MARRIAGE RITES AND RULES

by pastor Jory Steven Brooks, CBIA

In June, my wife and I will celebrate our 30th wedding anniversary. Since about half of all marriages now end in divorce, what is our secret to lasting happiness? As I often like to say, we are soul-mates, very similar in our nature, beliefs, likes and habits. That has been immensely helpful to us, and it is not an accident that we are so similar. After a conservative Biblical upbringing, she had joined the church that I pastor and is steeped in my sermons!

A few recent articles in the mainstream media offered very good advice for young people contemplating marriage. A Wall Street Journal special report, "Rules For A Happy Life" (30/03/15, C1) concluded that the more you have in common with your spouse the greater the likelihood of marital happiness. That suggestion should not be a shock to anyone, and yet far too many people marry for superficial reasons, such as looks alone, or they rush to the altar with whom-soever they happen to find who is eligible at the moment they desire marriage. The article listed quite a number of areas that matter to happiness in a marriage according to the study; of course, the two big items are politics and religion, but there was much more. The article presented such things as musical inclinations, interior design styles, colour preferences, and food likings. In addition, since it is usually too politically incorrect to reveal such things, ethnic similarity should also be mentioned. The media usually suppresses the fact that inter-racial marriages have a significantly higher divorce rate, although the exact figures are nearly impossible to track down. Yet our young people should be informed that marrying someone of your own background and its particular culture does indeed improve the chances for a happy and successful marriage.

Some of the "happy marriage" items that were listed in the Journal article you might never think of. For example, the time of day that you like to do your shopping was a humorous head-scratcher for me. That would not have been my first question on a date!

Those who marry for money should take the advice of billionaire music and film producer, David Geffen, who says, "Show me someone who thinks that money buys happiness, and I'll show you someone who has never had a lot of money." No, money does not buy happiness, as witness the many rich sports and movie stars who are divorced, often multiple times.

My wife and I both tend to be very strong-willed individuals. Such a combination could easily spell conflict and trouble for a marriage. Yet, we live pretty much a serene, happy life together. In thinking about it, we have so much in common that there really is not a lot that we could argue about.

The Bible has much to say about Marriage. "Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the LORD." (Proverbs 18:22). A good marriage is one of the best things that can ever happen to you.

The apostle Paul advised, "If I speak with the eloquence of men and of angels, but have no love, I become no more than blaring brass or crashing cymbal. If I have the gift of foretelling the future and hold in my mind not only all knowledge but the very secrets of God, and if I also have that absolute faith which can move mountains, but have no love, I amount to nothing at all." (1 Cor. 13:1-2, Phillips) Yes, the faith to move mountains is nothing without love.

The prophet Micah warns us in chapter 7, vs 5, "Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom." Be careful what you say! It is not always a good thing to try to tell everyone their supposed faults, especially one's wife! For the apostle wisely advises us in 1 Peter 4:8, "Above all things be fervent in your love among yourselves; for love covereth a multitude of sins." The Amplified Bible adds, "forgives and disregards the offenses of others." Proverbs 10:12 concurs, saying, "Hatred stirs up contentions, but love covers all transgressions.” If we love one another, we will forgive their transgressions against us.

The apostle John advised, “Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.” (1 John 3:16, 18). We should show our Christian faithfulness and love by our actions and our lifestyle.

On many of the hot button issues of our day, we find ourselves at odds not only with the ungodly but with a growing number of Christians (in name) who criticize or think us hateful for upholding Scriptural moral values. In John 14:23-24, “Jesus answered and said, ... If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. He that loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings...” Obedience to God is sometimes hard, often politically incorrect, but it is love, not hate!

An article by Sam Roberts in the New York Times was titled, “To Be Married Means to Be Out-numbered.” Yes, less than half of American households are married now, a steady decline from the past. Figures from the American Community Survey released by the Census Bureau, found that only 49.7 percent, or 55.2 million, of the nation’s 111.1 million households in 2005 were made up of married couples. Many children are brought up in one-parent-households, which is neither easy for the parent nor beneficial for the children. There is little “peer pressure” now to encourage settling down in a stable marriage.

In his newly released book, “The Curmudgeon’s Guide to Getting Ahead: Do’s and Don’ts of Right Behaviour, Tough Thinking, Clear Writing, and Living A Good Life” (Random House), American Enterprise Institute scholar Charles Murray has much to say about marriage. He suggests that people marry young, because there is a “symbiosis, where two people become more than the sum of the individuals.” A couple who made their way together in life have a set of shared experiences and the satisfaction of knowing “that you wouldn’t have become the person you are without the other.” Murray, too, advises marrying someone similar to yourself, and that if “you think that you can change your beloved after you’re married, you’re wrong.” I would add that, sometimes, that is a very good thing! I am glad that my wife is still so much the girl I fell in love with. Over thirty years we have been through so much together, and I have appreciated her standing by my side.

As a loving father, I can only hope, encourage, and pray that God will lead and guide my own young daughter in the major decisions of her life, and that she will consult with her parents on any marriage decisions before they are made. Above all, I pray that in the declining moral and spiritual atmosphere we see today we all realize the importance of being loving, guiding moral lights to our own children and to the younger generation.

SAME-SEX “MARRIAGE” AND THE FUTURE

by Russell Moore, April 15, 2014

The Bible tells us that the king of Israel once wanted to hear from the prophets, as to whether he would be victorious over his enemies. All the court prophets told him exactly what he wanted to hear. Yet the king of Judah, wisely, asked whether there might be another voice to hear from, and Israel’s king said that, yes, there was, but that he hated this prophet “because he never prophesies good concerning me.” (1 Kings 22:8).

Once found, this prophet refused to speak the consensus word the king wanted to hear. “As the LORD lives, what the LORD says to me, that will I speak” (1 Kings 22:14). And, as it turned out, it was a hard word.

When it comes to what people want to hear, it seems to me that the church faces a similar situation as we look to the future of marriage in this country. Many want the sort of prophetic witness that will spin the situation to look favorable, regardless of whether that favor is from the Lord or in touch with reality.

Some people want a court of prophets who will take a surgeon’s scalpel to the Word of God. They want those who will say in light of what the Bible clearly calls immorality, “Has God really said?” Following the trajectory of every old liberalism of the past, they want to do with a Christian sexual ethic what the old liberals did with the virgin birth—claim that contemporary people just won’t have this, and if we want to rescue Christianity, this will have to go overboard. All the while they’ll tell us they’re doing it for the children (or for the Millennials).

This is infidelity to the gospel we’ve received. First of all, no one refusing to repent of sin—be it homosexuality or fornication or anything else—will inherit the Kingdom of God (1 Cor. 6:9-10). This strategy leaves people in condemnation before the Judgment Seat of Christ, without reconciliation and without hope.

Second, it doesn’t even work. Look at the empty cathedrals of the Episcopal Church, the vacated pews of the Presbyterian Church (USA), and right down the line. Let me be clear. Even if embracing same-sex ‘marriage’—or any other endorsement of what the Bible calls sexual immorality—“worked” in church-building, we still wouldn’t do it. If we have to choose between Jesus and Millennials, we choose Jesus. But history shows us that those who want a different Jesus—the one who says “Do whatever you want with your body, it’s okay by me” (sounds more like Alister Crowley!)—don’t want Christianity at all.

But there will be those who want prophets who will say that the gospel doesn’t call for repentance, or at least not repentance from this sin. These prophets will apply a selective universalism that denies that judgment is coming, or that the blood of Jesus is needed. But these prophets don’t speak for God. And quite frankly, we have no one to blame but ourselves since, for too long, too many of us have tolerated among us those who have substituted a cheap and easy false gospel for the gospel of Jesus the Christ. Too many have been called gospel preachers who preach decision without faith, regeneration without repentance, justification without lordship, deliverance by walking an aisle but without carrying a cross. That gospel is different from the one Jesus and His apostles delivered to us. That gospel doesn't save.

So when these prophets emerge to tell people they can stay in their sins and still be saved, we must thunder back with the old gospel that calls all of us to repentance and to cross-bearing, the gospel that calls sin what it is in order to call grace what it is. J. Gresham Machen warned us that our Lord Jesus himself never attempted to preach the gospel to the righteous but only to sinners. Those who follow Him must start by acknowledging themselves to be in need of mercy, to be in need of grace that can pardon and cleanse within.

There's also another form of court prophet of these times. This one has no problem identifying homosexuality as sin. He may do so with all sorts of bluster and outrage, but he still does what court prophets always do—he speaks a word that people want to hear. What some people want to hear is that sexual immorality is moral after all, and what other people want to hear is that same-sex 'marriage' is simply a matter of some elites on the coasts of the country. This prophet implies that if we just sign checks to the right radio talk show hosts, and have a good election cycle or two, we'll be right back where we were, back when carpets were shag and marriages were strong. I don't know anyone in any advocacy organization in Washington DC—and there are many fighting the good fight on this one—that is saying that. As a matter of fact, the organizations closest to the ground know just how dark the hour is. The courts are hell-bent on redefining marriage, which is why state definitions of marriage, put in place by the citizens of those states, are being struck down. This isn't happening simply in the blue states (Republican) but in the reddest of red states (Democrat)—Utah, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Tennessee, and so on.

The Supreme Court said last year, in a shocking ruling, that essentially the only reason anyone could have for defining marriage the way every human civilization has for millennia is hostility toward gay and lesbian persons. The answer is not a simple constitutional amendment—though that would be optimal—because any constitutional amendment would require a super-majority in both houses, that, apart from a miracle, no one sees happening in the next several years, now that the Democratic Party is firmly behind same-sex 'marriage.'

What several of us have been saying for quite a while is that, in some form or another, your church will have to address the marriage revolution. My friend Jeff Iorg, president of Golden Gate Seminary in California, has courageously called the church to see that everyone will soon have to be standing where he is standing now. He's exactly right. The cultural trends are such that the red-blue divide will not ultimately isolate any congregation from this Sexual Revolution, and all it entails.

Moreover, the situation isn't as easy as just an election or two, given the vast cultural changes that have happened. I—and my co-labourers in other organizations—are fighting every single week in court cases, in hearings, in state disputes for the most basic of conscience protections from those who dissent from the High Church of the Sexual Revolution. Look at the way Louie Giglio was deemed too toxic to pray at the President's inauguration in 2013.

Look at the way the CEO of Mozilla was hounded out of office simply for supporting a ballot measure defining marriage as between one man and one woman. Look at the way photographers and florists are being forced, under penalty of law, to participate in same-sex 'weddings.' And look at the way that even the most base-level religious liberty provisions are deemed discriminatory.

If the church doesn't read the signs of the times, we will be right where we evangelicals were after Roe vs Wade—caught flat-footed and unprepared. Thankfully, the Catholics were there to supply an ethical framework and a sense of justice until some evangelicals—such as Francis Schaeffer and Jerry Falwell—emerged to rally for the lives of the unborn and their mothers.

So what should we do? Well, precisely what we should have done before and after Roe. We should recognize where the courts and the culture are, and we should work for justice. That means not simply assuming that most people agree with us on marriage. We must articulate, both in and out of the church, why marriage matters, and why its definition isn't infinitely elastic.

We must—like the pro-life movement has done—seek not to engage our base, those who already agree with us, but to persuade others who don't. That doesn't mean less talk about marriage and sexuality but more—and not just in sound bytes and slogans but in a robust theology of why sexual complementarity and the one-flesh union are rooted in the mystery of the gospel (Eph. 5:22-33).

We must—also like the pro-life movement—understand the importance of a Supreme Court that won't will into existence constitutional planks by force of its own will. That requires a persuasive public witness, and a long-term as well as a short-term strategy. That means fighting—as we are doing—for the Court not to invalidate state definitions of marriage and for the culture to recognize that a state that can force people to participate in what they believe to be sin is a state that is too big for the common good.

Above all, we must prepare people for what the future holds, when Christian beliefs about marriage and sexuality aren't part of the cultural consensus but are seen to be strange and freakish and even subversive. If our people assume that everything goes back to normal with the right President and a quick constitutional amendment, they are not being equipped for a world that views evangelical Protestants and traditional Catholics and others as bigots or freaks.

Jesus told us we would have hard times. He never promised us a prosperity gospel. He said we would face opposition, but He said He would be with us. If we are going to be faithful to His gospel, we must preach repentance—even when that repentance is culturally unwelcome. We must preach that any sinner can be forgiven through the blood of Jesus the Christ (following repentance). That means courage and that means kindness. Sexual revolutionaries will hate the repentance. Buffoonish heretics, who want only to vent paranoia and rally their troops, will hate the kindness. So be it.

Our churches must be ready to call out the revisionists who wish to do away with a Christian sexual ethic. And we must be ready to call out those who tell us that acknowledging the signs of the times is forbidden, and we should just keep doing what we've been doing. An issue this culturally powerful cannot be addressed by a halfway-gospel or by talk-radio sloganeering.

The marriage revolution around us means we must do a better job articulating a theology of marriage to our people, as well as a theology of suffering and marginalization. It means we must do a better job articulating to those on the outside why children need both a Mom and a Dad, not just “parents,” and why marriage isn’t simply a matter of court decree. It means we must start teaching our children about marriage “from the beginning” as male and female when they’re in Sunday school. It means we may have to decide if and when the day will come in which we will refuse to sign the state’s marriage licenses.

Because the stakes are so high, the Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission is hosting a conference this fall on marriage <<http://erlc.com/conference>>, homosexuality, and the church. Here we will assemble some of the leading thinkers and pastors <<http://erlc.com/conference/speakers>> on these issues to help you equip a new generation to stand for marriage in tough times, to prepare us to preach the whole gospel to hurting people.

Long term, the prospects for marriage are good. Sexual revolutions always disappoint, and God has designed marriage, Biblically defined, to be resilient. But, short term, the culture of marriage is dark indeed. That’s why we have a gospel that is the power of God.

TESS CORBETT APPEAL

by Bernard Gaynor

Last week, the New South Wales Civil and Administrative Decisions Tribunal held a hearing to determine whether Tess Corbett was entitled to appeal against the decision handed down last year forcing her to apologise to the homosexual activist and serial litigant, Gary Burns, and in writing in the Sydney Morning Herald.

Gary Burns took exception to comments opposing pedophile rights, which Tess Corbett made while a political candidate (for Katter’s Party) in the previous Federal Election. Tess also stated that homosexuality is a moral issue.

The current ruling sets a very dangerous precedent allowing homosexual activists to use anti-discrimination laws to shut down candidates who hold conservative social views. It opens the door for people like Gary Burns to claim that they are vilified by any politician that opposes homosexual ‘marriage.’

The first part in the appeal process was only possible due to the support provided by readers of my blog. I would like to thank all those who donated to make this appeal possible. Tess Corbett’s barrister, Marcel White, did an outstanding job and I would very much like to thank him for his time and efforts, considering he has worked pro-bono on this case.

Marcel White pointed out to the Tribunal that the previous decision also effectively criminalises the Bible in the state of New South Wales. You can read about his comments here: <www.canberratimes.com.au/act-news/st-paul-quoted-in-katter-party-candidates-fight-against-vilification-finding-20140430-zr20h.html>

Gary Burns appeared with a very high-profile legal team (I counted five barristers and lawyers) and it is clear that he has considerable support within the legal world for his campaign against family values.

The Tribunal has reserved its decision and we won’t know if Tess Corbett’s appeal will be allowed to continue for some time. I will keep you updated, especially as Gary Burns has now threatened me with legal action (again).

This time he is upset at comments made by other people on another webpage.

Thank you once again for your support, interest, and prayers. Kind regards, Bernard Gaynor-Christ is our King!

THE ANTI-CHRIST THEORY

by C.O. Stadsklev

The last chapter in the Old Scripture is one of the most timely and revealing chapters in the Bible on what will come to pass in the present end time. Verse 1 of Malachi 4 states: “For behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.”

The fact that this end-time prophecy is given in the last chapter of the Old Scripture gives it special significance and emphasis. We considered chapter 4 of Malachi in our booklet, Cleansing the Earth by Fire, so we will not expound it here. In that booklet we set forth the various types of fire God apparently will use as He cleanses and prepares the earth for the reign of the Christ.

In this article we want to show from Scripture that we must now expect the destruction of the wicked and the deliverance of the righteous. In Malachi 3:18 we read: “Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.”

This is the exact opposite of what is taught by the promoters of the Antichrists and their one great Antichrist, who has had his allotted time. Let us compare vs 2 of Malachi 4 with vs 1. Vs 2 states: “But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings; and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.”

Note the contrast. Those who are proud and arrogant toward Jesus Christ and do wickedly (as in the articles above) shall burn like stubble, leaving neither root nor branch. But to those who love and reverence the Christ, this divine fire will bring healing and health to spirit, mind and body. “As calves of the stall” is a symbol of material and earthly blessings.

Malachi continues his end time prophecy in verse 3 where we read: “And he shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.” It is very important that we understand and realise, “I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.” This treading down of the wicked, who ignore and defy God’s Word, will be accomplished by the Spirit of God moving upon the people.

There must be some significance and meaning in the complete change of position in regard to God in government taken by preachers and churches recently. Whether intended or not, it is a turning to the Gospel of the Kingdom. And if this is a genuine moving of holy spirit, it will continue and increase. Malachi said that this holy fire “shall leave neither root nor branch.” Preachers and churches will be terribly confounded and embarrassed when they see the roots being burned.

Malachi also prophesied that this divine fire would make the wicked “ashes” under the feet of the righteous. This is the exact opposite of what the Antichrist promoters preach. They teach that everything that is Christian, good and right will become ashes under the feet of some Antichrist. “Calves of the stall” are protected and provided for, but they are not raptured up to heaven. This is not sarcasm nor sacrilege. Paul did not teach that the Lord comes to meet us on our way to heaven. Paul taught that we arise to meet the Lord when the Lord comes to earth.

There has been so much senseless and baseless preaching on some coming great Antichrist that such chapters as Malachi 4 do not mean a thing, and are seldom read. The word “Antichrist” appears only five times in the Bible and only in the epistles of John.

1 John 2:22, 23 state: “Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son. Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: (but) he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.” John wrote, “even now there are many antichrists.”

In Isaiah 13:9 we read: “Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate: and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.” God’s purpose in the day of the Lord, which we are now in, is “he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it”—the land. This is the opposite to what the antichrist promoters teach. They teach it is God’s purpose to turn this land over to the sinners and some great antichrist, and cause everything scriptural and Christian to be destroyed.

Let us compare the antichrist theory with what Isaiah was inspired to write in Isaiah 33:13-17. This is a most timely and reassuring prophecy. Verse 13 states, “Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done; and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might.” This call to “Hear,” was addressed to a people and a land that was “far off” from Isaiah in both time and distance.

Verse 14 tells us of the land and people. Afar off is Zion. Vs 14 states: “The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?”

In prophetic vision, Isaiah saw that sinners in the far off land are afraid, and the hypocrites and the subversive are fearful. The reason why sinners and subversives are fearful is because they have become conscious of a strange “devouring fire.” This evidently is the same fire and burning Malachi referred to in chapter 4, and the same fire of God’s presence which was manifest at Mount Sinai. Moses referred to this holy fire in chapter 5 of Deuteronomy:

“And ye said, Behold the LORD our God hath shewed us his glory and his greatness, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: we have seen this day that God doth talk with man, and he liveth. Now therefore why should we die? for this great fire will consume us: if we hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, then we shall die.”

It is not reasonable to expect that the divine fire that was manifest at the establishment of the kingdom will also be manifest when the kingdom is cleansed and prepared for the reign of the Christ?

Verse 15 of Isaiah 33 is clearly a reference to kingdom principles, laws and statutes. Those who walk in them have nothing to fear. Verse 15 states: “He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil.”

The promise to those who “walketh righteously and speaketh uprightly” in vs 16 is similar to the promise and prophecy we read in Malachi 4:2 and 3. Verse 16 promises: “He shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him; his waters shall be sure.” Here again, this is the exact opposite to what the antichrist promoters teach. The righteous will not need bread and water if they are raptured to heaven.

The idea that the Christ comes half way to earth and then retreats and flees back to heaven is wishful thinking, which many believe. It is the time called “the day of the Lord” which comes as a thief in the night, and not the Lord coming that way. Do thieves come with a shout, the voice of an archangel and with the trump of God? Whose secret is the secret rapture theory?

Verse 17 of Isaiah 33 is most beautiful: “Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold the land that is very far off.” Those who insist on their antichrist teach: “Thine eyes shall see the antichrist ruling over all the earth destroying everything that is Christian, scriptural, good and beautiful.”

“The land that is very far off” is not heaven. It is Zion, as we have read in vs 13 and 14. (I have a book on The United States is Zion cf. Bible Prophecy so we will not go into that now). Before we leave chapter 33 of Isaiah, we should read vs 22: “For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver, the LORD is our king: he will save us.”

We shall also compare the antichrist theory with what Isaiah was inspired to write in verses 16 through 21 of chapter

59. Verse 16 states: “And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him; and his righteousness, it sustained him.” Note, it does not say, “He saw there was no man ... and no intercessor: therefore” he abandoned America and all the earth to a great antichrist. It states, “Therefore his arm brought salvation unto him,” over his adversaries and his enemies. “Salvation” here, as we learned is the salvation of Zion from its enemies.

Verses 17 and 18 indicate that this salvation involves vengeance and zeal by the Lord as He repays “fury to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies.” “For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak. According to their deeds, accordingly will he repay, fury to his adversaries, recompense to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompense.”

Other prophetic scriptures go into great detail on how God will save His kingdom people, the Anglo-Saxons, in this end time from their enemies, especially chapters 38 and 39 of Ezekiel and the prophecies of Joel and Zephaniah.

Verse 19 of Isaiah 59 refers to the effect this intervention by God, saving the Anglo-Saxons from the antichrists, communism and heathendom, will have upon the West first, later those “from the rising sun” — the East. Psalm 98:2 and 3 describe it as follows:

“The LORD hath made known his salvation; his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the (heathen) nations. He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.”

For a double witness we quote also Isaiah 52:10, “The LORD hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.”

Back to verse 19 of Isaiah 59 where we read: “So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him.”

Here again, Isaiah prophesied the exact opposite of what is taught in the antichrist theory. The antichrist theory teaches that when “the enemy shall come in like a flood, the spirit of the LORD shall” take flight and retreat into heaven. The marginal rendering reads: “The spirit of the Lord shall come as a rushing stream which the breath of the Lord driveth.” This is the opposite to the teaching that holy spirit will leave the earth and turn the whole world over to an antichrist.

In vs 20 of chapter 59 Isaiah wrote: “And the redeemer shall come to Zion, and turn them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD.” The greatest turning “from transgression in Jacob” (the Anglo-Saxons and kindred people) in the last 2500 years was the establishment of the Constitutional Republic of the United States—a government based on the civil laws of the Scriptures. We have drifted far off course during the last 70 years, especially since December 1913 when Congress legalized the so-called Federal Reserve Act. But the Redeemer will bring Zion back on course (back to God’s Law - not to the Constitution).

It is strange that Christians can read vs 21 of Isaiah 59 and continue to believe the theory of one great future antichrist. In vs 21 the Lord Himself said: “As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD; My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed’s seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.”

Here again, we have the Lord covenanting to do the exact opposite of what the future antichrist theory teaches the Lord will do. The antichrist theory teaches that holy spirit, the Lord and all Christians will retreat into heaven and abandon the whole earth to some future antichrist who will stop the preaching of God’s Word. Isaiah prophesied this would never happen “from henceforth and for ever.”

We shall now examine the future, one great antichrist theory in the light of the New Scriptures. In Matthew 11:30

we read: “Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.”

In verses 38 through 43 we read: “The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked; The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels. As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of the world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity; And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.”

What could be plainer? “The field is the world” not the church. “The harvest is the end of the world,” (present world order).

The kingdom is in the world and is to be cleansed. Regardless of whom or what the tares and the wheat are made to represent, Jesus said, “Gather together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them.”

The antichrist theory teaches the church is the field; the Christians are raptured first and the whole earth is given over to some terrible Antichrist. This is the opposite of what Jesus taught.

There is no verse by verse exposition of the Lord’s kingdom parables in our churches today. One reason is that the kingdom parables destroy theories which are unscriptural, such as, the world reign of a future antichrist, the church is the kingdom, and Edom, Jewry, is Israel. As we should expect, the Lord’s parables on the cleansing of the kingdom nation, called Zion by the prophets, is in perfect harmony with the prophecies of the prophets Micah and Isaiah.

The fire and the burning which Micah, Isaiah and the Christ referred to is the fire of holy spirit. And already, “The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites.” As we read in chapter 4 of Malachi, the fire of holy spirit, which will cause the wicked to have to have a sense of being burned and consumed, will strengthen, energize and inspire the righteous.

Then Christ said the wicked would first be bound in bundles to be burned. And “then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father.” That kingdom is on earth now. The “sun” symbolizes rulership. See Genesis 37:9-10.

The teaching that God will abandon the world to the reign of some future antichrist cannot be harmonized with what the Christ prophesied in Luke 17:26-30.

Verse 26 states: “And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.” When Jesus said “the days of the Son of man,” He was referring to a time period rather than an event. The prophets called that time period “the day of the Lord” or “the great and terrible day of the Lord”—the period we are now in.

In vs 27 we read, “They did eat, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.” — “...the flood came and destroyed them all” but Noah and those who believed and obeyed God were protected and provided for here on earth, in their earthly and physical bodies. They were not raptured to heaven; and the earth was not turned over to some great antichrist.

Jesus continues in vs 23 and 29 of Luke 17: “Likewise also at it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.”

“...Fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all”—but Lot and those who were with him were protected and provided for right here on earth, in their earthly physical bodies. See Genesis 19.

Lot was not raptured to heaven. And the whole earth was not given over to some great Antichrist. “Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed” (Luke 17:30). Apparently much cleansing, restitution and destruction of the wicked in this kingdom nation will take place before “the Son of man is revealed.” This is indicated in the Lord’s Kingdom parables. The Lord said, “As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity” (Matthew 13:40-41).

“... shall send forth his angels” implies going or coming before. Jesus also said, “Gather ye together first the tares in bundles to burn them.” This is also indicated in Psalm 110:1-2, “The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool. The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.” “Sit thou at my right hand until I make thine enemies thy footstool” could only be spoken to the Christ who “is on the right hand of God” (1 Peter 3:22).

We shall compare 1 Corinthians 15:51-53 with Revelation 11:15 where we read: “And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his anointed; and he shall reign for ever and ever.”

Paul wrote “at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.” There are seven trumpets in the book of Revelation, and the seventh trump is the last. John wrote that when the last trump or seventh trumpet sounded “the kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his anointed, and he shall reign forever.”

So at the time that the dead are raised and the living believers are changed in body, the Lord begins this earthly reign. The secret rapture teaching that turns the earth over to an antichrist is not a scriptural teaching. It is absurd to use 1 Thessalonians 4:15-17 as a basis for the secret rapture and future antichrist theories. How secret would the following be?

“For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air; and so shall we ever be with the Lord.”

In order to have the apostle Paul support the theory of a secret rapture, Christians will turn Paul’s words completely around. Paul said that when the Lord descends from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God, Christians shall be caught up to meet the Lord as He descends to the earth. The secret rapture theory teaches that the Lord comes as a thief to meet the Christians as they ascend to heaven and turn the earth over to an antichrist. Is this the comfort Paul had in mind when he wrote “Wherefore comfort one another with these words”?

Paul continues in chapter 5 of First Thessalonians to make clear what he wrote in chapter 4:15-17. In vs 1 through 4 of chapter 5 we read: “But of the times and seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you. For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape. But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.”

Twice in this passage Paul said it is “the day of the Lord” (a time period) that would come as a thief, and not the Lord. This has happened. Few are aware of the time we are living in. In vs 3 Paul states clearly that the times and seasons would be the sudden destruction of the wicked. In verses 25 through 29 in chapter 12 of Hebrews, the inspired writer refers to the time when God shall “shake not the earth only, but also heaven.”

We know from prophecy that this shaking comes to pass in the last days, the present time. Jesus said, “the powers of heaven shall be shaken.” The purpose for this shaking is given in vs 27 of Hebrews 12: “And this word, Yet once more signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.”

The things that cannot be shaken and will remain are the things, ways and orders that are based on God’s Word. The things that are shaken and removed are systems, ways and practices that violate God’s kingdom laws and principles. The next verse gives the following exhortation:

“Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear.”

The future antichrist theory teaches the direct opposite. It teaches that an evil antichrist will receive the kingdom and the whole earth, and everything that is scriptural and Christian will be removed and destroyed while that which is evil and wicked will remain and flourish. Note verse 28 states: “whereby we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved.” That kingdom is on earth.

Chapter 12 of Hebrews closes with the following words: “For our God is a consuming fire.” This is the same fire which Malachi, Isaiah, and the Christ referred to, and the same fire the apostle Peter referred to in 2 Peter 3:7, "But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men."

The antichrist theory has served the many antichrists well. The preaching which has focused and directed all attention to one future antichrist has enabled the many antichrists to carry on their nefarious activities against Christianity in every sphere of our national life. With all Christian looking for some one future antichrist, the many antichrists carried on their anti-Christian and anti-Israel activities unsuspected, unexposed and unopposed.

In fact, the Christian churches have been the best smoke screen and cover the many antichrists have had during the last 70 years. But, thank God, the consuming fire will one day consume that smoke screen and that cover.

AMERICAN STAZI POLICE STATE STARING US IN THE FACE

by Paul Craig Roberts

American taxpayers have built an entire city in Virginia so that the Pentagon can practice occupying American cities and putting down protests by US citizens. This fake city is the training ground the doctrine outlined in a leaked US Army document that describes how soldiers are to be trained to put down domestic disturbances and process prisoners through detainment camps where prisoners will be re-educated to appreciate US policies.

In situations of "extreme necessity" the training embraces deadly force: "Warning shot will not be fired. When a firearm is discharged it will be fired with the intent of rendering the person(s) at who it is discharged incapable of continuing in that activity or course of behaviour." Lecturers in the training courses describe constitutionalists as "domestic extremists."

Does this make the President of the United States, whose oath of office is to defend the US Constitution against all enemies foreign and domestic, a domestic extremist? Is the fear of arrest by Homeland Security as a domestic extremist the reason Obama refuses to defend the Constitution of the United States?

The Army is being trained for domestic police duties that are in violation of the Posse Comitatus Act that prevents the use of the military for domestic law enforcement, another indication that Washington has no respect for the country's laws and that Obama and his "Justice" Department have no intention of enforcing the laws of the land or abiding by them.

WHERE IS THE MEDIA OUTCRY?

Where is the media outcry? Where are the law schools? Where is Congress? A government that disregards the laws of the land is both treasonous and tyrannical. Yet, not a peep from "the free and the brave."

The US government and its puppet auxiliary, the UK government, have turned with vengeance against whistle-blowers and their attorneys. Bradley Manning is in prison, Julian Assange is confined to the Ecuadorian Embassy in London, and Edward Snowden is under Russian protection from a tyrannical US government. Jessellyn Radack, an attorney who represented Snowden was recently detained and questioned in an intimidating way at London's Heathrow Airport. Washington has taught its British puppet state how to mimic Washington's Gestapo ways.

The latest revelations of the criminal activities of the Amerikan National Stasi Agency comes from a leaked NSA document that shows that the Stasi agency considers WikiLeaks Julian Assange to be a "malicious foreign actor" and launched an "international effort to focus the legal element of national power upon non-state actor Assange, and the human network that supports WikiLeaks." Clearly, the Gestapo is upon us.

RT reports: "The NSA was not alone in its sweeping espionage on the whistle-blower organization. It also enlisted its partners in the Five Eyes spying network (UK, New Zealand, Australia and Canada) as well as other nations. In documents dating back from August 2010, the US urged 10 other countries with forces in Afghanistan to consider pressing criminal charges against Julian Assange—'founder of the rogue WikiLeaks internet website and responsible for the unauthorized publication of over 70,000 classified documents covering the war in Afghanistan.'"

In other words, freedom of the press? We don't need no stinking freedom of the press. We have the prostitute press—the TV networks, the New York Times, Washington Post, National Public Radio, and all the rest of the officially sanctioned state Ministry of Propaganda.

Julian Assange stated, correctly, "The NSA and its UK accomplices show no respect for the rule of law."

WikiLeaks' attorney, Judge Baltasar Garzon, the pursuer of Pinochet, had this to say: "The paradox is that Julian Assange and the WikiLeaks organization are being treated as a threat instead of what they are: a journalist and a media organization that are exercising their fundamental right to receive and impart information in its original form, free from omission and censorship, free from partisan interests, free from economic or political pressure."

GESTAPO STATES?

What has happened that explains the transformation of the UK and all of its former English colonies—the US, Canada, Australia, New Zealand—into Gestapo Stasi states? These are the countries best known historically for their domestic civil liberties and rule of law, irrespective of their treatment of their indigenous populations and in the case of England her non-white colonies. The original dispossession was of indigenous people. Now these governments have turned on their own. Today the governments of the US, UK, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand (the Five Eyes) see civil liberty and the accountability of government to law as threats to themselves, and the governments are determined to stamp out the threats. The historical lands of liberty have abandoned liberty and become Stasi states.

What has occurred in the US and UK is that the criminal and treasonous acts of both governments have become so extreme that the governments must destroy civil liberty in order to protect themselves from exposure. Whenever you hear "national security" invoked, you know that government is covering up its crimes and its lies.

The criminal character of both US and UK governments is now recognized by the rest of the world, even by the bought-and-paid-for NATO puppet states, France and Germany. German Chancellor Angela Merkel and French President Francois Hollande are discussing the creation of an European communication network in order to protect Europeans' communications from the NSA and from Google, Facebook, and other US communication companies that shamelessly cooperate with NSA's spy network as junior members of the Stasi. Brazil and South America are facing the same challenge of protecting their communications from Washington's National Stasi agency.

NSA spies on foreign companies for the benefit of American ones, and it spies on US law firms representing clients against the US government. The New York Times recently reported "that the corrupt Australian puppet state has been working with NSA to steal the private communications of US lawyers with their clients in the Indonesian government involved in a trade dispute with Washington." In other words, NSA spying helps the US government to prevail in economic law-suits against it, but the spying is justified in the name of the nonexistent "terrorist threat." The terrorist is NSA.

And you thought Washington was only spying on "terrorists" to prevent them from "killing us over here."

LAWLESS GOVERNMENT

It is impossible to paint a picture of a more lawless government than Washington has painted of itself.

Americans should take note that the media is on guard, prepared at an instant's notice to suppress free speech. Washington is ever so pleased to support protesters in the Ukraine, who are witlessly helping Washington to subvert their country, but no protests at home thank you.

With the Pentagon building fake cities for soldiers to demolish while practicing the unconstitutional occupation, practices that are in store for us in the homeland. Alex Jones' predictions move out of the realm of conspiracy theory. Washington has finally noticed that the result of moving middle class jobs offshore is an American population without a future. As Gerald Celente says, when people have nothing left to lose, they lose it. The US military is gearing up for when Americans can't take it any more.

Meanwhile Washington continues the pretense of America as the land of "freedom and democracy" and "concern for human rights," blah-blah-blah. People all over the world, with the exception of the paid protesters in western Ukraine, are no longer listening to the bulls... flowing from Washington and its prostitute media.

TEN COMMANDMENTS JUDGE: 'GAY' MARRIAGE IS A TRAVESTY

Alabama Supreme Court Chief Justice Roy Moore, who was returned to the top judicial post in the state after he fought with bureaucrats over the message of the Ten Commandments, is now adding his voice to a campaign for an amendment to the US Constitution that would define marriage.

"It's a travesty," Judge Roy Moore told World Net

Daily about the move toward judiciary-imposed same-sex "marriages." The courts are exercising wrongful authority over this country."

He said it was no less than the US Supreme Court itself which, in an earlier ruling, said, "We come nearest to illegitimacy when we deal with judge-made constitutional law with no cognizable roots in the design of the Constitution."

The campaign is alive online under the "I Stand With Judge Moore" headline and proposes the Constitution be amended to state: "Nothing in this Constitution or in the constitution or laws of any state shall define or shall be construed to define marriage except as the union of one man and one woman, and no other union shall be recognized with the legal incidents thereof within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction."

In addition to the online presence, the campaign mailed letters to governors of all 50 states urging them to get their legislatures to call for a convention to add that amendment to the Constitution.

Moore told WND the high court has emphasized several times the importance of marriage between a man and a woman. In 1885, he noted, the court said, "Family consists of and springs from the union for life of one man and one woman in the holy estate of matrimony...."

A couple of years later, he said, the court said marriage of a man and a woman is the sure foundation "of all that is stable and noble." He pointed out that if same-sex "marriage" becomes the norm, the next steps might not be so attractive. His warning aligned with the red flags raised earlier by several key leaders.

CONTRADICTION ON ITS HANDS

For example, Elaine Smith, deputy presiding officer in the Scottish Parliament, warned about her country's move toward approval of same-sex "marriage;" whilst the government has said that it has no intention of allowing polygamous marriages as part of this legislation which changes the essential nature of marriage, it has not explained in any detail and with research analysis its reasons for taking that position.

"Further, if the government is sincere about its support for 'equal love,' then it appears to have a contradiction on its hands," she said. There would be no "logical reason" for not allowing polygamous arrangements if the redefinition of marriage is based only on "love," she said.

In a recent column, WND founder and Chief Executive Officer Joseph Farah raised the issue of marriage rights for polygamists and others. "So why is one 'lifestyle' affirmed by the popular culture, the political class and the judiciary and the other is ignored—even to the point of jailing those who dare to practice it? This is not a rhetorical question. I really want an answer from someone who believes the right, just, moral course of action is to redefine marriage as an institution between any two people, regardless of their sex. It's a question that deserves an answer as we march, without thought, into a brave new world of sexual revolution, casting aside 6,000 years of human tradition inspired by God's Law and an institution that has formed the cornerstone of civilization," he said.

GEORGE CAREY PREDICTED

Former Archbishop of Canterbury, George Carey predicted several years ago what appears to be developing

now. London's Daily Mail reported Carey told Prime Minister David Cameron that an "equal marriage" proposal would have further consequences.

Carey pointed out some British lawmakers are recognizing that if they permit same-sex "marriage," there would be no reason to bar two sisters from being married or multiple-partner arrangements. And a California Supreme Court justice, Marvin Baxter, issued a similar warning when his court struck down the state's ban on same-sex "marriage" in 2008.

Voters later that year overruled the decision, adopting a state constitutional amendment, Proposition 8, that defined marriage as a relationship between one man and one woman. But a homosexual federal judge, Vaughn Walker, struck down Proposition 8 in 2010. Baxter dissented from the majority 2008 opinion that created same-sex "marriage" for a short time in the state, arguing the consequences of the decision were not thought out.

He wrote: "The bans on incestuous and polygamous marriages are ancient and deep-rooted, and, as the majority suggests, they are supported by strong considerations of social policy..... Our society abhors such relationships, and the notion that our laws could not forever prohibit them seems preposterous.

"Yet here, the majority overturns, in abrupt fashion, an initiative statute confirming the equally deep-rooted assumption that marriage is a union of partners of the opposite sex. The majority does so by relying on its own assessment of contemporary community values, and by inserting in our Constitution an expanded definition of the right to marry that contravenes express statutory law."

HIS WARNING?

"Who can say that, in 10, 15 or 20 years, an activist court might not rely on the majority's analysis to conclude, on the basis of perceived evolution in community values, that the laws prohibiting polygamous and incestuous marriages were no longer constitutionally justified?"

Carey's warning was nearly the same. "Once we let go of the exclusivity of a one-man, one-woman relationship with procreation linking the generations, then why stop there?" he said. "if it is about love and commitment, then it is entirely logical to extend marriage to two sisters bringing up children together. If it is merely about love and commitment, then there is nothing illogical about multiple relationships, such as two women and one man."

About 17 states and the District of Columbia now allow homosexual "marriage," about half imposed by a lone judge and the rest mostly by legislative action.

Moore cited US Attorney General Eric Holder, officials in California, and even Virginia Attorney General Mark Herring as those who swore an oath to uphold the laws—but then quickly reneged on that promise and attacked definitions of marriage as being between a man and a woman.

"If marriage falls," he said, "the institution of family upon which it is based falls." Then, he said, "We no longer have a Constitution. We have a government of individual men who have the power to decide what the Constitution means"

Holder's recent move was to order that government operations treat same-sex duos the same as married couples. How far can it go? Brazil, which started out by expanding marriage to same-sex duos nearly a decade ago, allowed three people in a polygamous relationship to have a civil union.

Officials with the Christian Institute also explain that in the Netherlands, there are arrangements "for three or more people to be in a civil union."

POLYGAMISTS HANDED A VICTORY

And polygamists in Utah were handed a victory just weeks ago when a federal judge effectively decriminalized plural marriage in the state

The December 13 decision elated Kody Brown and his four "wives," (He is legally married to one and lives with the other three and their collective 17 children). The Browns, who star in the TLC reality show "Sister Wives," challenged the law in July 2011, charging that it violates their rights to privacy and religious freedom.

"Many people do not approve of plural families," the family said in a statement after the ruling was announced. "We hope that in time all of our neighbours and fellow citizens will come to respect our own choices as part of this wonderful country of different faiths and beliefs."

Under way is an appeal of the decision that takes its cue from a 2003 US Supreme Court edict striking down a Texas anti-sodomy law. At the time, Justice Antonin Scalia delivered a thundering dissent to Lawrence v. Texas, charging it "decrees the end of all morals legislation," including laws banning "fornication, bigamy, adultery, adult incest, bestiality, and obscenity."

Former US senator and presidential candidate Rick Santorum also warned in 2003 that if the "Supreme Court says that you have the right to consensual sex within your home, then you have the right to polygamy, you have the right to incest, you have the right to adultery." (read Elizabeth Dilling's book THE PLOT AGAINST CHRISTIANITY for where these ideas come from. #395 @ $32.00ppd)

After December's polygamy ruling, Santorum tweeted: "Sometimes I hate it when what I predict comes true."

KANSAS STATE REPS: RELIGION CAN JUSTIFY ANTI-'GAY' DISCRIMINATION

by Ted Pike

In response to mounting outrage by the Christian community, the Kansas House of Representatives has passed HB2453, a bill allowing Christian business owners and government employees to discriminate against homosexuals who would force them to render services contrary to their consciences.

The Civil Rights Act of 1964 and its amendments gave black Americans superior rights and advantages over whites in businesses of 15 or more employees. It gave similar privileges to homosexuals. Federal favoritism toward homosexuals was copied in state "anti-discrimination" laws, which made it illegal for American business owners to refuse to hire or to fire LGBT applicants because of "who they are." Such laws also criminalized any refusal of service to homosexuals on this basis.

"GAY RIGHTS"—A SUPERIOR LEGAL STATUS

"Gay rights" really means a superior legal status that does not honor the religious convictions of employers or business owners—nor does it honour the age-old right of business owners to "refuse service to any customer at any time for any reason." Pro-homosexual "anti-bias" laws severely punish and fine businesses that will not endorse homosexuality with such services as printing wedding invitations, baking wedding cakes, and photographing weddings.

The Kansas bill would defend the rights of business owners. It reads in part:

“No individual or religious entity shall be required by any governmental entity to do any of the following, if it would be contrary to the sincerely held religious beliefs of the individual or the religious entity regarding sex or gender: ‘Provide any services, accommodations, advantages, facilities, goods, or privileges; provide counseling, adoption, foster care and other social services; or provide employment or employment benefits, related to, or related to the celebration of, any marriage, domestic partnership, civil union or similar arrangement.’”

The bill is now proceeding in the Republican-dominated Senate but is sending shockwaves through the LGBT community.

Can this bill withstand judicial review? If this bill is signed into law, can it withstand powerful attempts by liberal media and the legal establishment to overthrow it on appeal? In addition to the homosexual lobby, its greatest adversary will be the Jewish Anti-Defamation League, self-proclaimed architect of hate and bias crime laws internationally. This bill threatens to re-establish all the rights ADL has undermined through its bias-crime legal system and propaganda program in western nations over the past half century. HB2453 boldly says: Yes, it is permissible to be biased and discriminate based on religion.

But this bill’s chain of reasoning does not stop there. Religious conscience and “conscience” are closely related. If the precedent is set that Christian businesses may discriminate against homosexuals out of religious conscience, then shouldn’t non-Christian business owners whose only authority is natural law (even redneck disgust) also have the right of discrimination?

For the present, this bill wholesomely points to a legal system gone far astray back toward the traditional Constitutional right of all property owners to use their property and businesses as they wish, refusing sale or services to anyone they please.

If such a policy is offensive to some, the First Amendment, in effect replies: “Let the public, through free speech and expression of bad publicity and boycott punish the discriminator, not the government!” The Constitution never envisioned that state as an avenger of those deprived of their “right” to goods and jobs created by others. That is socialism at its basest.

REVIVING A CONSTITUTIONAL VIEW OF PROPERTY OWNERSHIP

Passage of the Kansas bill is an excellent opportunity to begin to roll back hate and bias crimes statutes, including the federal hate crimes law. For the first time on the state legislature level, a major clash looms between the entrenched bias crime legal system and the historic First and Fourteenth Amendment, private property liberties enjoyed before 1964.

The gulf between these two systems is vast. The fair housing and employment provisions of the Civil Rights Act assert that business owners really do not own their businesses but must allow government-exalted classes to benefit from them through jobs and services. Traditional law, however, says a man’s business is his castle, protected from public or government intrusion (except upon court order and probable cause). He is entitled to post, “No shoes, no service,” discriminating against people who like to walk barefoot. The business owner can also put up another saying, “This business has the right to refuse services to anyone, homosexuals in particular!”

Does this seem reminiscent of signs in buses and lunch counters in the Jim Crow segregationist South? Perhaps. But the increasing aggressiveness and harshly punitive efforts of homosexual activists and “human rights” divisions of state governments to prosecute and even put out of business Christian entrepreneurs who defy intimidation by homosexuals is also very reminiscent. It strongly reminds of the Christian-persecuting policies of the old Soviet Union and present day Communist China and North Korea!

Concerted efforts are being made among Kansas state representatives and senators to find a compromise between HB2453 and the ADL/Civil Rights Act bias crimes systems which give virtual rights of enjoyment of our property to protected groups. A compromise is not really workable. We are either free or servants of the state. Statism says we do not really possess our land, wealth, or businesses, but it should all eventually revert back to the good of the state and masses. Yet the government, phony “civil liberties” fronts like ADL and their specially protected groups did not invest perhaps a lifetime of blood, sweat and tears in acquiring and maintaining businesses we own. And it is the law of God and nature, as Jesus said in the parable of the vineyard owner (Matt. 20:15), that we may do with what is ours as we will, as long as we do so justly.

IS DISCRIMINATION BIBLICAL?

by W. B. Record

The “No Discrimination” phrase has taken hold with the public to such an extent that even preachers (preachers who should know better if they know their Bibles) are now heard repeating, parrot-like, this no discrimination phrase, and thus participating in the selling out of our God-given freedoms and privileges, and playing right into the hands of foreign schemers.

The phrase “no discrimination because of race, creed, or color” is not only Communistic in all its implications and objectives, but it is also the key idea, the touchstone, of the United Nations program for setting up a (One) world government. And since Communists also have world government as their objective, the one subtle scheme behind them both is very apparent.

There is a world government coming—the Kingdom of God on earth. But it isn’t patterned after the Communistic United Nations lines. In the Kingdom of God on earth, as a classic booklet:

CHRISTIANITY VS JUDEO-CHRISTIANITY The Battle for Truth by Malcolm Ross

What is happening to our society today? Life-styles condemned by Christians in the past are being openly promoted and encouraged. What is behind this moral revolution? This writer believes the change has come about through the planned, mysterious union of an ancient Babylonian creed with the modern emasculated Christian religion. The result has been the civilization-destroying ideology known as Judeo-Christianity. Read this fact-filled and horrifying exposure of Christianity’s oldest and greatest enemy.

revealed in the Bible, the phrase “no discrimination because of race, creed, or color” will NOT be the modus operandi. No indeed! The citizens of the Kingdom of God on earth will not consist of people of indiscriminate religious beliefs and creeds.

Kingdom citizenship will demand certain spiritual qualifications found only in those of the Christian faith; all other religious beliefs (creeds) being excluded. But the scheme for world government planned by the Communists and the United Nations does not discriminate as to spiritual values and religious beliefs. Instead, it insists that Christianity is on the same level, and of no more, and maybe even less importance or value than the pagan idolatrous worship of the heathen nations.

A “creed” is a formal summary of fundamental points of religious belief—an authoritative statement of doctrine on points held to be vital. That being the definition of a creed, how can any Christian minister who knows and believes the plan and purpose of God for His Kingdom on this earth, lend his voice and influence to emphasizing, popularizing, and sanctioning the Communist and U.N. catch phrase of “no discrimination because of a person’s creed?”

No wonder Paul wrote to Timothy that the time would come when people would be turned unto fables (2 Tim. 4:4). A fable is fiction related as though it were true. And any preacher who prates about “no discrimination as to race, creed, or color,” as the solution for the world’s problems, and the ushering in of peace, is a PREACHER OF FABLES. Any person who has confidence in such preaching is putting his faith in a lie that will ultimately destroy him if its objective is attained.

The Bible is a most discriminatory Book, especially as to what one believes, and as to who shall be entitled to citizenship in the Kingdom of God on earth. “He that believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God.” (1 John 5:1). And it was Jesus the Christ Himself who declared with positive and discriminatory emphasis that “Except a man be born from above . . . except a man be born of water and of spirit, he cannot ENTER into the kingdom of God” (John 3:3, 5). That, my friends, is discrimination of the most exacting kind, and having to do with the most vital matter that could possibly confront mankind. Yet Communists, and the proponents of the United Nations program, would have Christian people believe that discrimination as to what a man believes is un-Christian, and not according to the Bible and the teachings of the Christ whom we worship. Any man who lends himself to the support and spreading of this deceptive propaganda, is aiding and abetting an anti-Christ counterfeit of the Kingdom of God on earth. Do not be “taken in” and become a peddler of this propaganda for the subverting and destroying of this most God-blessed nation on earth.

Whoever parrots the phrase “no discrimination” is singing the Communist tune, either wittingly or unwittingly.

God discriminated when He called Abraham and made a covenant with him, and again when He confirmed that covenant with Abraham’s son Isaac, and grandson Jacob (Gen. 12:1-3, 26:3,4 and 28:3,4).

God discriminated when He selected the offspring of Jacob-Israel to become a kingdom of priests and an holy nation (Ex. 19:6).

God discriminated when He gave His perfect law to Israel, and to no other peoples or nations (Psalm 147:19-20).

God exercised discrimination when He declared that a bride for Isaac was to be taken from among Abraham’s own people, and from none other.

God was discriminating when He ordained that the Israel people should become the “sons of the living God” or Christians. (Hosea 1:10, Rom. 8:29).

God used discrimination when He said that His people should make no covenants with the Canaanites, and that they should not intermarry with them. (Deut. 7:2).

Our Lord Jesus discriminated when He said, “I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.” (Matt. 15:24).

Jesus also discriminated when He selected the 12 apostles, and when He said to those who believe in Him, “Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you.” (John 15:16).

In fact God’s Word, the Bible, is a very discriminatory Book from Genesis to Revelation. And that God is discriminatory is clearly seen in the fact that in certain nations and peoples He has planted and nourished the Christian faith.

God has shown discrimination in race, creed, and color. He selected the offspring of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob to be His human instrumentality, His witnesses, His chosen people, a chosen race (Deut 7:6, 1 Peter 1:1, 2 and 2:9) We are the result of that selection. And this is the people whom evil forces are attempting to convert to the unscriptural idea of “no discrimination because of race, creed, or color.”

THE CREATOR OF THIS WORLD

and all that is therein, made the white, the black, the red, and the yellow races. Had it been the intention of the Creator that there be but one race, it would have been so.

No one can gainsay the fact that the White race has led the world in progress and achievement. And who would be illogical enough to declare that this was not the intention of the Creator?

Since the advent of the United Nations Organization there has been a great emphasis on “no discrimination” and “no segregation,” simultaneously declaring that “all races and peoples are equal.”

“No discrimination as to race, creed or color.” How often you hear those words these days. You hear politicians use them, men who are seeking office. Politicians have been led to believe that unless they “sing that tune” they cannot hope to be elected to office.

In industry, employers have been told that they must not discriminate because of race, creed, or color in the hiring of employees.

Labor unions seem to have been sold on the idea 100 per cent. And because organised labor wields such a powerful influence, it is a mighty force for putting over the “no discrimination” idea. A basic tenet of the United Nations is “non-discrimination.” In practically all UN literature non-discrimination is the main line of thought.

In our public schools non-discrimination is being fed into the thinking of the oncoming generation, indoctrinating them with the idea that our whole structure, industrially, politically, morally, socially, spiritually, and every other wise will be strengthened, broadened, and benefited by the practice of “non-discrimination.”

What about this, anyway? Who are the originators of this no discrimination slogan to which people are asked to rally? How come that the nation that has done more for all races, creeds and colors than any other nation on earth, now has to be told that we must not discriminate? What is behind all this?

The answer is just this—it is the brain child of Communism.

Carry this thing through to its logical conclusion and what will result? It will result in the breaking down of the racial barriers and the mongrelizing of the white race. The proponents of “non-discrimination” would have you believe that even that would work for the betterment of humanity. In fact, the Communists know that if they succeed in pushing this “no discrimination” idea to its logical limits, they will have broken down the barriers which were erected of God Almighty between the various races, and their scheme for world conquest will be virtually assured.

No preacher who understands, believes, and preaches the plan and purpose of God, will ever give voice to “no discrimination,” unless he is reprobate. There are such, sad to say.

ARE COMMUNISTS IN AMERICA'S CHURCHES?

by Karl F. Schott

The question above may be somewhat surprising to some of you but, as one thinks about it, it should not be, for in what area could the Communists be more effective than in striking at the very foundation of the nation's strength. Yes, that's right, our source of strength, prosperity, and greatness, has always been faith in the Lord our God. This truth was well known among our people 150 years ago, but since then the enemies of Jesus the Christ and of Christendom have been busy, slowly but surely chipping away at our Christian foundation and heritage. Add to this the humanistic teachings which are being promoted in the majority of our public schools, and the removal of prayer and bible reading, and it is evident that a great undermining of our Christian values has taken place.

Someone has made the statement, “As the Church goes, so goes the Nation,” and the evidence of this truth is verified in what we see today. The Nation's Achilles Heel — her most vulnerable spot — has to do with our Christian Churches. And friends, the Christian Churches which uphold Jesus the Christ and the holy Bible are today under attack from within as well as from without. You may not have heard much concerning this on the TV, or seen much about it in the newspaper, but it is going on constantly. The communists, and those who finance communism, have infiltrated every other segment of our society, so does it not seem reasonable that they would also seek to infiltrate the Christian Churches also? Of course they would, and they have! This then means that we have those parading around here posing as Christians when in actuality they are anti-Christ communists.

Never, in our history, have we as a people and nation faced such a peril as we do today. It is very difficult to expose or fight an enemy who pretends to be something he is not —and especially when he representing good. Many well-meaning Christians who have only a smattering of Bible knowledge would hesitate to confront anyone who professes to be a Christian. It makes for a very difficult situation! And, even if a Communist should be caught acting as a Christian what can be done about it? There is no law against pretending to be a Christian that I am aware of.

As we consider what is now taking place in America, and the deception used by the communists, I am reminded of the words of Jesus as He sat with His disciples shortly before His enemies crucified Him. In the twenty-fourth chapter of Matthew, beginning with verse one, we read:

“And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple;

and his disciples came to him to show him the buildings of the temple. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. And as he sat upon the Mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? And what shall be the sign of thy coming, and the end of the age?”

The question asked by the disciples “When shall these things be?” refers to the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem by the Roman armies, under Titus, in 70AD. This prophecy was fulfilled just as the Lord predicted. For this subject, we are primarily interested in the next question asked by the disciples ... “what shall be the sign of thy coming, and the end of the age?”

The answer to this question begins in verse 4 where Jesus states, “Take heed that no man deceive you. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.” Then in verse 11 Jesus warns, “And many false prophets shall arise and shall deceive many.” Today we see this prophecy being fulfilled as deception in the churches increases, for remember that Jesus states that many false christs and prophets shall arise. The communists are helping to bring this prophecy to fulfillment on a grand scale.

To help us understand how successful the communists have been in infiltrating the churches, I would like to share with you some thoughts by a former communist, Karl Prussian. But first, a few thoughts from the editor of the conservative newsletter “The Fact Finder” who has written about Karl Prussian and his activities as a communist. He states: “Many today are amazed to find that the majority of the ministers in their community are on the other side when parents and concerned citizens are opposing subversive forces in their schools. This is true of the fight against sex education, which condones promiscuity and refuses to include morality in its teachings. The majority of the ministers are for it!

This is also true of the fight to restore Bible-reading and voluntary prayer to our public schools—the majority of the community's ministers are against it. In many communities this also includes rabbis and Catholic priests. But it is especially true of the majority of the Protestant ministers, particularly the younger ones. What has been happening to many of our clergymen over the past 40 years? What happened to the younger and middle-aged ones in the divinity schools?”

The title of the article from which the above quotation was taken is WHY MANY MINISTERS PREACH PURE MARXISM. The article goes on to say “Every person concerned with this problem should read the story of Karl Prussian, who spent 26 years of his life in the Communist Party and who was offered a scholarship by the Party to attend Union Theological Society in New York City to be made a Methodist minister while he was still a devoted Communist. Karl Prussian served as a volunteer agent for the FBI during the last 12 years of his membership in the Communist Party and he is today devoting his life to openly exposing the Communists and warning the people of the aims and tactics of these enemies of our nation.”

Karl Prussian himself stated: “The Communists have very definite objectives in every country that they insist they will ultimately take over, and one of their major objectives is for the destruction of the morale of the nation. This is extremely important to the Communists and they are, therefore, very subtly carrying on a campaign of infiltration in which they try to destroy the morale of our nation.”

That the Communists have been tremendously successful in their efforts to corrupt many people is only too obvious. Today millions of our people have become alcoholics, and many millions more are taking drugs to their own detriment, and immorality is sweeping over the nation. While we are being propagandized by the masters of Communism regarding a nuclear attack, another insidious attack is being waged right within our nation. But, alas, we cannot stop the enemy who is within our borders. I think that it was Lenin who said that they would corrupt us from within so that they could pick us off like a rotten apple.

Karl Prussian also states: "There are many individuals in the clergy that can be identified as Communists. We have to keep in mind, too, that it would be a tragic mistake for any person to call people Communists because they happen to pick a position that is a Communist objective. There are many good people who take positions that parallel those of the Communists unwittingly, and they should not be called Communists. We have to be careful. There are many ministers of the Gospel today who espouse the Communist cause and are fully unaware of what they are doing. It is not possible, in my opinion, for a true minister of the gospel to ever become a Communist because of what Communism is. In action, it is the exact opposite of belief in God. But it isn't impossible at all for a dedicated Communist to enter the ministry. There are many examples of this."

The above information helps us to understand why conditions continue to degenerate in our society, and how the Communists have been able to be so successful in taking over many institutions. The holy bible warns that in the last days (our time) that there would be a turning away from the Word of God among God's servant people ... the peoples of Anglo-Saxondom. We see it throughout Christian Europe, England, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, as God said it would be.

There are other Patriotic people like Karl Prussian who are also actively seeking to help awaken the people to the Communist threat and their infiltration into the Christian churches, and we thank the Lord for each one of them. One of these men is the former Congressman James B. Utt from California. The following is a remark made by Congressman Utt some time ago regarding communist infiltration, not only into our churches, but into our Christian seminaries as well. "With a dedicated patience communists have long ago infiltrated the seminaries — and now there are communists in clerical garb at all levels of religion."

Think about that statement for a moment. The communists have not only infiltrated our Churches, but also the very heart of Christianity by getting into the sensitive position of teaching future preachers, pastors and priests. Can you imagine what these Communist professors are telling these future "men of the cloth"? Is it any wonder then that we see preachers, pastors, and priests who are in harmony with the communist doctrine moreso than with the doctrine and teachings of Jesus the Christ? (now you can understand why so many of the clergy allow and promote homosexuals and lesbians, not only into their churches, but also into their pulpits). If we see that a pastor does not follow after the teachings of Jesus the Christ, we had better take a hard look at whether we ought to be sitting under their teachings. The tragic thing is that so many Christians understand so little of the Bible that they are not able to accurately evaluate in these matters.

There is no such thing as a Communist Christian, nor can there ever be. As Karl Prussian states, "We have to keep in mind that communism is materialism, that communism denies God, ridicules the soul and spirit of man. Communism has no morals, it has no honor, it has no scruples. It is contrary to all of God's teachings and all that Christians stand for. It is really atheism. I believe that is an accurate description of the Communist Apparatus everywhere they operate."

This infiltration by the communists into many of our Christian churches must have been on the mind of Jesus the Christ when he warned that false Christs would increase in the last days. For example, let's look at what the Lord Jesus had to say about this in Matthew 24:24,

"For there shall arise false christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders, insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect."

In the seventh chapter of Matthew, vs 15-20, Jesus tells how we are to recognize these false prophets who come in the guise of sheep, but are ravening wolves. He states: "Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs from thistles? Even so, every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, but a corrupt tree bringeth forth bad fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth bad fruit; neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit ... wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them."

(in other words, it's genetic, or racial. Apple trees will continue to produce apples, and fig trees will continue to produce figs, etc.)

As Christians and concerned people we need to spend less time in frivolous pursuits, and spend more time working for Jesus and His coming Kingdom where righteousness will be the order of the day. May the Lord help us to become zealous as believers as well as doers in this last great conflict of the ages.

BREAST CANCER

The poignant query by tennis star, Martina Navratilova on learning she had breast cancer that "I am 53 years old, a lifelong athlete, strong, healthy and have eaten nutritiously my entire life - why me?" (Herald Sun, 9/4/10) represents a failure by Cancer Councils to vigorously inform women that being childless is a risk factor for breast cancer.

As the Breast Cancer Prevention Institute, USA, points out, the single most important person protecting a woman from breast cancer is her baby. The more babies a woman has, the younger she is when she has them, and the longer she breastfeeds them, the lower her risk of breast cancer.

All the running, jumping, selling pink ribbons and wearing pink shirts does nothing to prevent breast cancer, however having babies and breastfeeding do substantially reduce the risk.

MEMORY VERSES TO LEARN:

Years ago, we compiled a list of important verses for children to memorize, weekly. You might get your children to memorize these (over the next 4 weeks):

Psalm 135:4

Leviticus 25:10

Proverbs 28:4

Deuteronomy 4:40

Half the year gone again already - times flies past. Again, by the time you read this, we will be visiting in Brisbane for about 10 days, God willing; but instead of driving, we will be travelling by train on this occasion. It will be the last opportunity to take the "Sunlander" as we heard that it is going to be discontinued at the end of this year. So the next Messenger will probably be a bit late again.

We do appreciate hearing from you all, and receiving your clippings, letters, new names to add and your continued support of this ministry. If you are awaiting back-ordered books, they are coming - soon, we hope.

May the God of our fathers bless you and keep you, make His face shine on you and be gracious unto you, and grant you His peace,
