"Blessed be the LORD God of Israel; For He hath visited and redeemed His people, And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David; as he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began; That we should be saved from our enemies and from the hand of all that hate us; to perform the mercy promised to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear, in holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our lives." THE KING OF THE NORTH

by Adam de Witt

With Russia taking chunks of land away from the System of the 'Beast of the Earth,' we are hearing more and more remarks about this being the King of the North and being Gog or Magog. Now I have written on this before so I will not go into it all in great detail, but it is enough to say that Gog is Magog and these names are of grandsons of Japheth and are of the same Japhetic generation and kin as is Ashkenaz. Their offspring did not sunder or separate their clans as the offspring of Shem had done from them. This means that the offspring of Gog and Ashkenaz have remained entwined kin and the two terms Gog and Ashkenaz can be applied to that whole lot. Those Ashkenaz dwellers of the capital cities called Sepharvaim of the Ashkenaz tribal homeland (which is not far east of where today is Baghdad) were called the Sephardaim, and the books of Kings tell us that the Assyrians brought them to the Assyrian-gained lands of Israel and Judea after the Assyrians took all TWELVE tribes away, leaving only remnants in the bulwarked towns (Jerusalem, etc) in the southern kingdom.

The Sephardaim, were thus 'Ashkenaz-Goggites' and became the Scribes and Pharisees.

These, under Herod the Edomite, later in history, were empowered to make Phariseism the State Religion of Judea and with this, all those converted would be called Judeans, and that included the Edomites (converted under John Hyrcanus). When mixed throngs convert to one religion, the church deems them as a 'people' and thus they can race-mix. Thus the 'Ashkenaz-Goggites' of the Sephardaim branch now mingled with the Edomites under the banner of Judaism, the state religion of Judea, and that is why the Encyclopædia Judaica can say, "Edom is in modern Jewry."

When Judea was at last crushed by the Romans, these 'Ashkenaz-Goggites/Edomites' fled across Africa into Spain and became the Sephardic Jews, using the old name Sephardaim as their identifier.

The rest of the Ashkenaz-Goggites who never went to Judea and stayed in their old Assyrian region, stayed to this day, there forming the Jewish communities in the Mid East. However, many migrated north and came in contact with the Khazars and mingled with them. It is therefore not a truth to say that all Jews are Khazars. However, Jews are behested to wed with Jews and over time, all Jews will infuse their various admixtures (even when Caucasians marry Jews, the offspring are considered Jews).

In any case, this means that the Gog element is also infused with most of those who are called Ashkenazim Jews. But the Gog element is also in the Sephardic. This means all Jews are also Gog.

Gog is Jewry - not White Russia!

Furthermore, it is daft to link Russia with the King of the North as that King of the north has "popped his clogs" some 2000 years ago. Placing him in today's history can only be done when one does not know history and if one has listened to and believed Evangelicalism, the modern version being the by-product of the Rothschild-funded Scofield Bible (Cyrus Ingerson Scofield 1843-1921).

That rag places nearly all of the 'over-and-done-with' prophecies of the Bible into the present—and ever present for that matter. Back in the 19th year-hundred (century) all these things were meant to happen, and when they did not, then it was all set to happen at WWI. When it did not, all was shoved forward to WWII, then—darn still no good, so it must be now.....

Please folks, dump all you have been led to believe from the 'churchites.' Because 50% of what they teach is make-believe, and the other 50% is a load of crock. The churches had 1994 years to bring forth the fruit of the kingdom, and they failed (why 1994? Please read my articles IT RAINED ON THEIR PARTY, (over the last few Messengers). Part of the fruit is truth.

Here then is the truth of the King of the North:

After describing the “desecration” of the Temple (Daniel 11:31) and the Maccabean revolt, the writer foretells of another attack from Egypt in which Antiochus will be champion and takes the whole territory. (Daniel 11:40-43).

The Hellenistic period of Judean-Israelite history began in 332 BC when Alexander the Great crushed the past Persian king Darius III and overran Persia. When he died in 323 BC, his empire was split among his generals. The whole region of Judea was heavily disputed over between the successor states of Alexander’s empire, the Seleucid Empire and Ptolemaic Egypt, during the six Syrian Wars of the 3rd to 1st centuries BC: “After two centuries of peace under the Persians, the Judean state found itself once more caught in the middle of power struggles between two great empires: the Seleucid state with its capital in Syria to the north and the Ptolemaic state, with its capital in Egypt to the south—Between 319 and 302 BC, Jerusalem changed hands seven times.”

Daniel’s vision has been linked to events that happened in the 3rd and 2nd centuries BC about the struggle between the Ptolemies (the king of the South) and the Seleucids (the king of the north) for the mastery of Judea, in which the Seleucids were eventually unbeaten. Daniel 11:21-35 is true to the Seleucid king Antiochus Epiphanes (the ruler of the Judeans from 175-164 BC), his rise to power, wars against Egypt, and his following undertakings against Jerusalem, the Temple and the Judean-dwelling Israelites (so not all the Israelites—only those dwelling in that region). Daniel 11:3-39 is very accurate. All foremost battles are described, and the Sixth Syrian War is described in great detail.

Now comes the crux of this belief that the King of the north is Russia.

In Evangelicalism (get it folks—In Evangelicalism), the interpretation of the king mentioned in Daniel 11:36-45 is not the King of the North, but a fourth king who is identified as the Antichrist. This one engages in the military conquests of verses 40-45 where he targets the land of Zionist Israel. Sadly the idea of an anti-Christ and misreading the prophecy of the King of the North, is not limited to church-goers. The various twists and turns of Evangelicalism have been taken up by too many Christian Israelite believers. Sure they understand what the Jewish state is, and what it is not; but they too often make comments like the King of the North is doing this and that—but he is not doing a thing. Nor will he, because he is dead—long dead. Too many in Identity are looking for this anti-Christ or even a King of the North attack, placing long-‘dead and done’ with prophecies into the future and near future at that—into a mixed bag of “end-time” foretellings. We need to get a grip, not every prophecy in the Bible is for this end time—which some Evangelicals place during the first half of the “Great Tribulation” which is also long past.

The time of this attack is stated to be in the “end time.” Some Evangelicals place this event during the first half of the Great Tribulation.

What we see is that this whole ‘Russia as king of the north’ “thing” is nothing more than modern Evangelicalism. Evangelicalism is NOT a blessing to truth. It is a curse! And a blinding by Judeo- or Pharisaic-leaven that “leavens the whole lump” of the wheat dough (Church-going and influenced Israelite Saksons). If it leavens you, then you are of the Wheat Company. If you are of the Barley company, it will not trap you as you see it for what it is—drivel. Although Evangelicalism has Protestant roots, the Protestant movement could not set itself free from the Beats of the Sea, and simply became a part of it.

The Protestant movement started this thing called Evangelicalism. And because it was started by the Wheat company of Saksons, it was inevitably going to be kneaded with leaven. The fact that they use a Greek word should say enough. It says that they are caught up in that Churchy drivel that words of Biblical importance have to be in a tongue (language) that none of their flock can understand. For the Catholics that tongue had to be Latin. For the Protestants it had to be Greek or Babylonian, degenerated-Hebrew. It soon became nothing more than a milder form of the Catholic Jesuit movement. Many think that Evangelicalism is Evangelism, but the two are not the same.

The word “evangelist” comes from the Koine Greek word ευαγγελιου (transliterated as “euangelion”) via Latinised Evangelium, as used in the canonical titles of the four Gospels, written by Matthew, Mark, Luke and John (also known as the Four Evangelists). The Greek word ευαγγελιου originally meant a reward given to the messenger for good news (ευ = good, αγγελω = I bring a message. —the word “angel” comes from the same root) and later “good news” itself.

Why then if we speak English, did we not call them The Good-Newsmen, or the Good News Bearers? I tell you why, it sounds too down to earth, too easy to understand without the help of a preacher! God forbid that a man can gain his knowledge OUTSIDE the temple ground and straight from God via the Word of God!

The Protestants learned well from the Catholics whom they so shunned, and like the Catholics, they keep mysteries! What is the word mystery? It’s not an English word. It’s from Latin. English is from Germanic root and from a Gaddite dialect. Mystery means HIDDEN, or Riddle. So is that what we crave? A religion of hidden things and riddles? So truth is not needed then. Sounds very Cabalistic to me. But then what do you expect from a church system that places a Cabalist on the pedestal of, “God’s Chosen Race” and drools over a Cabalist OT written 900 years after Jesus and who then call it the “original Hebrew”—if this was a comedy show, one would fall over in stitches of derisive laughter.

The seven church ages were living within the Beast empires of Daniel’s vision, and they had their chance to free themselves from the Beasts-of-Man systems because King Jesus always gave a burst of truth. The churches could in theory have freed us just as the Maccabees had done, setting the land of Judea free from these empires for 100 years. But the churches failed in this. With each new church age there was a burst of insight, but being kneaded with the leaven of the Pharisees, that burst of insight petered out and instead of freeing us from the Beasts of Man, the churches always blended into the beast system; keeping us trapped within the curses of the Law. Because we were Lawless, the punishments of the Law kept slapping us down time and again—and our folk kept wondering time and again, “why, if there is a God, is He not stopping all these curses?” When they should have asked, “Because there is a GOD (LAW GIVER) then why is HE DOING all this to us?”

Evangelicalism (taken from Wikipedia) Not to be confused with evangelism.

Christian historian David Bebbington says, “Although

'evangelical,' with a lower-case initial, is occasionally used to mean 'of the gospel,' the term 'Evangelical' with a capital letter, is applied to any aspect of the movement beginning in the 1730s."

Although often used in a religious context, the term may also characterize a generic missionary, reforming, or redeeming impulse or purpose. For example, the Times Literary Supplement refers to "the rise and fall of evangelical fervor within the Socialist movement."

The contemporary North American usage of the term reflects the impact of the Fundamentalist Modernist Controversy of the early 20th century. Evangelicalism may sometimes be perceived as the middle ground between the theological liberalism of the mainline denominations and the cultural separation of fundamentalism. Evangelicalism has therefore been described as "the third of the leading strands in American Protestantism, straddling the divide between fundamentalists and liberals." In 2004 Andrew Crouch wrote in Christianity Today, "The emerging movement is a protest against much of evangelicalism as currently practiced. It is post-evangelical in the way that neo-evangelicalism (in the 1950s) was post-fundamentalist. It would not be unfair to call it postmodern evangelicalism."

While the North American perception has a certain importance in understanding some usage of the term, it by no means dominates a wider global view: elsewhere the fundamentalist debate had less direct influence.

D.W. Cloud wrote: "In the first half on the 20th century evangelicalism in America was largely synonymous with fundamentalism. George Marsden in Reforming Fundamentalism (1955) writes, "There was not a practical distinction between fundamentalist and evangelical: the words were interchangeable" (p.48). When the National Association of Evangelicals (NAE) formed in 1942, for example, participants included such fundamentalist leaders as Bob Jones, Sr., John R. Rice, Charles Woolbridge, Harry Ironside, and David Otis Fuller."

In the late 19th century, the revivalist Holiness movement, based on the doctrine of "entire sanctification," took a more extreme form in rural America and Canada, where it ultimately broke away from Institutional Methodism. In urban Britain the Holiness message was less exclusive and censorious.

John Nelson Darby was a 19th century Irish Anglican minister who devised modern dispensationalism, an innovative (or should we say rogue, A-d-W) Protestant theological interpretation of the Bible that was incorporated in the development of modern Evangelicalism. Cyrus Scofield (funded by the same Cabalists who took over the Fed of the USA, in order to teach Zionism to church goers) further promoted the influence of dispensationalism through the explanatory notes to his Scofield Reference Bible (a vile book, indeed! A-d-W).

Lastly

The King of the North is Dead! He was Seleucid king Antiochus Epiphanes (the ruler of the Judeans from 175 - 164 BC). Gog is part of the now thoroughly admixed Gog, Ashkenaz, Sephardaim, Edomites, Khazar lot. White Russians are Israelites of the flesh from Viking stock.

Putin is not king Antiochus Epiphanes and the two lived with a time gap between them of some 2000 years. To try and somehow warp these two together is like saying the Romans used space shuttles. Such a weird quantum twist can only be done by "churchite" evangelicals, any thinking Sakson should do just that—think, and stop listening to "churchianity" tales.

THE RELIGIOUS MOVIE

Now, for the religious movie where is the authority? For such a serious departure from the ancient pattern, where is the authority? For introducing into the Church the pagan art of acting, where is the authority? Let the movie advocates quote just one verse, from any book of the Bible, in any translation, to justify its use. This they cannot do. The best they can do is to appeal to the world's psychology or repeat brightly that "modern times call for modern methods." But the Scriptures—quote from them one verse to authorize movie acting as an instrument of the Holy Ghost. This they cannot do.

Every sincere Christian must find scriptural authority for the religious movie or reject it, and every producer of such movies, if he would square himself before the faces of honest and reverent men, must either show scriptural credentials or go out of business.

But, says someone, there is nothing unscriptural about the religious movie; it is merely a new medium for the utterance of the old message, as printing is a newer and better method of writing and the radio an amplification of familiar human speech.

To this I reply: The movie is not the modernization or improvement of any scriptural method; rather it is a medium in itself wholly foreign to the Bible and altogether unauthorized therein. It is play acting—just that, and nothing more. It is the introduction into the work of God that which is not neutral, but entirely bad. The printing press is neutral; so is the radio; so is the camera. They may be used for good or bad purposes at the will of the user. But play acting is bad in its essence, in that it involves the simulation of emotions not actually felt. It embodies a gross moral contradiction in that it calls a lie to the service of truth.

Arguments for the religious movie are sometimes clever and always shallow, but there is never any real attempt to cite scriptural authority. Anything that can be said for the movie can also be said for aesthetic dancing, which is a highly touted medium for teaching religious truth by appeal to the eye. Its advocates grow eloquent in its praise—but where is it indicated in the blue-print?

5. God has ordained four methods only by which Truth shall prevail—and the religious movie is not one of them.

Without attempting to arrange these methods in order of importance, they are (1) prayer, (2) song, (3) proclamation of the message by means of words, and (4) good works. These are the four man methods which God has blessed. All other biblical methods are subdivisions of these and stay within their framework.

Notice these in order:

(1) Spirit-burdened prayer. This has been through the centuries a powerful agent for the spread of saving truth among men. A praying Church carried the message of the cross to the whole known world within two centuries after the coming of holy ghost at Pentecost. Read the book of Acts and see what prayer has done and can do when it is made in true faith.

(2) Spirit-inspired song has been another mighty instrument in the spread of the Word among mankind.

When the Church sings spirit-filled Psalms she draws men unto Jesus the Christ. Where her song has been ecstatic expression of resurrection joy, it has acted wonderfully to prepare hearts for the saving message. This has no reference to professional religious singers, expensive choirs not the popular “gospel” chorus. These for the time we leave out of consideration. But I think no one will deny that the sound of a Christian hymn sung by sincere and humble persons can have a tremendous and permanent effect for good. The Welsh revival is a fair modern example of this.

(3) In the Old Testament, as well as in the New, when God would impart His mind to men He embodied it in a message and sent men out to proclaim it. This was done by means of speaking and writing on the part of the messenger. It was received by hearing and reading on the part of those to whom it was sent, We are all familiar with the verse, “Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her” (Isaiah 40:2). John the Baptist was called “The voice of one crying in the wilderness.” (Matthew 3:3). Again we have, “And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write” (Revelation 14:13). And the Apostle John opens his great work called the Revelation by pronouncing a blessing upon him that readeth and them that bear and keep the words of the prophecy and the things which are written therein. The two words “proclaim” and “publish” sum up God’s will as it touches His Word. In the Bible, men for the most part wrote what had been spoken; in our time men are commissioned to speak what has been written. In both cases the agent is a word, never a picture, a dance, or a pageant.

(4) By His healing deeds our Lord opened the way for His saving Words. He went about doing good, and His church is commanded to do the same. Faber understood this when he wrote:

“And preach thee too, as love know how, by kindly deeds and virtuous life.”

Church history is replete with instances of missionaries and teachers who prepared the way for their message with deeds of mercy shown to men and women who were at first hostile but who melted under the warm rays of practical kindnesses shown to them in time of need. If anyone should object to calling good works a method, I would not argue the point. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that they are an overflow into everyday life of the reality of what is being proclaimed.

These are God’s appointed methods, set forth in the Bible and confirmed in centuries of practical application. The intrusion of other methods is unscriptural, unwarranted and in violation of spiritual laws as old as the world.

The whole preach the gospel-with-movies idea is founded upon the same basic assumptions as modernism—namely, that the Word of God is not final, and that we of this day have a perfect right to add to it or alter it wherever we think we can improve it.

A brazen example of this attitude came to my attention recently. Preliminary printed matter has been sent out announcing that a new organization is in the process of being formed. It is to be called the “International Radio and Screen Artists Guild,” and one of its two major objectives is to promote the movie as a medium for the spread of the gospel. Its sponsors, apparently, are not Modernists, but confessed Fundamentalists. Some of its declared purposes are: to produce movies “with or without a Christian slant;” to raise and maintain higher standards in the movie field (this would be done, it says here, by having “much prayer” with leaders of the movie industry); to “challenge people, especially young people, to those fields as they are challenged to go to foreign fields.”

This last point should not be allowed to pass without some of us doing a little challenging on our own account. Does this new organization actually propose in seriousness to add another gift to the gifts of the Spirit listed in the New Testament? To the number of the Spirit’s gifts, such as pastor, teacher, evangelist, is there now to be added another, the gift of the movie actor? To the appeal for consecrated Christian young people to serve as missionaries on the foreign field is there to be added an appeal for young people to serve as movie actors? That is exactly what this new organization does propose in cold type over the signature of its temporary chairman. Instead of holy spirit saying, “Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them” (Acts 13:2), these people will make use of what they call a “Christian talent listing,” to consist of the names of “Christian” actors who have received the Spirit’s gift to be used in making religious movies.

Thus the order set up in the New Testament is openly violated, and by professed lovers of the gospel who say unto Jesus, “Lord, Lord,” but openly set aside His Lordship whenever and wherever they desire. No amount of smooth talk can explain away this serious act of insubordination.

Saul lost a kingdom when he “forced” himself and took profane liberties with the priesthood. Let these movie preachers look to their crown. They may find themselves on the road to Endor some dark night soon.

6. The religious movie is out of harmony with the whole spirit of the Scriptures and contrary to the mood of true godliness.

To harmonize the spirit of the religious movie with the spirit of the Sacred Scriptures is impossible. Any comparison is grotesque and, if it were not so serious, would be downright funny. To imagine Elijah appearing before Ahab with a roll of film! Imagine Peter standing up at Pentecost and saying, “Let’s have the lights out, please.” When Jeremiah hesitated to prophesy, on the plea that he was not a fluent speaker, God touched his mouth and said, “I have put my words in thy mouth.” Perhaps Jeremiah could have gotten on well enough without the divine touch if he had had a good 16mm projector and a reel of home-talent film.

Let a man dare to compare his religious movie show with the spirit of the Book of Acts. Let him try to find a place for it in the twelfth chapter of First Corinthians. Let him set it beside Savonata’s passionate preaching or Luther’s thundering or Wesley’s heavenly sermons or Edwards’ awful appeals. If he cannot see the difference in kind, then he is too blind to be trusted with leadership in the Church of the Living God. The only thing that he can do appropriate to the circumstances is to drop to his knees and cry with poor Bartimaeus, “Lord, that I might receive my sight.”

But some say, “We do not propose to displace the regular method of preaching the gospel. We only want to supplement it.” To this I answer: If the movie is needed to supplement anointed preaching it can only be because God’s appointed method is inadequate and the movie can do something which God’s appointed method cannot do. What is that thing? We freely grant that the movie can produce effects which preaching cannot produce (and which it should never try to produce), but dare we strive for such effects in the light of God’s revealed will and in the face of the judgment and a long eternity?

7. I am against the religious movie because of the harmful effect upon everyone associated with it.

First, the evil effect upon the “actors” who play the part of the various characters in the show; this is not the less because it is unsuspected. Who can, while in a state of fellowship with God, dare to play at being a prophet? Who has the gall to pretend to be an apostle, even in a show? Where is his reverence? Where is his fear? Where is his humility? Any one who can bring himself to act a part for any purpose, must first have grieved the Spirit and silenced His voice within the heart. Then the whole business will appear good to him. “He feedeth on ashes; a deceived heart has turned him aside” (Isaiah 44:20). But he cannot escape the secret working of the ancient laws of the soul. Something high and fine and grand will die within him; and worst of all he will never suspect it. That is the curse that follows self-injury always. The Pharisees were examples of this. They were walking dead men, and they never dreamed how dead they were.

Secondly, it identifies religion with the theatrical world. I have seen recently in a fundamental magazine an advertisement of a religious film which would be altogether at home on the theatrical page on any city newspaper. Illustrated with the usual sex-bait picture of a young man and young woman in tender embrace, and spangled with such words as “feature-length, drama, pathos, romance,” it reeked of Hollywood and the cheap movie house. By such business we are selling out our Christian separation, and nothing but grief can come of it late or soon.

Thirdly, the taste for drama which these pictures develop in the minds of the young will not long remain satisfied with the inferior stuff the religious movie can offer. Our young people will demand the real thing; and what can we reply when they ask why they should not patronize the regular movie house?

Fourthly, the rising generation will naturally come to look upon religion as another, and inferior, form of amusement. In fact, the present generation Yahwist has done this to an alarming extent already, and the gospel movie feeds the notion by fusing religion and fun in the name of orthodoxy. It takes no great insight to see that the religious movie must become increasingly more thrilling as the tastes of the spectators become more and more stimulated.

Fifthly, the religious movie is the lazy preacher’s friend. If the present vogue continues to spread it will not be long before any man with enough ability to make an audible prayer, and mentality enough to focus a projector, will be able to pass for a prophet of the Most High God. The man of God can play around all week long and come up to the Lord’s Day without a care. Everything has been done for him at the studio. He has only to set up the screen and lower the lights, and the rest follows painlessly.

Wherever the movie is used the prophet is displaced by the projector. The least that such displaced prophets can do is to admit that they are technicians and not preachers. Let them admit that they are not God-sent men, ordained of God for a sacred work. Let them put away their pretense.

Allowing that there may be some who have been truly called and gifted of God but who have allowed themselves to be taken in by this new plaything, the danger to such is still great. As long as they can fall back upon the movie, the pressure that makes preachers will be wanting. The habit and rhythm which belong to great preaching will be missing from their ministry. However great their natural gifts, however real their endowment of power, still they will never rise. They cannot while this broken reed lies close at hand to aid them in the crisis. The movie will doom them to be ordinary.

In Conclusion

One thing may bother some earnest souls: why so many people approve the religious movie. The list of those who are enthusiastic about it includes many who cannot be written off as borderline Christians. If it is an evil, why have not these denounced it?

The answer is lack of spiritual discernment. Many who are turning to the movie are the same who have, by direct teaching or by neglect, discredited the work of the holy spirit. They have apologized for the spirit and so hedged it by their unbelief that it has amounted to an out-and-out repudiation. Now we are paying the price for our folly. The light has gone out and good men are forced to stumble around in the darkness of the human intellect.

The religious movie is at present undergoing a period of gestation and seems about to swarm over the churches like a cloud of locusts out of the earth. The figure is accurate; they are coming from below, not from above. The whole modern psychology has been prepared for this invasion of insects. The fundamentalists have become weary of manna and are longing for red flesh. What they are getting is a sorry substitute for the lusty and uninhibited pleasures of the world, but I suppose it is better than nothing, and it saves face by pretending to be spiritual.

Let us not for the sake of peace keep still while men without spiritual insight dictate the diet upon which God’s children shall feed. I heard the president of a Christian college say some time ago that the Church is suffering from an “epidemic of amateurism.” That remark is sadly true, and the religious movie represents amateurism gone wild. Unity among professing Christians is to be desired, but not at the expense of righteousness. It is good to go with the flock, but I for one refuse mutely to follow a misled flock over a precipice.

If God has given wisdom to see the error of religious shows we owe it to the church to oppose them openly. We dare not take refuge in “guilty silence.” Error is not silent; it is highly vocal and amazingly aggressive. We dare not be less so. But let us take heart: there are still many thousands of Christian people who grieve to see the world take over. If we draw the line and call attention to it we may be surprised how many people will come over on our side and help us drive from the Church this latest invader, the spirit of Hollywood.

APARTHEID AMERICA

by Don Elmore

The American way of life under the Articles of Confederation and later the Constitution, during America’s first ninety-three years of existence, had laws and traditions that, in today’s liberal culture, seemed to be very strange. In fact, most present-day Americans would be totally repulsed to live in such a politically incorrect society: but it was a Christian based society. If today’s Christians lived in those days, they would feel very comfortable about how things were. But now, they would think it very strange, because that is not as it is now. It is just the opposite of what it was back then. Now how would you think about a nation in which only White men, over twenty-one years old, who were landowners and paid taxes, were the only ones who were:

1. Allowed to vote,
2. Hold office,
3. Be on the jury, and
4. Be in the militia.

Some offices, like the President, had to be filled by a White man who was over the age of thirty-five. But it was still true that no woman of any race could vote or hold any office until there was a Constitutional Amendment that was passed in 1920! And no non-Whites could vote: that means no Blacks, no Mexicans, no Asians, no Filipinos, no Mulattos, no atheistic White could vote, hold office, be on a jury or be in the militia until after the War Between the States (War of Northern Aggression) had been concluded.

So the United States of America has had this practice of no one except White men voting and holding office for 93 years of its history (1776 - 1869); certain Blacks could vote after 1869 and they have voted for 145 years (1869 - 2014); Asian Pacific Americans were considered “aliens ineligible for citizenship” since 1790 and did not vote in large numbers until after 1965 which was only 49 years ago (1965 - 2014); compared to 94 years of allowing women of all races the right to vote (1920 - 2014).

What a difference this law would have made in the last two Presidential elections if the laws of the nation had not changed. Women of all races supported Obama with high voting percentages, but Barack Obama would not have been the winner anyway. He would not even have been allowed to run. He would first have to produce a valid birth certificate. But then he wouldn’t be allowed to hold the office of a Senator or a President, for Barack Obama is a mulatto; a child of a White and a Black parent (Deuteronomy 23:2).

And he wasn’t a natural born citizen either. Both Mitt Romney and Obama couldn’t vie for the coveted office, as they were both disqualified from holding the office of President of the United States. They both could not run for the president. John McCain also was not a natural born citizen, so he wasn’t qualified under the United States Constitution to be President either. So both the Republican and Democratic parties have not run a qualified candidate for President in the last two elections. With over three hundred million people (many of whom also are not qualified) there must be some to choose from who are although neither political party could find a person who qualified to be President. What a disgrace!

Who could be a juror? Only certain citizens, Christian White men, were allowed to be on the jury to judge their peers. No women were allowed of any race to be on the jury until after 1865. No non-White men were allowed: No Blacks, no Mexicans, no Asians, no Filipinos, no atheistic Whites, no Mulattos, etc. were allowed to be a juror. Before the War of Northern Aggression, only one state—Massachusetts, allowed non-Whites to be part of their jury system.

Judges had to be Christian White men, for what law were they judging? They were judging some of God’s Laws and Statutes and there was a need to know and understand it by the Judges. But later Jewish kabbalah philosophy, disguised as the science of psychology, came into being in the late 1800s. This false tenet became very popular, very quickly. It soon was instructing a person how he could live his life without God. It had crept into every area of American society; including almost every church. These unbiblical psychology courses are also now taught in almost all so-called “Christian” schools and universities as well as preached from many of its pulpits.

The Supreme Court is the third branch of the government. It is part of the checks and balances that was derived from the Constitutional Convention. This is the last place that you can take a case and get a final decision. Originally it was composed of all White Christian men, all Protestants. But now we have 5 Caucasian, 2 Jews, 1 Puerto Rican and 1 Black; that is 6 Roman Catholics, 3 Jews and 0 Protestants. And the United States began as a Protestant Nation! And we have the highest court of the land in the hands of our enemies.

White men were the ones who ran most companies and corporations after attending post-high school teachings in a college or university. There were very few White women who were there; except for the college of Education and Nursing. It was expected that the White women would be the ones whose job it were to give birth to children and to biblically guide the home and rear the children. There were very few non-Whites in colleges and universities. Whites had their businesses and Blacks had theirs. They were basically living separate lives. (Now, that we have “educated” the aliens and other races, they are taking the jobs, and our White people have trouble getting one! Train an alien to do your job, and you will lose it!)

The immigration of the United States changed from mostly Christian White men and White women with their White children coming from Europe, to a third-world, non-Christian, uneducated people in the last century. Roman Catholics and Jews were forbidden to vote and hold office in most of the non-Catholic States, but were allowed to do both on the federal level. That was because this was a Protestant nation and most of the inhabitants of the land remembered the times of persecution suffered at the hands of the Roman Catholic Church. And many of them read the many Bible verses that taught them to beware of those who hated Jesus the Christ. But our Constitution gave them the opening that they rejoiced over.

In the late 1800s there was a large majority of both of these two groups who immigrated to the United States. The Roman Catholics soon became a major influence in America, as well as the Jew, who has influenced a change to the worse for America’s Protestant culture. They both have put Protestant America in a very bad position in regards to their serving their God. The original Protestant America has traded its holy days for their holidays, they have traded its gospel for the message of a false hope; they have traded its modest apparel for the modern short skirts and low-cut blouses and revealing tops; they have traded its traditional marriages for the concept of same-sex ‘marriages’; and the same is true in feminism, birth control, aborticide, Sabbath-keeping, changes in popular music, the drug culture, sodomy, bank usury, miscegenation and many others. We have traded our Godly inheritance in the earth (Psalm 37:11, Matt. 5:5) for a make-believe heaven, a tin-foil halo, and a harp that’s probably ‘made-in-China.’

Now we have so many third world people immigrating, legally and illegally, into the United States (and into Australia!) that the Caucasian race has lost its majority in two states already: New Mexico and California. By the year 2025 it is projected that the United States will be no longer inhabited by a majority of the White race. It will be a Brown America! And in a ‘Democracy’ when the aliens to our race are in the majority, guess which minority will be left begging? (as in South Africa!)

Interracial marriage was illegal and unlawful in the nation and it was forbidden by the States, nation, and churches. The penalty for those who were guilty of interracial marriage was to be either jail time or execution. The Bible has a partially different punishment for the crime, but it hates it very strongly (see Ezra and Nehemiah). Approval of interracial marriages began when marriage licenses came into being in the late 1800s - a license being permission to do, what is otherwise against the law.

Most of the partners of mixed-marriages were married by a Justice of the Peace, rather than a Christian Church clergy, as the vast majority of churches did not marry racially-mixed couples. Today the church has changed from being the “Most segregated place in America on Sunday morning” to an integrated, apostate church that marries just about anybody. They even marry sodomites. Many of the clergy are now sodomites themselves!

Many states had laws against interracial marriages until the Supreme Court ruled against them in 1967. It ruled that State interracial marriage laws were now unconstitutional. So for 178 years of our nation being under the Constitution, it was Constitutional. But for the last 47 years those laws have been considered unconstitutional! How nonsensical can you get?

For Christians it is even a bigger issue. Is race-mixing a sin? Is miscegenation an abomination against our God? For the majority of the time in our nation the churches said that it was a sin and that God hated it. The rules are now turned around; evil for good. And race-mixing, aborticide, same-sex ‘marriages,’ sodomy, bank usury, Sabbath-keeping, and many more that the church taught were sins, but now there is agreement of toleration with these sins.

Baptists, Methodists, Lutherans, Quakers, Presbyterians, Anglicans, Episcopalians, Unitarians and Congregationalists were some of the major denominations in America in the beginning. Almost all of these were all White churches with all Black churches existing independently. The Black churches would usually be pastored by a White man until the church could call a qualified Black man to be their pastor; and then the White man would leave.

There were also a large number of Mennonites and Amish who came to this country. They were true Christians who refused to trade the new inventions which would make their lives more convenient for some of Satan’s wiles. They followed a man who was a former Roman Catholic priest who had never read his Bible. When he began to read it, he was shocked at the things that he found out. He discovered that the Roman Catholic Church was the antichrist Church. He quit the Church as a priest, and became the leader of the Mennonites. They were an all-White church that came from Europe.

New restoration churches sprang into being in the 1800’s: The Christian Church, Church of Christ, Disciples Church, Church of Latter-Day Saints (Mormons), Jehovah’s Witnesses, etc. were a few of these restoration churches which admitted different races and added false doctrines. These churches considered the present main-line churches to be apostate and taught that there was a need for a new church. So they replaced the former churches of Christianity.

But today, we have a host of new “Christian” churches, mega-churches: The Vineyard; Cornerstone; Crossroads; Christian Saddleback Church of Lake Front, California; Southeast Christian Church of Louisville, Kentucky; Willow Creek Community Church of Winter Springs, Florida; Lakewood Church of Houston, Texas; College Park Church in Indianapolis, Indiana; etc; churches with multi-cultural congregations with a Judeo-Christian theme. Most, if not all of them, have rock ‘n’ roll bands for the worship service. This music, which came from the beat of the African drums of the slaves from Africa, spurred the entrance of demonic influence into our nation.

Slavery was legal and lawful in many states and was protected by the Constitution and the Bible. Shortly before the War of Northern Aggression there were movements to pay the slave-holders for their slaves and ship them back to Africa. Marcus Garvey was a Black leader who was transporting Blacks to Liberia, Africa. Slavery was economically impossible to maintain. But the abolitionist saw the opportunity to exploit the situation and do what no other society had ever done—free the slaves with no monetary pay-back given to the slave-holder. The Jewish Black Boule was formed in order to stop the influence of Marcus Garvey and his movement.

Apartheid was basically the law of the nation. “Separate but equal” were the words used to describe America during this time. Many elementary, middle and high schools, as well as most colleges and universities were racially segregated. There were separate drinking fountains and toilets, mainly in the South, in many public stores. Many went to their own segregated schools. The Whites lived in one area of town, the Blacks in another. They did not live in the same neighbourhoods.

The public schools were targeted after the Supreme Court ruled in the Brown v. Board of Education case in 1954. Massive resistance was staged as the Arkansas National Guard unit blocked the admission of nine Black students to the Central High School in Little Rock. This nearly month-long confrontation ended when President Eisenhower sent in the United States troops to protect these students. Thus, the integration of the public schools was soon forced to begin.

The Armed Forces: Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force and National Guard were White as well as the college and university ball teams and the major leagues. They soon ended their segregation, too. Major league baseball became integrated in 1947 when Jackie Robinson joined the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The National Football League became integrated when four players signed a contract in 1946. They were Bill Willis and Marion Motley of the Cleveland Browns and Kerry Washington and Woody Strode of the Los Angeles Rams. Chuck Cooper was the first Black player drafted in the National Basketball Association. He was drafted in the second round by the Boston Celtics. There were four other blacks who were drafted in that year. Now Blacks have the major number of players on each team, with a token number of Whites and Asians. That started the integration of the other professional sports

Now we have practically everything integrated by law—the public schools, the Armed Forces, Major and Minor League Ball Teams, businesses, public transportation and most former “Christian” churches. The percentage of people who voted for the approval of interracial marriages has shifted drastically in the last 55 years. Whites in the late 1950s disapproved at a rate that was over 90% while today the approval rating is close to 90%. Black’s approval of Black-White marriages was 96% and is now nearly universal. In the United States the approval rate was 87% verses only 4% in 1958. Wow, what has caused this dramatic change.

America started out as a White nation; discovered by White people, settled and colonized by White people, governed by White people, with few of any other race or culture living in the land that was given to Joseph. It was established as a Christian republic nation. It has been dead for a long time.

How did all this change in the over 200 years of its existence? What caused the change in race relations? What changed it to a Multicultural democratic country? It was the Roman Catholic Church and the Jew and all their front organizations, such as: Knights of Columbus, Knights of Malta, Knights Templar, Freemasonry, Roundtable Group, Trilateral Commission, Bilderbergers, The Golden Dawn, B’nai B’rith, etc.

Deuteronomy 17:15: “Thou shalt surely set him king over thee whom the LORD thy God shall choose: one from among thy brethren shalt thou set over thee; thou mayest not set a foreigner over thee, who is not thy brother.”

Exodus 12:43: “And the LORD said unto Moses and Aaron, This is the ordinance of the Passover: There shall no stranger [foreigner, one of another race] eat of it.”

Blessed be the LORD God of Israel.

ESTATE WANTED

In this age of the Kingdom of Jesus the Christ, we are all waiting each day to see what wonders our LORD and Saviour will perform for our benefit and fulfillment. The truth of the matter is, every day we should be earnestly seeking the furnishing and completion of Christ’s Kingdom Estate here on earth. So the question comes, “What have you done today to ‘furnish’ this Estate that God has given us as an inheritance?”

Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your toil is not in vain in the Lord. 1 Cor. 15:58 NASB.

The verse above ties in nicely with what we are talking about. First we are going to look at some of the terminology being used in this article. A few definitions are in order. We call this the “Kingdom Age” because after the Christ’s resurrection the tenant was changed from the “Man of Sin” to the redeemed “Man of Christ” (the new man, called Christian).

Therefore if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creature; the old things passed away; behold, new things have come. Now all these things are from God, who reconciled us to Himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation, namely, that God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and He has committed to us the word of reconciliation. 2 Cor. 5:17-19 NASB

When we are reconciled we are placed again into the council, the government, the Estate of God. Vines Expository Dictionary of the New Testament, under the heading “Estate, State” says in the notes “(5) In Jude 6 arche, “principality,” R.V., A.V. has “first estate.”

The word estate has several usages and meanings that are relevant. The Bible uses the word as homestead, property, abode, domain from 511(a) in Strong's. Another definition by Webster defines estate: ESTATE, n. 1. In a general sense, fixedness; a fixed condition; 5. Fortune; possessions; property in general. 6. The general business or interest of government; hence, a political body; a commonwealth; a republic.

But in this sense, we now use State. ESTATE, v.1. To settle as a fortune. 1. To establish; Webster's 1828 Dictionary. The word estate can be modified and defined by the word(s) that precede it, as in real estate, escrow estate, heavenly estate, etc. When we look at the word estate as a domain, a fixed domain, the focus becomes more clear, as in God's Domain, which is ... everything. After all, He created out of His divine will everything that is! The Good News is this; He is the Executor of the Kingdom Estate and redeemed baptized Christians are the heirs of that Domain.

Listen, my beloved brethren: did not God choose the poor of this world to be rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom which He promised to those who love Him? James 2:5 NASB.

Many Christians immediately jump onto the Kingdom Train like it is a free ride to heaven, like there is nothing to do. After all, Jesus paid for the ride, right? The short answer is, that train is never leaving the station. Jesus the Christ bought out the marker, the marker we could never make enough wages to pay off, and get out of bondage, our enslavement. Heaven is not our domain. Our inheritance is right here where Adam started out. This is what we were created for, here, now. It is our homestead. 1 Corinthians, above, speaks of toil. Toil is work.

We are to know our toil is not in vain. To the thinking mind, there is obviously some work involved in being a Christian. What kind of work is involved in being an heir to the Kingdom, a joint-heir with Jesus the Christ? Just as Jesus is a joint-being, both heavenly and earthly, so is His kingdom. How big is that?

If you as an individual were to inherit a large estate after the death of a relative, wouldn't there be a lot of care and upkeep to the estate so it doesn't go to "rack and ruin?" The toil would be very great, but you would do it because it benefits you and your family. After all, if you didn't keep it up, the buildings would fall down and the tares and weeds would take over, making the place untenable (unable to support its tenants).

Likewise being a joint-heir with Jesus requires a tremendous amount of work! The larger the prize, the greater the effort required for its attainment. Many Christian believe that the only workers required in the Kingdom Preparation Arena are Preachers, Teachers and Prophets. Many Christians go to church, pay their tithes, and pray. But is that enough? Absolutely not. Looking back at the meaning of estate we see it also can mean "to establish." Since the Kingdom that has come is different than anything known to mankind since the creation of Adam and Eve, establishing any state of being requires toil and possibly adversity!

If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small. Proverbs 24:10, KJV.

Estate furnishing requires many diversified workers. It is a true reunion of the natural state of our creation as God originally intended us and it to be.

The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: And if children, then heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together. For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. Romans 8:16-18, KJV.

God has put out a call for workmen of all skill types.

Will you answer the call?

Whatever you do, do your work heartily, as for the Lord rather than for men, knowing that from the Lord you will receive the reward of the inheritance. It is the Lord Christ whom you serve. Colossians 3:23-24 NASB (emphasis added)

When we answer the call for workers to furnish the Kingdom, we receive the inheritance of His estate. However, with the inheritance of the Estate of the Kingdom comes a great deal of responsibility, and it doesn't necessarily change what your job is. We are now working for the Kingdom Estate and the Executor of that Domain who wants to give it to His heirs, as soon as it is ready.

For He did not subject to angels the world to come, concerning which we are speaking. But one has testified somewhere, saying, "What is man, that You remember him? Or the son of man, that You are concerned about him? You have made him for a little while lower than the angels; You have crowned him with glory and honor; And have appointed him over the works of your hands; You have put all things in subjection under his feet. For in subjecting all things to him, He left nothing that is not subject to him. But now we do not yet see all things subjected to him." Hebrews 2:5-8 NASB

We can never pay or repay or buy in to our heavenly Father's Domain because the wages we have received since the garden have no value in God's system. The Son of God, Jesus the Christ, made a way and then freely gave us a way to be redeemed (paid for) and reborn.

But now having been freed from sin and enslaved to God, you derive your benefit, resulting in sanctification, and the outcome, eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord. Romans 6:22-23 NASB.

A good example of building the Kingdom can be found in several Bible passages. After Moses led the children of Israel out of the Egyptian bondage, we see a call for workers to build and furnish the Tabernacle. Exodus 35 and 36 put out the call for the skillful workers both men and women.

Let every skillful man among you come, and make all that the LORD has commanded. Exodus 35:10 NASB

All the skilled women spun with their hands, and brought what they had spun, in blue and purple and scarlet material and in fine linen. All the women whose heart stirred with a skill spun the goats; hair. Exodus 35:25-26 NASB

We see as we read these chapters they were furnishing the Tabernacle of God. Some used the skill of their toil, some brought contributions to the work. One is not greater than the other because neither can proceed to completion without the other. The other thing that truly matters is the condition of the heart. As we see in the following verse the heart stirs and the spirit moves.

Everyone whose heart stirred him and everyone whose spirit moved him came and brought the Lord's contribution for the work of the tent of meeting and for all its service and for the holy garments. Exodus 35:21, NASB.

As we flash forward to modern times, we see Jesus left our estate here for His joint-heirs to prepare and get ready. He went to the Heavenly Estate to prepare things for His return and reunion with His heirs. He is doing the same thing in the Heavenly Realm, preparing for when the physical and spiritual estates become reunited!

Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also. John 14:1-3, KJV.

The deeds we do that are honoring and pleasing to God are the furnishings of the Kingdom. The Estate borders and buildings were all built by Jesus for us here, as He left it in our charge to faithfully take care of and furnish with good works, dutifully looking for His return. There are many references to trials and tribulations of this process throughout the Bible and many warnings to the people and Churches in the same regard.

In the Old Testament, when Nehemiah restored Jerusalem, we see there were a great many who did not want it done. It was a type of what we have today. The enemies of God fought with everything they had at their disposal to defeat any restoration of God's remnant. They used diplomacy, lies, military coercion, and financial skulduggery to achieve their goals. It is no different today. The enemies of God's elect use all the weapons at their disposal to cause us to falter in our toil for God's Domain. They use the media (Nehemiah 6:5) governmental oppression (Nehemiah 5:1-13) conspiring to cause us to break God's commandments (Nehemiah 6:10-14), and numerous fear tactics to scare us away from our work. After reading the passages in parenthesis above you can see there really is nothing new about the way they operate. Nehemiah's response was:

For all of them were trying to frighten us, thinking, "They will become discouraged with the work and it will not be done." But now, O God, strengthen my hands. Nehemiah 6:9 NASB

When Nehemiah realized what their enemies were attempting he also called on some to provide physical protection as well.

Our enemies said, "They will not know or see until we come among them, kill them and put a stop to the work." When the Jews who lived near them came and told us ten times, "They will come up against us from every place where you may turn," then I stationed men in the lowest parts of the space behind the wall, the exposed places, and I stationed the people in families with their swords, spears and bows. When I saw their fear, I rose and spoke to the nobles, the officials and the rest of the people: "Do not be afraid of them; remember the Lord who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons, your daughters, your wives and your houses." Nehemiah 4:11-14, NASB.

Jude 6 shows us what happens when we leave God's Estate:

And the messengers who did not keep their own domain, but abandoned their proper abode, He has kept in eternal bonds under darkness for the judgment of the great day. Jude 1:6, NASB.

God has His government. You can be an heir to the estate or reserved to His judgment, it is your choice. The great day spoken of in Jude is the fulfillment and reunion of God's redeemed people when the earth and all in it will be blessed.

But to which of the messengers has He ever said, "Sit at My right hand, Until I make Your enemies a footstool for Your feet?" Are they not all ministering spirits, sent out to render service for the sake of those who will inherit salvation? Hebrews 1:13-14, NASB.

"It is you who are the sons of the prophets and of the covenant which God made with your fathers, saying to Abraham, 'And in your seed all the families of the earth shall be blessed.' For you first, God raised up His Servant and sent Him to bless you by turning everyone of you from your wicked ways." Acts 3:25-26, NASB.

We see the seven Churches in Asia given as a prophetic type of the struggles that Jesus' workmen face as they work to complete the Estate they are heirs to. The book of Revelation speaks of the seven churches and the pitfalls they face that can derail their efforts. One common downfall some of the churches faced was the threat of false prophets, prophetesses, and false gods.

But I have a few things against you, because you have there some who hold the teachings of Balaam, who kept teaching Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols and to commit acts of immorality. So you also have some who in the same way hold the teaching of the Nicolaitans. Revelation 2:14-15, NASB.

After some study on the Nicolaitans, I believe they were followers of Nike, the Greek goddess of victory and success. When speaking to the Church of Ephesus, Jesus said in Revelation 2:6, Yet this you do have, that you hate the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. Revelation 2:6, NASB.

He who has an ear, let him hear what the spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will grant to eat of the tree of life which is in the Paradise of God. Rev. 2:7.

The word overcomer is Strong's #3528 it is nikao from 3529 Nike. The word 3528 means to overcome or prevail. The word 3529 is Nike which means victory. We could paraphrase it like this: they that prevail over Nike (the Nicolaitans), I will grant to eat of the tree of life. This was a battle for Ephesus because that area was highly devoted to the worship of the goddess Nike.

As we look briefly at Revelation chapters 1, 2 and 3 we see the seven Churches summed up by Jesus. Since the individual Churches are made up of individual workmen and their attributes at the points of Jesus' return, we can break down their positives and negatives. It summarizes what we are taught throughout the Bible to guard against, and to strive for, in toils for Jesus.

With the exception of Philadelphia (once the chief city in the new jerUSAlem) the other Churches face major obstacles in furnishing the Estate of God. Many of the sins are the same for the Churches: being unfaithful, eating things sacrificed to idols, committing acts of immorality, worshipping false gods, being dead, and being lukewarm. Many of them seem to have been caught up only in earthly success and victory, being asleep to the Estate to come. We then look at the Church at Philadelphia which contained all the attributes that pleased God.

Because you have kept the word of My perseverance, I also will keep you from the hour of testing, that hour which is about to come upon the whole world, to test those who dwell on the earth. I am coming quickly; hold fast what you have, so that no one will take your crown. Rev. 3:10-11.

The word perseverance goes back to the words stand, stay, power, hands, and endure. We are to furnish God's Estate with our hands and endurance. Evil ones attempting to "take your crown" indicated resistance must be made.

In the photo of Nike, we see she is holding a crown/wreath. I wonder where she got it? The word crown as used in the verse above denotes to encircle; that which surrounds. Remember how the pioneers (and Voortrekkers) encircled their wagons for protection? It would seem that the crown we are warned to protect is part of our defensive protection from the enemies of our Lord, Jesus the Christ.

As workers of God's Estate we are not without power. When we feel beaten down and weary, we need to seek encouragement from God's Word. In Zechariah we see a prophetic parallel that is encouraging! The people had lost their crown at some point and were scattered. It is hard to wear a crown when your head is down, maybe that is why we have an old saying "keep your chin up."

But the LORD sent workers to remove the enemies' crown (horns) and to terrify the enemies!

So I said to the angel who was speaking with me, "What are these?" And he answered me, "These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel and Jerusalem." Then the Lord showed me four craftsmen. I said, "What are these coming to do?" And he said, "These are the horns which have scattered Judah so that no man lifts up his head; but these craftsmen have come to terrify them, to throw down the horns of the nations who have lifted up their horns against the land of Judah in order to scatter it." Zechariah 1:19-21, NASB

As we continue to furnish the Estate that Jesus entrusted us with during His absence, we must persevere to gain the prize. Daily we toil, build, repair, and repel the enemies of Jesus, looking forward to His return and approval of our efforts in the furthering of His Kingdom.

Will you persevere in this epic undertaking and reap the rewards, or be "asleep on the job?" and ashamed before your Lord and master? We pray you will join us as the reunion draws closer and the time of His return gets shorter!

But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and which are committed unto thee, knowing of whom thou hast learned them: And that thou hast known the holy Scriptures of a child, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through the faith which is in Christ Jesus. For the whole Scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable to teach, to convince, to correct, and to instruct in righteousness. That the man of God may be absolute, being made perfect unto all good works. 2 Timothy 3:14-17, Geneva Bible (1599).

THE CONCERTED PLOT AGAINST TRUTH by Ed Sommerville

There are two very questionable subjects that have permeated the churches over the years, which deserve a closer and more rationale look. The first one is the age of the earth and the universe; and the second is the origin of the races. It is hard to separate them, as both are promoted by the same people and by a single organization.

That organization, the Institute for Creation Research, was formed in 1972 by Henry Morris, and one can only speculate as to why it was formed. The Institute's foundation is built on their interpretation of a few verses in the book of Genesis, and is neither scientific nor Christian.

I met Dr. Henry Morris and Dr. Duane Gish in 1973, while I was still in the Baptist Church. They both spoke for a period of about 45 minutes on their beliefs of the creation. I remember when they were done speaking, I personally asked Dr. Morris how old the earth was, and he replied: approximately 6,000 years. I had a hard time accepting the answer, but I thought they were scientists as well as Christians so why shouldn't I believe them? There are probably millions of Christians who follow their teaching today for the same reason. They also brought with them many books and materials for sale promoting the 6,000 year age. If you feel that I think I know how and when the universe was created, I don't! Time and space are infinite, and no finite mind is able to come up with a scientific answer. Just after Dr. Morris answered my question, an older man stood up and asked, "What does this have to do with salvation?" There are many Baptists like him that think that salvation is the only purpose of the church.

Along with the young earth, they also go into the flood during Noah's time. They say the flood at the time covered the whole earth (globe). Along with that teaching is the idea that all the people on earth after the flood had to come from Adam through Noah's family, and that all the animals alive on earth at that time were in the ark! That would also include all the birds as well as the insects. In order to discredit the idea that the dinosaurs lived a million or so years ago, they tell the people that Noah took baby dinosaurs on the ark! However, they did not explain how Noah would get the male and female babies away from their parents, other than maybe God did it. They have a way of bringing God into their very questionable and erroneous ideas when there is no other answer they can come up with.

In order to promote universalism in the churches it is necessary that we believe that all races came from Adam, and that the flood covered the whole earth. The verse used for the race issue is found in Acts 17:26: "... And hath made of one blood all nations." In all the old Bibles, the word "blood" was in italics, meaning that it had been added, and not in the original manuscripts. I have an old KJV Bible that has a small footnote letter in front of the word “blood,” and the footnote says, “not in the original mms.” All of the new Bibles have deceitfully made no mention of this fact. It should read, And hath made of One (or by One) all nations.... The One being the Creator.

Due to the tremendous difference between the Black man and White man, there is no way that the White man could have evolved from the Black man under Darwin’s “theory,” or that the Black man could have evolved from the White man according to the ideas of Dr. Morris. The wide nose, the thick lips as well as the shape of the head, among other differences, proves the point. The color of the skin is irrelevant, compared to mentality and mind-set, as Blacks are “wired” differently than the Whites. There is not much difference between a donkey and a zebra, other than the “color of his skin,” but Dr. Morris states that these are separate creations, which they are. No remains have ever been found of men in the transition stage in either of the two “evolutions” spawned by these men.

God was the one that created the races as they are today, and they did not evolve. He created the races for His purpose, and there are many churches that are doing their best to make them all into one race or color. For example, Billy Graham once said that he is looking forward to a universal tan race. They feel they are doing God a favour in correcting His “mistakes,” or is there a more ominous reason?

The one thing we should keep in mind is that there are four different blood types, with a positive and a negative for each, resulting in eight types of blood. Although they are the same colour, by administering the wrong blood type in a person, that person could die, which in itself proves that we are not all of one blood. If one of your family members needed a blood transfusion immediately and they did not have the right blood type, would you tell them, “it doesn’t make any difference what type you use, as the Bible tells me there is only one blood”?

This deception of adding to the Bible is found in other verses, such as Matt. 13:19, 38. They have added the word one after the word wicked, which changes it from the plural to the singular. They have also put a capital “W” on the word wicked in places to promote their theory of a singular antichrist or belief in the god Satan. The Bible has something to say about the ones who add or take away from the Scriptures. And to say the least, it is not good.

There are many questions that should demand an answer regarding Noah’s flood as it is taught and as it is taken as fact by possibly millions of people. It is time we took a realistic look at the gargantuan task that Noah and his sons had to accomplish. Let’s put this problem in the here and now, and figure out how this could be done today, in regards the transportation, logistics and manpower needed to carry it out. How many large trucks would it take to go down to Africa and capture the large and dangerous animals not found in the area of the ark?

There are many different species of monkeys and apes, and along with all the many different exotic birds, we would have alligators, rhinos, hippos, elephants, zebras, giraffes, and many others that would have to be crated and loaded. This would take many tools to accomplish. They would also have to go to India, as Indian elephants are different to those in Africa. The kangaroo as well as other animals that are found only in Australia, as well as those found only in the Western hemisphere would require an ocean voyage to get them. I won’t even mention the penguins.

Another thing to think about is where did all this water come from? In some places it would have to be almost a mile deep in order to cover the mountains. How many feet an hour would it have to rain? Where would all the water disappear to after the flood? How would the saltwater fish survive all the fresh water? These are just some of the things people would challenge if it were not for false religious teaching.

The following information is taken from Charles Weisman’s book regarding Noah’s flood:

According to the Biblical figures, the ark would have contained about 1.2 million cubic feet. There are currently 200,000 species of animals, over 900,000 species of insects, and about 450,000 species of plants. By those figures, there would be over 400,000 animals alone. He then calculated how much space it would take for the different sized animals (a turkey, 9 cubic feet, a rabbit, 3 cubic feet; a fifteen-foot crocodile or a 600 pound gorilla, each 140 c.f; a fox, 10; a lion, 120; a twenty foot tall giraffe, 900; and so on. The food alone necessary to sustain them on the ark would be immense.

Weisman included a chart that lists the items on the ark and the numbers of cubic feet needed. Here are a few items: Eight people need 80 cubic feet; food for eight people, 640; 231,000 clean animals 2,310,000 cubic feet; 1.8 million insects, 90,000 cf; food for insects 720,000cf. That is a total of 51,550,720 cubic feet. With only 1.2 million cf available on the ark, we can see from these figures that Noah would have needed at least 43 arks to accomplish the job of storing and feeding all of the animals (end of Weisman’s remarks).

After the ark was finished, it would have taken at least 20 years to gather all of the animals and bring them to the ark. During that time there would have to be quite a crew to feed over 200,000 animals that would require tons of food every week for years. This would be an impossible task for eight people to manage.

There are many more problems that I have not mentioned, that negate the idea that there was a global flood at that time; unless those who believe it feel that God did all of the things mentioned above. However, there is no mention of this in the Scriptures. Even if God did it as they believe, there is no way Noah and his sons could have gotten everything on the ark of the size described in the Bible, as shown above.

It is necessary for the propagation of the universalism that is taught today in our churches, for Noah and his family to be the only people left on the earth after the flood. This was the reason that the agents of the Illuminati infiltrated our seminaries and our pulpits in the 20th century, to bring about a new religion necessary to accomplish their ultimate goal of their New World Order. It appears that Dr. Morris and his institute has been a deliberate tool of the Zionist-controlled Illuminati to sell both the idea of the young earth and the origin of the races to millions of today’s Christians.

Less than a thousand years ago the majority of people thought the earth was flat, although there were many that knew it was not. Many of the ones that thought differently were regarded as heretics. There is enough real science today that dates the earth as millions of years old as there is to prove the earth is not flat.

We now have Dr. Morris to tell us Christians the real way the different races came to be. Some pastors have their own reasons, but they all feel this came about at the time of the Tower of Babel incident. One Baptist pastor with a D.D. told me that they were all changed into the different races at the time their languages were changed. When I asked him how the Blacks got down to Africa, he said they walked. With that mind-set, that would have to be the time they lost all the knowledge they once had, as they couldn't even start a fire or invent anything as complicated as the wheel. In order to understand how completely idiotic this statement is, it is necessary to give a little background of Babylon at that time.

Babylon was the envy and “center of the world” then. It was 17 miles square (not 17 square miles). There was a wall around the city eighty feet high, with fifty foot towers about every hundred yards, and the were wide enough to drive two chariots abreast. They had their own banks that charged 20% interest, insurance companies and hundreds of pagan temples of Baal and other Eastern religions. They were a very religious people, not unlike the people of today. It was later on in this city that the Judeans, along with the Canaanites and Edomites, became the Jewish Pharisees before Jesus' appearance, learned how to use the sin of usury from the Babylonian Talmud, which became modern Judaism.

The great scientist Dr. Morris claims that the Adamites at that time, for some reason or another, formed groups that were segregated from the main body of the people, and for some reason that no intelligent person (other than the programmed Christians) can understand, “developed” into the different races. This came about in a rather short period of time, compared with Darwin's theory. It is impossible for all these tremendous changes, including DNA, to take place suddenly. It would have to be from entirely separate creations. Dr. Morris and his institute, by using the word “developed” instead of “evolution,” are teaching the very same thing.

All the races were created long before the White race, some by thousands of years, as there were no new races that appeared after Adam. This also answers many questions that have bothered people over the years, like who was Cain afraid of when he was cast out of Eden, and where did all these other people come from that appeared shortly after Adam and Eve? Who were the Adamites mixing their seed with that brought about their death by the flood, while Noah and his family were the only ones that remained “perfect in his generation (race)?”

Both of these evolutionary fairy tales have brought about irreparable damage to Christianity and America. By believing Darwin, that there is no God, generations have been deceived into moral decline, believing we are no more accountable for our actions than animals are. One of Darwin's biggest promoters has said that believing in evolution is a way of getting rid of morality, with all its sexual taboos. Our moral standards are now determined by the individual and by governments composed of humanists, and our morals are getting lower by the day.

I remember seeing a photograph by the Creationists about thirty years ago of what was said to be the footprint of a dinosaur alongside the footprint of a man. They used this photograph to prove that dinosaurs were here with Adamic man. The man's footprint was so large that he would have had to be nine or ten feet tall. If this photo was authentic, it only brings up the possibility that there could have been giants in the prehistoric time of the dinosaurs.

Darwin's atheism has taken a tremendous toll on our young people. It has helped our internal enemies promote race-mixing, one of the greatest sins today, through their movies and TV shows. With the help of Dr. Henry Morris and his institute, many Christians abandoned the Biblical admonition of kind after kind. Until the 20th century, it was illegal for a Black to marry a White. Years ago our internal enemies felt that through Hollywood and televised professional sports they could make Blacks appear no different than Whites, other than the color of their skin.

When I turn on the TV in the morning to watch the news, the station I had on in the evening pops up on the screen. Many times it is a Black preacher by the name of Dollar. In listening to him talking about the new covenant, I was amazed at his ignorance. His wife is a blond, and I think his calling to the ministry is apparent in his name. Race-mixing the holy seed with the profane, and our needless wars that have killed millions of our race along with abortion (while we continue to ‘support’ a starving black child in Africa) is a form of genocide. The White European race is the only people that have heard His voice and have followed Him for the last 2,000 years. We are the people that have been the greatest deterrent to the Talmudic, anti-christ Jews and their plans for the New World Order, under their control.

I am sure that Dr. Morris is aware of everything I have written about and is aware of the impossibility of a worldwide flood. I can only speculate as to what his motive was for pursuing this cause with such vigor. It is possible that the same people that financed and controlled C.I. Scofield to create their own Bible that promoted the Zionist cause could have approached him. Their Oxford Press owns the copyright, while making millions on it and changing our great Christian faith and the principles that built this nation.

Another reason, of course, is to follow the TV evangelists that have used Christianity to become multi-millionaires while they praise and promote the enemies of Jesus the Christ, Christianity and Christians. There was a lot of money to be made by Dr. Morris and Dr. Gish in speaking engagements, seminars, camps, book sales, etc., by their institute. Over the years they have built themselves quite an empire.

Our internal enemy's goal is to convince people, especially Christians, that there are only two groups of people on earth today. One, everyone, regardless of race or heredity, that call themselves Jews; and two, everyone else. The bones in the second group are then divided into two groups: the saved and the unsaved (regardless of race). This idea is not Biblical, as we read in 1 Peter 2:9, But ye are a chosen generation (race), a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light: Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy. Peter was writing this to the same people that James was referring to in James 1:1, The twelve tribes that are scattered abroad.

These people were not Jews, but the descendants of the same people he referred to in Exodus 19:6, Then ye shall be a Peculiar treasure unto Me above all people: for all the earth is mine. Some of today's Christians will be quick to say that this is racist, and not right for Him to choose one people over all other races. He has every right to do so by His right of creation. His holy nations means "set apart," and these verses refer to all Israel as the Veil was rent, referring to old Israel when the high priest went in once a year to pray for the sins of all Israel, which today would mean the saved and also the unsaved.

Today's Christians have been deceitfully and intentionally put in a box and afraid to venture outside of the box. Let's take a logical and reasonable look at the time frame regarding the creation. Since the Creator has been from eternity past, we'll just focus on the last trillion years. We have been led to believe that He did nothing in all that time until 6,000 years ago, and then came up with the idea of creating the earth and the universe in seven calendar days. There is a concerted effort on the part of the creationists to prove the earth is only 6,000 years old with some of the most impossible reasons, reasons that defy archeology and other reliable scientific evidence.

For the people to believe the falsehood that all races evolved from Adam and that we are all the same in the sight of God is absolutely necessary in promoting universalism in the church. Such beliefs result in the breaking of God's Laws and principles on race-mixing, and it keeps His lost sheep, the only ones that have heard His voice and followed Him for the last 2,000 years, from knowing their roots. Such an erroneous belief has immensely helped our internal enemies that hate Jesus, in bringing in their New World Order.

DO YOU HAVE A SEPTUAGINT?

If you don't, (or if believe the book of Esther should not be in the Bible) the following will be a surprise to you—but you need to know some of the precious words the Masoretic/Talmudic text didn't include in their versions of The Holy Bible.

Here is Mordecai's prayer that follows Esther 4:17 (which is where the KJV, Ferrar Fenton, Amplified, NASB, etc., etc., stops)

... Lord God, King ruling overall, for all things are in Thy power, and there is no one that shall oppose thee in thy purpose to save Israel. For thou hast made the heaven and the earth, and every wonderful thing in the world under heaven. And thou art Lord of all, and there is no one who shall resist thee the Lord. Thou knowest all things: thou knowest, Lord, that it is not the insolence, nor haughtiness, nor love of glory, that I have done this, to refuse obeisance to the haughty Haman. For I would gladly have kissed the soles of his feet for the safety of Israel. But I have done this, that I might not set the glory of man above the glory of God: and I will not worship any one except Thee, my Lord; and I will not do these in haughtiness. And now, O Lord God, the King, the God of Abraham, spare thy people, for our enemies are looking upon us to our destruction, and they have desired to destroy thine ancient inheritance. Do not overlook thy peculiar people, whom Thou hast redeemed for thyself out of the land of Egypt. Harken to my prayer, and be propitious to thine inheritance, and turn our mourning into gladness, that we may live and sing praise to Thy name, O Lord, and do not utterly destroy the mouth of them that praise Thee, O Lord.

And all Israel cried with all their might, for their death was before their eyes. And queen Esther betook herself for refuge to the Lord, being taken as it were in the agony of death and said, O my Lord, thou alone art our king: help me who am destitute, and have no helper but Thee, for my danger is near at hand. I have heard from my birth, in the tribe of my kindred, that Thou Lord, tookest Israel out of all the nations, and our fathers out of all their kindred for a perpetual inheritance, and thou hast wrought for them all that Thou hast said. And now we have sinned before Thee, and Thou hast delivered us into the hands of our enemies, because we honoured their gods: Thou art righteous, O Lord. But now they have not been contented with the bitterness of our slavery, but they laid their hands on the hands of their idols, in order to abolish the decree of thy mouth, and utterly to destroy thine inheritance, and to stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and to extinguish the glory of thine house and thine altar, and to open the mouth of the nations to speak the praises of vanities, and in order that a mortal king should be admired for ever.

I Lord, do not resign thy scepter to them that are not, and let them not laugh at our fall, but turn their counsel against themselves, and make an example of him who has begun to injure us. Remember us, O Lord, manifest thyself in the time of our affliction, and encourage me, O King of gods, and ruler of all dominion. Put harmonious speech into my mouth before the lion, and turn his heart to hate him that fights against us, to the utter destruction of him and of them that consent with him. But deliver us by thine hand, and help me who am destitute, and have none but thee, O Lord. Thou knowest all things, and knowest that I hate the glory of transgressors, and that I abhor the couch of the uncircumcised, and of every stranger. Thou knowest my necessity, for I abhor the symbol of my proud station, which is upon my head in the days of my splendour . . . Neither has thy handmaid rejoiced since the day of my promotion, until now, except in thee, O Lord God of Abraham, O God, who hast power over all, hearken to the voice of the desperate, and deliver us from the hand of them that devise mischief; and deliver me from my fear . .

Doesn't this sound like the very prayer we need to be praying today?!
