek the 'spirit' or gist of the Law, and thus often, of the tales told. The tradition of interpreting the word 'daimon' in Greek is: super-natural evil spirit. However, that is a heathen custom. In reality, when we sin, Break God's Law, we do this because of a compulsion, a drive. And it is often almost involuntary. As if it is not our will, so it seems to be over (super) our natural ability to control. Spirit is a Latin word, the English word is ghost. The word 'gas' is from the same word. It means, a fuel, or that which fuels. In Dutch and German, the alcohol plonk is called Geest/Geist. It means Ghost. So a bottle of spirits is a bottle of ghosts. Yet no one would think that a bottle is full of spooks. Ghost must then not mean spook, but something else. It means a fuel, and that which fuels. In other words, fuels our mind. Indeed, the Bible tells us that God put an evil spirit into Saul to kill David. So did God put a demon in Saul?

But wait a minute, is it not God's will to have demons driven out? Yet here is a case where God puts a devil, a demon into a man. Clearly if God can put a demon into a man, he can then drive them out, and Jesus does as his Father, so He can do likewise. Yet most who even believe in spook-demons, would see that in the case of Saul, the demon or evil spirit/evil ghost is in fact an evil thought. Likewise then, those very same folk should understand that when evil demons are driven out, that these are evil thoughts ... but suddenly, they do not apply the same logic. Duh?

Casting pearls to swine is clean thoughts, God's truths, His Word ... taking His Word to the non-Israelites (as I recently read from an Identity pastor, that he would be quite happy to do that - just not mix his listeners, CIM). The missionaries did just that. Not one of the so-called great missionaries such as Livingstone lived a blessed life thereafter, all died wretchedly or their loved ones did.

The word 'daimon' is a true Hebrew tradition, and by that I do not mean Jewish, but overcomer Israelite tradition, was that of applied logic, namely: the overwhelming strength of bad thoughts takes man captive, even the best of us. Paul taught just that when he said, "I do that which I ought not, and that which I ought, I do not. Oh wretched man that I am."

His geist/ghost/spirit/mind-fuel was overtaken (super-seded) but a bad fuel, and evil thinking ... not my use of the words ... OVERTaken/SUPERseded ... thus SUPER natural. We see that the natural was in a 'Superly' natural state, overridden by sinful thoughts. Sinful thoughts override pearl thoughts very easily, that makes them supernatural, they override the Godly-nature-(al) in the flesh. Making us struggle to drive them out ... and I dare say, we cannot drive them out ... try as we may. I think any man who says that he has no evil thoughts is a liar. I have my evil thoughts and despite all I know, I so often return to these ... Oh wretched man that I am!

Now back to that tale ..... So, why would anybody in a land that does not eat swine, be herding swine? One only herds animals that we eat. We herd sheep for wool, but also to eat. Same with oxen, chickens and so on. Swine were unclean, even to touch; so no one would herd them. This tale is not one of herds of pig-swine, but of folk-swine.

And the name, Legion ..... what an odd name. Legion is a Roman term and it is a military one and a Legion is number of soldiers from 3000 to 6000 men. Note the number 6. Thousand means greatness but with the number 6, the greatness of men, rather than from God. Man's greatness is always, unclean. We also see that Legion in one version is of two men. This whole thing is about unclean Israelites.

Two men stands for the two witnesses, two nations of Israelites, who are also one ... that's also a riddle. How can two be one. We who know who we are know that the One Folk of Israel became two nations, the House of Israel and the House of Judah. The Bible calls them at times, sisters. Then it calls the two harlots. Then as one harlot. Then as a Bride. Then a wife.

It also calls wisdom a she and folly a he. The 'man of sin' is thus a he, but this term is a collective one for a people where it is used and refers to Esau; and by extension, Edomites, which consists of males and females. Just as the bride of Jesus (the) Christ is of men and women. And if we are to get all this wisdom, and wisdom is a she, then why must we not be defiled/smuted by women, as is stated in Revelation? If we gain wisdom, are we then smuted? I think it is enough to say, symbolism and riddles are what is the issue in said examples. We see that symbols are used and these are riddles, and riddles are tales for the initiated only to understand. Legion is not a person, rather he is unclean Israel, made unclean by his heathenism, his devils, his untold sins. He is also mad. We are told that the whore is drunk on Babylonian wine. Wine is a .....? A SPIRIT/Geist/ghost. So Israelites are drunken mad when full of the thoughts/mind-set of Babylon or the realm of men as gods (law givers). Look at those of our kin ... are they not bonkers? Look at them. They love killing themselves .... they do! They smoke ... it kills! They booze ... it wastes huge sums of their meagre funds and it kills them! They don't have babies but send their meagre funds and resources to feed and heal pre-Adamites who hate us overseas to help them keep their offspring alive in huge breeding numbers, and when they fail in their lands, we let them in and swamp our lands where they then mug, rape and kill us. And when anyone says "Boo," they are attacked and laws are passed to jail them ... now tell me that Israelites are not mad and unclean and utterly bonkers ... tell me that they are not an army against us and God ... tell me they are not a Legion of nutters!

The riddle is that Jesus, like His Father are able to put unclean geists/mindsets into Israelites (and God does as He has clearly stated, that He has blinded His folk to truth ... to pearls) and is also able to take these away. So when we have our filth driven out of us unto the unclean, it will drive the unclean insane and they will flee and choke amidst the throngs in the throng nations, the seas where the nit-wit 'great-missionaries' also went mad.

When will all our filth be driven out?

"And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird." (Rev. 18:2)

Who is a habitation or a HOUSE (nation) of devils/demons at this moment? Look around you, our Sakson lands are a House of unclean devils, our race is a Harlot and it whores with the Beast system of Edom. Look at your neighbours ... do they want God's Law in the land? Do they know it? Do they know for instance of the Law of the City of Refuge, or the Law of washing one's hands in the ashes in water of the red heifer? Do they? Do they know the difference between clean and unclean food? Do they hold the feast days or do they hold Xmas and Easter, even Halloween?

Who then is the harlot? Who is a House of devils? That's right . . . the Lost Sheep of the House of Israel ..... the Caucasian nations. Our nations are BONKERS and then when you tell them they become fierce and uncontrollable! They are Legion! And Jesus will drive that madness out onto Babylon and He does it when? ..... when it has fallen. All our uncleanness will be cast onto it ... and guess what? We are told that Babylon is cast into the sea ... the lake of fire. Lake is another word for sea.

The swine in the tale became the habitation of devils after Jesus had driven them from the 'possessed' man.

That tale is an end-time foretelling, it is not a loopy tale of two nutters in caves who had thousands of spooks in them who meekly asked Jesus to be shifted to piggies down the lane; which then took off for an endless swim.

Folks, if you are of the overcomers, it is asked of you to be of sober mind ... then be sober and do not think like a drunk, who believes in silly foolish things.

UN AGENDA 21

by James Bruggeman

In my series of Bible lectures, Mystery Babylon and the Stone Kingdom, I have exposed and commented upon Agenda 21. Here is more on this nefarious plot.

Tennessee Passes Resolution Slamming "Socialist" UN Agenda 21

Even as the United Nations prepares to massively expand its "sustainable development" agenda at the upcoming sustainability summit in Rio de Janeiro, lawmakers in Tennessee approved a joint resolution blasting the global body's controversial Agenda 21 - adopted at the 1992 Earth Summit - as an "insidious" socialist plot. All across America, opposition to the UN schemes is building quickly.

The popular measure (HJR 587) in Tennessee was passed by a bipartisan 72-to-23 landslide in the state House of Representatives last month. And on Tuesday, it was overwhelmingly approved in the Senate with 19 in favor and 11 against.

A broad coalition of activists from across the political spectrum came together to support the resolution, urging lawmakers to stand firm in the face of attacks to protect the people of Tennessee. And the efforts paid off: Supporters celebrated its passage Wednesday as another small victory for liberty, private-property rights, and national sovereignty.

Despite being non-binding, analysts said the legislators in Tennessee sent a powerful message by recognizing the "destructive and insidious nature" of the controversial UN scheme. The resolution, among other points, urges the public and policy makers to reject Agenda 21, which it describes as "a comprehensive plan of extreme environmentalism, social engineering, and global political control."

Echoing a similar measure adopted earlier this year by the Republican National Committee (RNC), the resolution approved in Tennessee cites the UN's own documents to expose the global plan. Agenda 21 policy describes "social justice," for example, as "the right and opportunity of all people to benefit equally from the resources afforded us by society and the environment," lawmakers observed.

Such a "radical" vision would have to be accomplished by what the resolution describes as "socialist" and "communist" means—"redistribution of wealth" from U.S. Taxpayers to governments around the world. Meanwhile, the legislation points out, Agenda 21 considers national sovereignty to be a "social injustice."

In other words, if the UN has its way, Americans would be forced to submit to global authorities as opposed to governing themselves under the framework established by the Constitution. And everything would have to change—education, the economy, policies, taxes, consumption, production, and more.

"This United Nations Agenda 21 plan of radical so-called 'sustainable development' views the American way of life of private property ownership, single-family homes, private car ownership and individual travel choices, and privately owned farms all as destructive to the environment," the resolution explains. "We hereby endorse rejection of its radical policies and rejection of any grant monies attached to it."

While the 20-year-old global plan has never been formally adopted by the U.S. Senate—which must ratify all treaties—it is still being implemented across the nation by stealth. "The United Nations Agenda 21 is being covertly pushed into local communities throughout the United States of America," the measure notes.

Aside from the federal executive branch, one of the main forces working to foist the scheme on Americans is a global organization named ICLEI (formerly known as the International Council of Local Environmental Initiatives). And it uses a variety of innocent sounding terms—"Smart Growth" and "Green," for example—to advance the controversial agenda, the resolution states. As such, the legislature of Tennessee resolved to warn America about the "dangerous intent" of the plan.

Facing a tidal wave of anti-Agenda 21 activism, an assortment of extremist pro-UN groups and tax-funded propagandists have attempted to downplay the significance of the global agenda, portraying it as a harmless environmental initiative. But experts and lawmakers were not convinced, and opposition to the schemes continues to grow.

State Sen. Mike Bell, a Republican who sponsored the Senate resolution in Tennessee, held up the UN's Agenda 21 in a thick folder for all to see. "There are over 300 pages, like I said, contained in this document," he explained, noting that the state resolution would send a "message" to Congress. "I can best describe this as zoning rules on steroids.”

Some Democrats, however, did not see it that way. “It seems to me that planning and forethought and trying to preserve our Tennessee way of life is exactly what we should be doing,” State Sen. Andy Berke was quoted as saying. It was not immediately clear why he opposed the resolution because it merely condemns Agenda 21 and UN schemes—not planning, forethought, or the preservation of the state’s way of life.

Still, despite support from some pro-UN Democrats, opposition to the global organization and its “sustainable development” schemes largely transcends party lines. In the Tennessee House, for example, at least half-a-dozen Democratic lawmakers joined with the GOP majority to approve the anti-Agenda 21 resolution.

Activists who backed the measure come from both sides of the aisle, too. “Let’s be sure to thank those elected officials who have the courage to brave ridicule and disinformation in order to bring UN Agenda 21/Sustainable Development out of the shadows and into the light,” noted the group Democrats Against U.N. Agenda 21 in a statement urging the Tennessee Senate to approve the resolution. “We can do it. We’re getting stronger every day, and it’s because you are speaking out.”

Of course, the growing alliance seeking to preserve individual liberty and private property in the face of UN plans also includes a wide range of conservative and libertarian organizations. Diverse groups such as the Tennessee Eagle Forum, local Tea Party chapters, The John Birch Society, the American Policy Center, and even the Republican National Committee all played a role in getting the joint resolution passed.

Meanwhile, another piece of legislation on the agenda in Tennessee would do more than simply condemn the UN plan using strong language—it would completely prohibit the adoption or implementation of any part of the global scheme within the state. If passed, the law would ensure that local governments and state agencies would not be able to financially support or work with the vast array of “shadow organizations” seeking to “surreptitiously implement ‘Agenda 21’ around the world.”

Beyond Tennessee, legislators and policymakers at state and local level all across America are working hard to stop the agenda as well. Several states are already considering similar legislation. And scores of city governments are dropping their controversial membership in ICLEI—with the trend expected to accelerate faster than ever this year.

The UN, however, is moving full-speed ahead toward achieving its goals. Several official documents released in recent weeks revealed that the global body plans to use this June’s UN Conference on Sustainable Development (UNCSD) to amass wide-ranging new powers and literally re-shape civilization under the guise of environmentalism. Even people’s thoughts and lifestyles are in the crosshairs.

The upcoming global summit—known as Rio+20 because it marks the 20th anniversary of the Earth Summit which adopted Agenda 21—will seek to transform humanity toward what its leaders describe as a “green economy.” It will be chaired by UN CSD Secretary General Sha Zukang, who served as a senior diplomat for the Communist Chinese dictatorship before taking on his high-level “sustainability” post at the U.N. THE HOARY HEAD IS A CROWN OF GLORY, if it be found in the way of righteousness.

-- Proverbs 16:31.

Do you realize how easily man’s humanist government has separated our families/people according to age?! Is anything like that found in the Bible? Doesn’t anybody ever question this anymore?!

It’s not just our children when they go to government schools . . . . ‘Older’ people — those who know the most real history (not just the twist that’s given in government text books),... and have the most wisdom, gained from their own life struggles . . . are segregated off into retirement centers or retirement homes or villages, or carefree living, or whatever they call them . . . far away from the very ones they most want to be near and have some influence over ... their own dear progeny. That progeny needs their wisdom . . . wisdom that only comes with age and experience and suffering.**

Grandparents are very special people who have endless love and adoration/support for their grandchildren . . . and generally they have the needed time to devote to such a special relationship. They delight in being around grandchildren, . . . and grandchildren, too, need and naturally seek that special relationship and love. They both thrive on that special family relationship that share . . . a relationship that can add years of happy life to a hoary head.

Today government schools teach children not to listen to their parents, . . . that they can make their own choices (and reap the consequences!) . . . . That being the case, don’t you know man’s government had to devise some way of getting the influence of much-loved grandparents out of the way, too, in order to have any influence/control?!

The amazing part of this is that we let them. Many hoary heads like the sound of ‘retiring’ from responsibilities and actually look forward to just living for pleasure in this “I, Me, My World.” But do they really? Just go to some of those retirement places. They are, for the most part, sad places with no ‘life’ in them. Entertainment, oh, yes, there’s plenty of things to occupy their attention . . . but it is not life, . . . what kind of future do they have to look forward to?

Instead of occupying the minds of these valuable hoary heads with the problems of the day, and looking for their guidance, every available moment at these dead-end places is encouraged to be filled with ‘entertainment’ (aided by Legal drugs to placate any bothersome symptoms) . . . The result is that they are no longer a vital part of the life and society of the remaining population . . . They no longer interact with young people, or help to educate this country’s future generations — their own precious progeny . . . which is really their future!—and therefore, keep and hand down special talents, skills, knowledge, . . . . ‘Future generations’ are so caught up in worldly pursuits, they are not even wanting to gain these skills/knowledge their dear ancestors can bless them with!

Don’t you agree, we need the input of our precious hoary heads in these End Times?!

The mixing of the young, who are naturally eager to copy and learn from their elders (honored and held in special places in our hearts) can only benefit from such family associations, particularly at church . . . rather than joining the trend to 'get away from home' and attend universities to receive humanist indoctrination for the future New World Order.

The enemy knows well that if you don't know history, you are doomed to repeat it! And the youth of today don't even know the handicap being pushed on them by this lack of guidance and love 'old' people just naturally want to bestow.

The old, instead of febleness and infirmities, are to bear fruit in old age, and be fat and flourishing.

** Once you volunteer into one of those retirement places, you are expected to get sick . . . and then sicker and sicker . . . needing more and more Legally-prescribed drugs. Once you arrive, aren't you surrounded by sickness-management people who are there to tend to your every little ache or pain the way they have been trained? . . . and they are trained in sickness and Legal drugs . . . not health or what might provide health.

These are places where it is assumed Legal drugs [Legal does not mean Lawful] can fix any physical, mental or emotional problem. Few are concerned that each one of these man-made drugs may have 5, 6, 7 or 9+ pages of unhealthy and even scary side-effects! . . . requiring more drugs to treat these added side effects! Ignorance of that fact does not protect the 'innocent.' And who wants to change a lifestyle, anyway, when it's easier to just take another pill and let someone else do your thinking for you?

Instead of questioning and searching for the cause of an illness, and thereby eliminating it . . . one drug just begets the use of another drug. Once a drug is administered, . . . do you know of any instance where that drug is removed or even lessened because the patient improved or recovered?! So in such drug-dependent system, how can anyone ever regain health, . . . or even think there might be a possibility of that?!

Everyone gets depressed or down at one time or another, don't they . . . but it is a terminal mistake if you (whether an honored senior or anyone else) step onto the never-ending treadmill of Legal-drug-dependency. Insurance companies help make participation in this routine easily affordable and thereby encourage it.

And we allow our precious "Seniors" to be taken from us and confined to this unnatural segregated life.

'They' (those who hate the Lord Jesus the Christ) have learned how to whip up the Passions of the People/us to do what 'they' want . . . and then to manage/control us once we have volunteered/joined . . .

Old age today is associated with sickness/disease, and needing to be drugged . . . rather than looked up to and greeted with the much-earned respect and honor so many are due . . . and consulted for the wisdom and experience that only comes with age and experiencing life's struggles.

Pharmaceutical companies grow fat on such places . . . Is it any wonder retirement places are among the most lucrative businesses in this country today?!

HE HELPED SHOW THAT THE BIBLE IS TRUE!

[taken from the September 1942 issue of Destiny Magazine]

On July 28, there died in Jerusalem, at the government hospital there, a man to whom the world owes much! At the age of 89, Sir William Matthew Flinders Petrie was at his rest after a full lifetime of labors during which he had made ancient Egypt intelligible to the modern mind.

With disregard for personal comfort and gain, he had swung picks, compared evidence, battled with obstructing officials, taught university students and had written seventy-five volumes on various phases of his work. Abandoning his first love, the Anglo-Saxon ruins in England, he began digging out the glories of Egypt; working first among the pyramids and temples at Gizeh. By 1892 his reputation as an archeologist was established; he was appointed Professor of Egyptology at University College, London, and in 1933 became Professor Emeritus there.

Among his many significant discoveries was a camp of the Hyksos or "Shepherd Kings." He found names in the Egyptian "Book of the Dead" strikingly like those in the Caucasus. At Tell el Ajjul, he discovered five palaces, superimposed on each other, the earliest dating from 3100 B.C. containing an immense bathroom, larger than many modern apartments and as good as those of Greek or Roman times. He also discovered at Tell Ajjul a gold ring, proved to be of Irish origin, showing that the British Isles and the East had traded with each other in those ancient days.

When Sir Flinders—as he preferred to be known—after spending years excavating the Hyksos sites, came definitely to the conclusion that the reign of the Shepherd Kings had lasted for an even longer period than is specified by Manetho, the Egyptian historian, it was to the consternation of German critics who had reduced the period to a century. Further, the contemporary evidence discovered of the period of Semitic occupation of Syria and Palestine some seven centuries before Abraham's time confounded those critics who had thrown the Bible's genealogy of Abraham in Genesis 9 to the winds, boldly affirming that he was a Canaanite!

For among the most significant of the evidences of their own time left by those who lived when Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses and Joshua walked the earth are the broken pieces of earthenware from which much has been learned. It was the minute inspection of these which supplied unmistakable evidence concerning the ancient alphabet and which has made it necessary to accept the fact that our Bible was actually written! It was Sir Flinders who had discovered the earliest alphabetical writing yet known, and which connects up with the worship of the Israelites in the wilderness as instituted by Moses. It is true that writing in Egypt in the form of hieroglyphics goes back to an extremely ancient time; but the discovery of the alphabetical form of writing became of tremendous importance to those who were interested in the transmission of the Bible; and indeed, Sir Flinders could say, "The history of the alphabet is as old as civilization." He was also the first to appreciate the possibilities of using the variations of pottery for chronological purposes.

His admirable survey of Stonehenge in England and his later work in the Great Pyramid showed the Eastern origin of the builders of Stonehenge, the circle of which was shown to be a constructional expression of the geometrical relations holding between the ancient Egyptian square and lineal systems of measures. His archeological exploration and experience in previous geodetic and other survey work eminently fitted him for the task of surveying the Great Pyramid and has undoubtedly produced the best set of measurements to date. He designed and prepared the most reliable measuring appliances obtainable for lineal measurements: steel tape and special chain, and self-compensating accessory appliances. He it was who detected that striking feature of the Great Pyramid, the important hollowing in of each base side.

His studied in long-distance quarrying expeditions and their seasons; his metrological researches confirming the value of the Sacred Hebrew Cubit; also, the half-cubit which appeared in Babylonia, in Etruria, in what he deemed to be Roman Britain, and in medieval England—assisted greatly in gauging the importance of the Great Pyramid. His data regarding the stratification of the Gizeh Plateau; his early inspection of the sealed chambers together with notifications regarding the cementing of the beams; his studies concerning the rise and fall of the Semites in Egypt—these and his many other discoveries proved of exceedingly great value in truly understanding the past; and caused, in many respects, the rewriting of ancient history.

“Few realize how much Biblical archeology owes to Sir Flinders,” wrote Sir Charles Marston in his foreword to The Bible is True, and added, “The many references to his labors in this book give but a small conception of his achievements.”

Time magazine of August 10, in reporting his death, closed their account in these words: “Other archeologists, notably the late great James Henry Breasted, dug as brilliantly into the antique past. But none denied having built on the dramatic ruins uncovered over 62 years by Sir Flinders Petrie.”

Again I apologise for the lateness of this issue, but it was unavoidable due to our two weeks in Tasmania. We stayed in Perth, and in Ulverstone, and visited Burnie, Penguin, Devonport and La Trobe, and went to the Leven Canyon. During our stay, our 30th and 31st grandchildren were born, less than an hour apart - two boys. One in Burnie, and one in Innisfail: Matthew Leslie Davey, and Timothy Andrew Webster. On our return we celebrated my 69th birthday with the family. Since then I have been playing catch-up with the mail and orders received - for which I thank you all. We are slowly getting on top of the mail, it's just this messenger which is still a little longer catching up. I do hope the wait was worth it.

We appreciate all those who sent in their renewals for the Covenant Messenger, and for the extra names that were sent in to be included for 6 months of free Messengers. A number of new names were added, and we hope they will continue to subscribe. Please help to maintain our numbers by passing on names, after you have contacted people and asked them if they were interested in receiving.

Some of the comments we have received are included above. We do look forward to your mail, and clippings, your encouragement and thank you for your financial help. May our God bless your faithfulness, and keep you in His care and protection,

"The moral argument is 'guns can't be both good and bad.' This is just a logical thing, and since you will need guns in the hands of police to take away guns from the hands of private citizens then you're saying guns in the hands of the government are really good and guns in the hands of private citizens are really bad. And what you've then done is you've created opposite moral standards for two groups of people who are not differentiated by anything except a concept called "The State".
